Messrs Morgan and Bingham who purchased the McConnell place a short distance below town expect to conduct a general feeding station near town in the future. In connection with the place mentioned will be used the Barrows homestead, recently purchased from the city by Mr. Bingham, which will furnish winter pasture. Those gentlemen will doubtless soon be well equipped pasturing, feeding and carrying for stock for long or short periods, and stock left in their charge will certainly be well cared for and properly looked after.

Mrs. A. W. Kelly, of this city, who went to Portland several weeks ago for the purpose of having a goiter removed from her throat, returned yesterday, having come down on the Alliance. We are glad to be able to state that the operation was highly successful, though one very difficult in its nature. It was performed by Dr. Coffey, and was witnessed by a number of eminent physicians from different parts of the country. Mrs. Kelly is yet very weak, but it is hoped she will be all right in a short time.

S. J. McCloskey and son, Bertie, met with quite a bad accident Saturday night as they were returning in a buggy from Coquille, where they had been to attend the I. O. O. F. lodge. As they were coming along back of Johnson's mill, in making a short turn the wheel ran upon a stump, throwing the buggy over and spilling the occupants out below the road. The horse after fracturing himself from the buggy ran on a short distance and waited for the driver. The buggy was badly broken up but neither of the men was hurt.

Neighbors, be careful to close your pantry windows, as cake and such things have been disappearing.

Where is Scribber?

THREE THREE.

As Dr. Leonard arrived at Gardiner yesterday a week ago, on his way to Portland, a young man had just allowed his hand to come in contact with a saw and was suffering from the effects. The doctor amputated two of his fingers and dressed up the wound in good shape, leaving the young man getting along nicely.
