N. W. Ledbetter, solicitor and collector for the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa. spent several days in this county last week looking after the interests of the schools, which are doing quite a good business in this section, but which should be better. There are many young men in this county who are wasting time that should be improved by taking a scholarship in these schools.

A rather peculiar accident happened to the train at a point a mile or so above Norway on the up trip this morning. An electric light pole had gotten out of line by a land slide carrying it down the hill, breaking the guy and leaned over so far that it struck the stove pipe on the coach, throwing it down inside, and a heavy piece of casting at the base of the pipe was thrown, striking Mrs. George Fowl in the face, cutting a gash and making a considerable bruise, and causing her to fall against a seat, shaking her up somewhat, but not causing any serious injury.

Saturday evening, the seventh, was an occasion of great rejoicing at a well known home in a neighboring town Mr. and Mrs. F. W. A. Crane, formerly residents of this town, celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Junction. A large number of well-wishing friends gathered about the dining-table at six and time passed merrily away during the repast with abundant jokes and reminiscences. The guests remained during the evening to extend their congratulations. A great many presents substantiated the feeling of friendship, some of them very handsome and emblematic of the day. Several Eugene friends down on the afternoon train to be present.—Eugene Register.

C. C. A. Notes.

The Academy list has grown this week by the addition of two names. Joe Summerlin and Joe Myers are both bright young men and good students. We have promise of several more next week.

Miss Pearl Sweet has been out this week. We hope she may soon be in her place again. We have little complaint of the score of absences but some are not in their places as promptly as they should be at the opening of the sessions. This causes loss to the student and some interruption to the school.

The lecture announced for next Friday night is postponed for one week. Professor Anderson will speak on "Educational Ideals." It will pay friends of education and public spirited people generally to hear Prof. Anderson.

Our school, agreeable to a time honored custom, will take a Thanksgiving recess from Wednesday evening until Monday morning. We wish all our students and friends a joyous Thanksgiving.

Next Monday opens the last month of the present term. Very creditable work has been done in all departments, but much work remains to be done. Time flies so rapidly as to admonish us to be up and doing. At the end of the term, the work of some will have been performed to their credit. Others will find the work but half finished.

Miss Ethel Johnson was a brief visitor on Monday. As before stated we shall be glad at any time for our friends to visit the school and witness its workings.

A large stock of toys just being unpacked at M. H. Hersey's. Large durable and useful toys is the remark of every customer that sees this stock. Wagons, trunks, lunchests, banks, bureaus, diaries, laundry sets, bedsteads with wire springs, bedroom sets, dining room sets, parlor sets, and many many others too numerous to mention here.

John Westknot, a native of Great Britain, died in this city on Saturday night and was buried in the county cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The deceased was about 65 years of age and has lived about this section for three or four years, following the vocation of a pruner.

PRINCIPAL.

The Woman's Study Club held their first business meeting of the season last Saturday at the home of the President. A department of Domestic Science was created and here after some time will be given to the considerations of the problems of the home. American Literature is the main topic for study this year. The club will meet Tuesday afternoons as usual with Mrs. Snook.

Chas. Self, of near town, was brought in Sunday morning by W. R. Darby, having been severely kicked in the face by a young horse. He was taken to Dr. Russell's office where the wound was dressed. Mr. Self's nose was badly mashed and broken, the upper jaw fractured and a large gash cut in his upper lip, requiring five stitches to close it. Charley considers himself very lucky that he was not closer to the animal, as he believes it would have killed him. It was not an act of viciousness of the cult, but was done in play, it kicking up its heels as he was turning it out of the barn.

Attention, Comrades.

Monday, December 7, being the next regular meeting of Gen. Lytle Post, G. A. R., and the last meeting in this year attention is called to the fact that this is the time for our annual election of officers, and your presence are urgently requested.
