The old Perry house, which was destroyed by fire at Norway recently, is said to be the first building constructed of saved lumber in the Coquille valley, having been erected over 40 years ago by the pioneer, W. These trees were set out by our townsman, V. N. Perry, over 40 years ago, one of which was nearly 4 feet in diameter, in a good thrifty condition with fine prospects for a full crop of their delicious fruit this season.

Walter Colvin, of Kink creek has lately invented the most unique device we have seen, for which he is making application for a patent. The appliance is used to keep a cow from striking her milk in the face with her tail while she is being milked. It is doubtless a meritorious device and our dairy men should invest in one at once. Our friend, J. H. Allen, who owns a farm near Norway, and who accompanied by his son, Master Clarence, has spent several months past in Parker county, Texas, visiting relatives, and also taking in the Oklahoma country, arrived by the Arcata, reaching this city yesterday morning. Mr. Allen is glad to get back to enjoy the salubrious climate of Coos again. Our townsman, David Fulton who has a great deal of experience in growing sweet potatoes in Northern California, is of the opinion that they will do well here and is making preparations to give them a good trial. He has a large lot of very fine plants started which will be set in different places where conditions are favorable and given a thorough trial. It is thought by some that they will not mature in this section, but Mr. Fulton thinks otherwise. Several persons on the upper river raise very nice sweet potatoes and it is highly probable that they will do equally as well here. When Mr. Fulton settled in Northern California he was told that they would not grow there, but he soon demonstrated the fact that they would, and may do the same thing here.

He was using a handax directly under a revolving shaft and as he made a stroke with the ax it came in contact with a pulley which threw it out of his hand, one corner of the bit of the ax struck his arm near the shoulder and the handle coming in contact with his finger. He came off very luckily. Attention Miners! There is a rush now for timber lands, all through southern Oregon, and the miners should watch the locations carefully and be ready with their protests if timber locations are made upon ground claimed by them. Another suggestion would be that every miner who owns a mining claim which might possibly be located upon a timber land send in a plot of his mining claim to the land office and a timber location on that piece of land will not be allowed. Subscribe for the Oregon Mining Journal from which this is taken. It will keep you posted. SHAD HUBBES, Agent, Port Orford Ore.
