Uncle Alex Snyder, of Myrtle Point, came down Friday to consult the doctor, being under the weather.

Anyone in need of the services of a first class printer will do well to drop a line to M. G. Pohl, Myrtle Point.

T. N. Johnson and John Fouts returned Thursday from a hunt in the mountains. They had fairly good luck.

MARRIED.—At Myrtle Point, Oct. 1, 1902, W. W. Whittington, and Maggie Hamilton, Rev. Thomas Barklow, officiating.

Hundreds of satisfied patrons testify to the superior fitting of spectacles. Write 1 will call. M. G. Pohl, the Myrtle Point Optician.

C. W. Paterson, the marble worker, of Marshfield, was over to this city last week and placed a beautiful monument at the grave of the late Dr. S. L. Leneve.

J. S. Lawrence, of this city, started for Portland on Thursday, as a delegate from Lycurgus Lodge, No. 72, K. of P., to the grand lodge of that order which convenes in that city today.

M. L. Leonard, of Spokane, Washington, who is in this section looking at the country, came in to see us Thursday. Mr. Leonard is an old type and still appreciates the scent of a print shop.

H. S. Kribs, the hardware man and tinner, has moved from the Sander-son building to the new Collier building directly across the street where he has his nice new stock displayed to good advantage.

Geo. Flaanagan, Marshfield's leading market man, came over last week and bought a bunch of 25 hogs from our friend J. A. Jackson, of the Butler place near Argo.

Robert Abr. the well known traveling repairer, is now canvassing the upper Coquille valley at residences of town and country to solicit work in his line. This is his sixth annual tour of the river. Tin, agateware and umbrellas a specialty.

Look Out For Fever. Billiousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. R. S. Knowlton.

A Mischievous Estimate.

The public is startled from time to time by the ghastly and fiendish details of a crime that is abhorrent to every instinct of humanity. Casting about for a reason or an explanation for that which is altogether unreasoned and inexplicable, the criminologist and moral apologist strive to enlighten others, being themselves unenlightened upon this point by disquisitions upon "degeneracy" and its causes.

The murder of Mrs. Pultzer in New York a short time ago by William Hooper Young furnishes a recent example in this line. Enough has been disclosed in regard to show that it is one of an unusually repulsive character. Young is said to be a "degenerate" and to show how glibly this word rolls from the tongue he coolly characterizes the man whom he associates with himself in this murder as a "degenerate."

The scientific discussion of moral degeneracy, as based upon the deductions of Lombroso and his fellow investigators, says the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph "has created the rather hazy conviction that degeneracy is a species of disease for which the victim is largely irresponsible." The effect of this conviction upon the unthinking is distinctly mischievous. Reference to a criminal of the more abhorrent sort as a "degenerate" conveys more or less vaguely the idea that the poor fellow is irresponsible and that the blame for the evil wrought out through his mediumship might with bleaded mercy and justice be shifted from the man to the disease of which he is declared to be possessed and by which he is, by inference at least, controlled. It is easy to see the mischievous trend of this reasoning. As stated by the journal above quoted, the process by which a man reaches degeneracy have not changed since the world began. They involve the same yielding step by step to criminal passions and proclivities. In a sense every man who yields to a criminal impulse is a degenerate but his responsibility is as great in the last horrible climax of vice and crime as in the first conscious acceptance of evil as a practice involving cunning and cruelty. Character is not unaided in an hour, a day, or a year. The consciousness of right does not give way under one sweeping impulse to do wrong. The steps are taken one by one, and it is indeed a pitiful subterfuge, and as mischievous as pitiful, that seeks to excuse the climax of villainy by declaring the perpetrator of a malicious crime, to be the victim of irresistible moral disease. It is, on the contrary, the part of wisdom to make men responsible and hold them responsible.—Oregonian.

Restful Reading.

Magazines are reader's friends, and like people, they have decided characteristics and personalities. Some are serious minded and hard to get acquainted with, and sometimes tiresome, though full of knowledge; some are bright and vivacious; some are weird or romantic; and a thousand others have various peculiarities and idiosyncracies more or less well developed. At any rate, most of them are suited only to a habit or mood of the reader's mind. The truly popular magazine, that goes with everybody because it somehow partakes of and reflects humanity, is hard to find. Will Carleton's Magazine, Every Where, for October, seems to adapt itself to a universal need to a remarkable degree. Every line shows human experience or human aspirations, and, above all, every line is restful and satisfying. Mr. Carleton contributes three especially graceful and charming poems on Autumn themes. Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster is one of the contributors of verse. There is much good fiction and interesting miscellany. Fifty Cents a Year: Every Where Publishing Co. 308 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"THE VOLCANO'S DEADLY WORK FROM THE FALL OF POMPEII TO THE DESTRUCTION OF ST. PETERS."

By Prof. Charles Morris, LL. D. Most interesting book ever published. Complete, thrilling, and accurate account of greatest disaster that ever befell the human race—greater even than Pompeii. Tells how Martinique, one of the most beautiful islands in the world, was suddenly transformed into a veritable hell. About 200 pages, profusely illustrated with photographs taken before and after the disaster. Practically only "Martinique Book" in the field, for everyone now insists on having Prof. Morris' book and no other. Best author, largest book illustrated scientifically accurate. Price, $1.50. Agents Wanted. Enormous profits for those who act quickly. Most liberal terms. Credit 10 cents. Don't lose a minute. Send for it IMMEDIATELY and be at work. The chance of a life-time for making money. Clark & Co., 222 S. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DEPOT GROUNDS ARE SECURED.

The Bushey Farm to be Used by the Salt Lake & Coos Bay Railroad.

Late Thursday afternoon the papers were signed and a forfeit of $2,500 paid, securing the Bushey farm, adjoining this city, for the use of the Salt Lake & Coos Bay railroad for depot grounds, yards, round house, etc. Negotiations for the tract of land had been on for some time and it is understood that upon its acquisition depended largely the question as to whether the road would be built directly to this city or whether it would go on to some point a few miles distant, either north or south. The special feasibility of the routes both east and west of here makes this point a very desirable one for a junction with the S. P. Co's. road, and the grounds for depot and headquarters having been secured, the matter of bringing the new road here seems now well decided.

We understand it is the purpose of Chief Engineer Kinney to open their general offices here and that Roseburg will be made the business headquarters during the period of construction, and may become so permanently. Pending the arrival of Major Kinney, definite announcements as to beginning active operations were not given. Yet the opinion prevails that engineers are to be put in the field and active work commenced within a very short time.—Roseburg Review.

Forty Year's Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. R. S. Knowlton.

The town of Gervain, this state, sustained a loss of $50,000 last week by fire, the origin of which is supposed to be incandescence. There was little insurance on the property destroyed.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists. See Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Commoner.

(MR. BRYAN'S PAPER) The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions. The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the HERALD together for one year for $2. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.50.
