These instruments can be had on terms to suit. Address, E. M. Furman, Marshfield, Oregon. Box 218. The Presbyterian church has received their new hymn books and also a small library of 31 volumes for the use of the pastor and congregation. This nucleus of a library is given through the legacy of Dr. Bondinot, who left a large sum of money to buy good books on religion for the weaker churches. The pastor will be glad to loan these books out to responsible parties. These are sermons by noted preachers, books on missions, on various phases of religious life and doctrine, and a set of Matthew Henry's Commentaries.

A nice line of Table covers at Mrs. Nosler's. Epworth League entertainment Saturday evening. Fine line of late dress goods just in at Mrs. Nosler's. The Presbyterian church was comfortably filled at the union Thanksgiving services. The Choral Union's first appearance in public was marked by the sympathetic rendering of hymns and anthems. Rev. Handsaker's sermon dealt with the causes for Thanksgiving as found in the victories won for righteousness during recent years. On Wednesday of last week as school was out and the children were hurrying homeward, Johnny Miller was running through the vacant lots near Mr. Chas. Cruse's residence, a little daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dahuff stepped from behind a bush just in front of him and so near that he had no chance to change his course and he ran over her hurting her severely, but she has almost recovered at this time. Rev. Adolph Haberly received word the other day from the Presbyterian Home Mission Board that he had been chosen as the Home Mission representative of the Washington Heights Presbyterian church of New York City. This means that the New York City church will stand back of and co-operate with Mr. Haberly in his work here and at Bandon. It also means that these two churches will be in close touch with the New York City church. This is a new policy recently adopted by the large eastern churches of selecting some mission pastor and assisting the people to carry on their work in those western fields. Rev. Dr. Bliss is the pastor of Washington Heights church. Departures South, Nov. 22, by the Alliance: Mrs. J. M. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. G. Osgood, Mrs. M. E.
