

Swift Justice.

Mrs. Ben Dennis, of Libby, was waylaid on the road Tuesday forenoon as she was returning home from this city by Alonzo Tucker, colored, who dragged her into the bushes where he criminally assaulted her, Tucker is a big, powerful brute and he told Mrs. Dennis that if she even murmured he would choke her to death. When his bestial desires were gratified he turned his prey loose at the same time threatening to kill her if she ever divulged the proceedings.

Mrs. Dennis half prostrated from the shock and overcome with excitement managed to get home and told what had happened. Superintendent Hennessey and Al Nichols on learning what had occurred shouldered their rifles and started in search of Tucker. They were hot on his trail and within range of the negro as he entered the town.
Tucker knew they were after him but made no attempt to escape and he was finally arrested and placed in jail. There were loud mutterings of "puckie party" Little attention was paid to this, though the indignation of the miners kept growing as each man returned to his home and ascertained what had happened, and a band of two hundred men, unmasked, marched into town at 7:30 o'clock. The van of the party was heavily armed. As they proceeded up to the jail door Marshal Carter attempted to get his prisoner into a boat and get him out of the way of the mob. As he was doing this Tucker jumped into the mudflat and got under the wharf.
The miners were more indignant now than ever. They stationed guards at every point of egress from the city, every nook and crevice was searched in vain. Tucker managed to elude his pursuers all night but in the morning the searchers were reinforced by the small boys of the town. The lads located him under Dean & Co's wharf, and fortunately enough for them Tucker did not get hold of them or he would have wrung their necks as he told them. The boys peppered Tucker with an air gun and finally drove him from his hiding place. As he emerged from under cover a 30-30 cracked and the bullet caught him in the leg. A moment later two shots were fired and Tucker, with the blood streaming from his wounds ran into Dean & Co's store, with the mob following at his heels. At first it was intended to string him up on the spot, but a second thought was to take him to the scene of his crime.
Tucker was placed into a cart and the start was made, but it was noticed on the route that life was about extinct, and a rope was placed around his neck and the other end fastened to a beam on the South Marshfield bridge leading to the country and Libby. Tucker's remains were dangled from the end of a rope here for several hours until they were cut down by the orders of the coroner and an inquest held over the remains, the jury reached a verdict that Tucker died from a gunshot wound in the thigh inflicted while attempting to escape arrest for felony; that said wound was inflicted by parties unknown to the jury and that no crime was committed thereby. The jurors were W. B. Curtis, foreman; R. Walter,
A. B. Prentiss, Chas. Stauff, Archie Krusse, J. W. Flaagan.

The crime and the following proceedings precipitated the most intense excitement. It is without doubt one of the worst crimes ever committed in this section.

Mrs. Dennis, the outraged woman, has a husband and three small children, and is a woman whose reputation is above reproach.

Tucker is known to be a bad character and has threatened the life of more than one of our citizens.

While many of our citizens do not favor lynch law and would prefer to allow the law to take its course, in this case they say well done.—Sun.

One of the venerable figures which will retire from public life with the expiration of the Fifty-seventh Congress will be Representative Galusha A. Grow. Mr. Grow was elected to Congress in 1850, was speaker when the Civil war broke out and was the author of the now famous Homestead law.
Of late years Mr. Grow has been sent to Congress as Congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania, but, with the redistricting of the state, that position is abolished and he will not make a fight for his own district.

All store accounts due me from the Emporium store will be turned over to a collector for prompt collection after this month.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.
United States Land Office, Bend, Oregon, Sept. 15, 1902.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final computation proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before W. U.
Doughlas, U. S. Commissioner, at Marshfield, Oregon, on November 1, 1902, viz: Everett Mings on R. E. No. 16486, for lots 2 and 3, section 19, township 27 south, range

HAND COMPLETELY TAKEN OFF.

Wilbur Edmunds Meets With a Most Unfortunate Accident.

Wilbur Edmunds had his entire left hand completely taken off last Monday evening about 5 o'clock at the Cherry Red Pressed Brick Co.
plant.

Edmunds has had charge of the immense brick press since the plant was started a month ago, and had become quite adept in manipulating the huge machine which takes the dry dirt and compresses it into such a compact mass that a nail can be driven with the finished product.

He had just returned to look at the registering board to see if the last truck of brick from the machine had been registered, and in turning he moved his left hand across the dies and the immense plunger with a pressure of 20,000 pounds to the square inch came down, cutting his hand completely off except a portion of the thumb, which, however, could not be saved.

The plunger carried the hand on through and imbedded it in the brick so tightly that a chisel had to be used to get it out. The unfortunate young man was at once taken to the home of his brother, Ralph, and Drs. Stillman and McQuitty amputated the hand at the wrist joint. Edmunds displayed unusual nerve and grit throughout the terrible accident, and at the present time is getting along as comfortably as could be desired.—Sioux Valley News, Corcoranville, Iowa.

A Remarkable Offer.

The attention of our readers is directed to the announcement in this issue of special clubbing rates with YOUNG PEOPLE'S WEEKLY, the best paper of its class published in America. Our arrangements are exclusive, and on terms that enable us to offer that paper and the HERALD for the price of single subscriptions to this paper alone. Our readers will surely appreciate this very liberal offer, and we invite them to make it known to such of their friends as are not already subscribers. Two papers for the price of one is an inducement seldom offered, especially when either is well worth the price asked for both.
All subscriptions, accompanied by cash, should be sent to this office.

Fairview Items.

Mr. Wm. Beitys is hauling brick from Coquille to build a new chimney.

Miss Walstrom has been on the sick list again but was able to resume her duties in the schoolroom on Friday.

We learn that one of our good neighbors, Mr. Sin Hatcher has purchased a fine organ and croquet set for his daughter, which will now give the boys a good expense to visit at the home of Mr.
Hatcher.

We are sorry to say that Mr.
Glen Barker is compelled to go on crutches, the result of a severe kick which he received from one of his cattle while hauling logs for Mr.
Teters.

Mr. Teters and sons have about 350 fine logs in the river and are now ready for water high enough to drive them out. We hope that they may have no misfortune in getting them to the mill.

We are pleased to learn that the little daughter of Herbert Johnson is fast improving under the skillful treatment of Dr. Horsfall.

Ben fires and buggy riding have been the main rage at Fairview for the last few weeks.

We are sorry to say that our dear friend with the new buggy has had to take a back seat as the old man with the hick has knocked him off of the fence, but we hope that he will soon recover, and will be seen out flying around with the young ladies. DORAS

Lee Neely of Fairview, was in town today.

Jessie and Dock Barker, of Fairview, were in town yesterday.

Buckley vs. Aekerman is the title of a case before Judge Holden, but a decision will not be rendered till tomorrow.

Mrs. M. E. Dahuff, will preach in the little church, the fourth Sunday, morning and night. The night service will be on temperance.

This week we give a list of the officers of each and every school district in the county which should be of interest to all. This was furnished by School Superintendent Bunch for which our thanks are due him. We also give the names and addresses of Coos county's list of teachers on another page.

A Big Bargain.

One hundred and three and one-half acres, about 60 in the bottom.
The whole place cleared except 3 acres in the bottom. About 200 iam Hall at the premises.

Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Johnson, Dean & Co. have moved their butcher shop into the Wilson building recently purchased by them.

Bert Black arrived at this place Tuesday, for a few days visit. Bert is now engaged in the grocery business at Pocatello, Idaho, and is doing well.

Miss Francis Abernathy, of Dora, who has been visiting with Mrs. J.
W. Hamilton, left Friday for Forest Grove to attend the Pacific University.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

George Farrin, of the Broiler, is in luck. While opening oysters Friday one of his employees found a pearl as large as a small pea, and nearly perfect. Its value is placed at $130 to $140.—Coast Mail.

Elmer Abbott, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cribbins, died Sept.
1, 1902, aged 5 months and 10 days.
The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Lucy Cutlip and the remains interred in the Enchanted Prairie cemetery.

Married.—In this city, Sept. 9,

The largest and most pronounced successful aggregation of thespians that have ever presented the mer-itely popular drama, Uncle Tom's Cabin, on the Pacific coast, offer that production at this place Saturday night. The crowded houses and unanimous acclamation with which they have been nightly greeted throughout the season is but a just reward for the lavish stage setting and minute care they have given to detail in their dramatization of this grand work of Harriet Beecher Stowe, the circulation of which has only been exceeded by the Bible itself. For those who have again and again witnessed with ten bedimmed eyes its touching pathos, or convulsed with laughter at the sprightly humor of its lighter parts, the high class vaudeville which is introduced between acts will afford an evening's entertainment in itself.—Exchange.

the particulars yet, as to how the fire started.

County Judge of Coos County, Oregon.

MUSIC

In the eyes of Twentieth Century culture is considered a necessary accompaniment of good breeding and a good education, therefore the Organ and Piano have become almost a necessity in every household.

The question is to get the best instrument for the least money. In this the freight item enters largely into consideration.

Eiler's Piano House of Portland and San Francisco, have solved the problem by combining the best makes of the country under one management and shipping in large quantities at lowest possible rates.

They handle some thirty different makes of Piano, among them the famous

Weber, Chickering, Wose, Kimball, Milton, Whitney and Kinze.

Organs from $55 upwards. Pianos from $175 upward. For particulars enquire at "Herald" Office, Coquille, Oregon.
