

A Novel Suggestion.

A Kansas City paper has recently suggested to the committee appointed to design fitting representation for that burg at the St. Louis Fair that it turn its attention to securing moving pictures of the actual everyday life of the town, as it is manifested in the busiest streets. It is proposed by the paper that a picture-taking machine be mounted on an automobile, to be run rapidly through the principal business streets, the parks, along the boulevards and through the various residential sections of the city, the reproduction to represent a panoramic view of the town as a visiting stranger would view it. There may be merit in such a suggestion as applied to other places than Kansas City. What the practical difficulties might be in the successful consummation of a scheme of this character would have to be demonstrated probably by test. But if the idea could be carried into effect so that the pictures could be produced clearly and accurately, there could hardly be a better advertisement or a more attractive exhibit made by any municipality where a great amount of business is transacted, or where there are views of civic beauty or natural scenic grandeur to exhibit. As applied to Oregon, and especially in the vicinity of Portland, such views could not prove otherwise than highly entertaining. All the charm of a ride through the beautiful suburbs of this city could be extended to the visitor at the state headquarters in St. Louis, and beyond that what a treat could be given in a moving picture trip on either the Willamette or Columbia. If for Kansas City there should be genuine merit in this suggestion, for Oregon it would be far more valuable.—Telegram.

This idea was advanced by some of our people a year or so ago, to be carried on in the way of a panoramic or picture show to be backed and supported by our enterprising people and sent through the eastern states by a competent person capable of giving lectures, explaining about the pictures and giving truthful statements concerning our climate, natural resources and advantages for settlers in a general way.

Now that the law against killing elk in this state expires next year, it is certainly a fact that our legislators should see to it that there be a law enacted containing the protection of these noble animals of which there are so few left. There is no question but every little band in Coos county is spotted and animals numbered, and if the law is allowed to expire for any length of time it is doubtful if one would be left. It is also a fact that there has been quite a number killed in violation of our present law, but we have reason to believe that most of these were killed by outsiders, and if this could be watched a little closer, there is no question but ten years more of close protection there would be a considerable increase in their numbers.

Oregon Gets Minor Appointments.

Washington, Dec. 5.—For the first time in 22 years Oregon finds itself without representation on at least one of the committees that handle the river and harbor bill, but to make matters worse, Oregon will have no representative on the House committee on industrial exhibitions which is to handle the Lewis and Clark Exposition bill. Instead of securing rivers and harbors, which he sought, or insular affairs, which he offered him by Speaker Cannon only a few days ago, Congressman Hermann is given membership on the committees on Indian affairs and election of President, Vice-President and Representative in Congress, while Williamson is made a member of irrigation and mines and mining.

There is an interesting story connected with Hermann's failure to go on insular affairs, after the offer made him by Speaker Cannon. When he learned that he was slated for insular affairs, and not the committee of his choice, Hermann consulted with his colleagues, with the result that the delegation resolved to make a last stand in the hope of forcing him on the river and harbor committee. The delegation united in a letter to President Roosevelt, in which it was stated in plain terms that Oregon had been badly treated at the hands of the Interior Department; that the Department of Justice has been almost if not quite as unjust to the state and to the delegation, and as a result there has sprung up considerable sentiment among Oregon Republicans that shows a trend in a direction injurious to Republican success.

C. C. A. Notes.

School is very busy now. Ordinary work so near the close of the term presses them. Preparation for an entertainment to take place the eve before Christmas admonishes them to be busy. Also preparations for the contest urges several of them to look out for their laurels.

Creditable work is being done by almost every one. Some could do more work than they are doing, some could attend more promptly and regularly than they do. They are the chief losers.

The boys are talking a literary society. The matter will be taken under advisement, if suitable time can be arranged. Societies organized for mutual improvement are good things, but when organized for purpose of mutual jollification have no place in school.

Laura Hatcher has been delayed at home this week on account of the sickness of her mother.

It is time to say that the Winter term will open on the first Monday in January. We are expecting a good opening, and a splendid winter's work. We have assurance of material to do such work.

There is going to be a good lot of work done in the near future in the way of getting up a respectable exhibit for Coos county which it is proposed will be used at our next state fair as well as the St. Louis exposition and Lewis and Clark centennial at Portland. There should be no pains spared to get up a first-class exhibit. The following is the committees appointed at the recent meeting at Marshfield with whom anyone wishing to present an article may confer:

Lumber King Will War on Combine.

San Francisco, Dec. 1.—The Weyerhaeusers, known throughout the West as kings of the lumber trade, say they have a grievance against the Pacific coast exporters and threaten to enter San Francisco, Portland and later other ports. They say that they have not been given fair treatment by the combination and that they will withdraw and inaugurate a service of their own. They will buy vessels and export, regardless of prior arrangements with lumbermen.

The combine to which they belong has all along controlled the lumber trade. R. L. McCormick, secretary of the big Wisconsin firm, has notified several dealers here that the Weyerhaeusers have determined to get a larger share than has been accorded them. It is supposed that Mr. McCormick is on his way here, thence to Portland. The firm owns $6,000,000 worth of timber lands in Oregon, Washington and California. According to the combine rulers an attempt is made to apportion all export orders among the three states of the coast. Mr. McCormick it is said will try to break the bonds and do business entirely independent and may establish big mills in each of the three states.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Cough and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland Bentorville, Va. serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by R. S. Knowlton, Druggist. Trial bottle free, regular sizes 50c, and $1.00.

They Made Money.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—In a raid upon a supposed thieves' resort, the police, instead, have stumbled upon a counterfeiters' den. In his effort to escape, Charles Belknap engaged in a struggle with Sergeant Miller and was overpowered and arrested. Mrs. Frances Balknap, his wife, later was taken into custody. Both will be held for Captain Porter, of the Government Secret Service, who will be notified of their arrest. Belknap and his wife occupied four rooms. One was fitted up as a laboratory, and contained all the most improved appliances for making counterfeit silver dollars. Thirty-five bogus dollars were confiscated by the police, together with a trunk full of tools.

Attack Of Fast Heart Lasted 160 Hours.

Doctors Didn't Know What To Do.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cured Me.

"For seven years I have been troubled with what the doctors called a 'fast heart,' going at once from the usual beat to twice as fast, which in a short time would exhaust me terribly and only after treatment by a physician it would get back to normal speed. These attacks increased in frequency and severity until December, 1901, when they came on once a week. Each attack would lay me up a day or more. The attack beginning January 13th, 1902, lasted 160 hours (almost a week) my heart beat almost one hundred and fifty per minute and some times more. During this week my physician consulted with four other doctors, but all to no purpose. My heart finally slowed up, and it was then a serious question with my family what to do next, as for me, I was too far gone to care much what happened. Dr. Miles' Almanac said, 'write for advice' and my son wrote, receiving a nice reply. A neighbor told us he had used your remedies with great benefit. I took courage, began the use of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and Restorative Nerve until I had taken eleven bottles of the Heart Cure and seven bottles of the Restorative Nerve. I had two slight attacks after I began the use of your medicine. The last one lasting only thirty minutes. For more than three months my heart has run without a flurry. I am cured, and Dr. Miles' Remedies did the work. I have been postmaster here for more than ten years."—M. T. CANTRELL, F. M., Fredonia, Kansas.
