School grew by the addition of one new name last week. This week ends the second month of the second term. Several examinations were held last week. Others will be held this. Altogether work progresses steadily to a close.
Of the three applicants for certificates two of our students succeeded with good grades. One other will be a candidate for state papers most likely in August. She now holds a certificate of the First Grade.
Rehearsals looking to our next entertainment and to the final contest take place daily. We hope to make these the most enjoyable affairs ever held in connection with the Academy.
The Fortnight Lecture for the first Sunday in February was called out of respect to the revivals in progress at the M. E. church, South. The next lecture will take place at the Little church next Sunday. After a brief survey of The Great Subjects suggested in scripture, the final theme so far as our present plans are laid will be The Great Mystery. After this, some one or a series presented in the charts will be taken up.
We have had some pictures of the school taken and they are very good. We shall likely add them to our contribution to the St. Louis Fair.
Christian Church Notes.

On account of the high water, the minister was unable to reach Beaver Hill last week. He will go again as soon as communication is established.
The Bible class, meeting each Wednesday evening at the church under the direction of Mrs. Handsaker, is starting out enthusiastically in the study of Acts and the Epistles. Visitors are cordially welcomed and urged to be present at this as well as the other services.
