C. A. SNOW & Co.

March of the Oregon Spring.

The season marches onward
But its march is all too slow,
For Granger fed out all his hay
Just seven days ago.
The spring flowers bud and blossom,
The birds sing sweet refrains;
But the mud gets deep, and deeper,
For still it rains and rains.
The early springtime poet,
Goes forth in search of fame
Arrived in spring apparel,
Since thirteen years ago,
But he gets wet just the same.
The stream which in the summer,
Glides smoothly to the sea,
Now rushes madly upward,
As madly as can be.
Your neighbor calls to see you,
You smile, and try in vain
To talk of war or wages,
His only theme is rain.
He "never saw such weather"
Since thirteen years ago,
It never lets up raining
Till it begins to snow.
Too cold for grass to prosper,
Too wet to start the plow,
If summer comes I'll raise more feed
I tell you that right now.
The season marches onward
"Tis passing day by day,
If February Marches
Way Surely April May.

The Apple Cure for Bad Habits.

Chicago Record-Herald.
If you are suddenly seized with a desire to quarrel with some one or to indulge in profanity, eat an apple. If there is a craving for a smoke or for alcoholic stimulation, substitute an apple, and while eating it do a little quiet reflecting.
This is the advice of John T. Stenson, director of pomology at the World's Fair at St. Louis. That Director Stenson is a believer in the efficacy of apples as a cure for bad habits is evidenced by his determination to distribute 1,000,000 apples on "apple day" during the Exposition. If this distribution results in an elevation of the moral tone of St. Louis or decreases the consumption of mint julep Professor Stenson will be able to present a test, to claim that the "apple cure" is a success. Indeed, there is apt to be a great demand for this fruit about the time the next Missouri Legislature meets.
The food value of the apple and its benign effect upon temperament and disposition have been known and recognized ever since horticulturists began developing it from the wild crab-apple tree of the forest. The catalogue of the average nurseryman lists over 400 varieties of apples, but no one will suspect Professor Stenson of trying to boost a particular Missouri apple as having marked medicinal qualities. The reason the apple tends to mollify the asperities of life and to smooth out the rough places in a man's disposition is because of its very appreciable effect upon the liver. As a substitute for meat and mineral baths and all sorts of bottled aperients it probably has no equal.
As a substitute for the highball and the gin ricky, however, the apple will be regarded in Missouri with suspicion. A few drinks of apple juice drawn from a barrel that has lain in the cellar for some time have been known to produce direful results. When the barrel has been frozen and the juice is drawn from the center the consequences are disastrous. But everybody will watch the results of Professor Stenson's experiment with interest.

Exposition Bill is Favorably Reported.

Washington, D. C., March 22.—The house exposition committee today favorably reported on the Lewis and Clark exposition bill, and it will be placed on the calendar.
It carries $475,000, as follows: Two hundred thousand dollars for government exhibit. Two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars for government buildings, including the oriental and other buildings. Twenty-five thousand dollars for the Philippine exhibit. Twenty-five thousand dollars for the Alaska exhibit.
The bill also authorized the treasury department to coin 250,000 gold souvenir dollars, which will be sold to the exposition at par.
The bill provides for a government board to have charge of the government appropriations and buildings.
Chairman Tanney stated today to a Journal representative that he expected to get the bill up for consideration after the postoffice appropriation bill was out of the way, probably some time next week.
The house also adopted a provision for a separate building for forestry and irrigation, and large enough to accommodate exhibits other than those of the United States.

Judging from reports of the climate at Panama, those intending going there to make money out of the pending canal boom should take an outfit consisting principally of quinine and an insurance policy.

Work at our own Doors.

It is almost too much to hope that the men who have been called before the grand jury to answer regarding the alleged renting of houses for immoral and illegal purposes will be prosecuted. There is no doubt whatever in the mind of any member of the community who has any knowledge of the ownership and management of certain houses in Portland that these men are guilty of an offense against the law. But that the necessary evidence to convict them will be forthcoming, will not be suppressed, or if not suppressed, will secure their conviction against the force of the "pull" which each can muster, is a doubtful question.
There is a remedy outside the legal remedy for the state of moral turpitude in which a great many citizens of Portland have fallen and it lies mainly in the hands of the women, as does nearly every other social reform. If the reputable women of the town who have the good of the community really at heart should refuse to socially recognize any man to be guilty of renting or receiving revenue directly or indirectly from houses used for immoral purposes, there would be a great change for the better in Portland. The woman who has reached years of discretion and is willing to eat the food, wear the clothes and be the recipient of all or any of the necessities or luxuries of life which are purchased in whole or part by the traffic in human souls and bodies, deserves to be socially ostracized. The pressure brought to bear upon the sons, husbands, fathers and brothers of such women would be too great to admit of resistance.
Women who have taken a foremost part in reform work pertaining to the southern states and the negro question, or to East India and the child widow evil, utterly neglect and ignore the work at their own doors which they could do so much better by reason of the fact that they would have some knowledge of the subject. There is a tendency on the part of women to shirk this question, save in private, and then they are, or pretend to be, very much shocked and doubtful that such things could be, or that, granting their existence, they should ever come up for discussion, there be some women who agree with the same sort of men, that these evils are necessary evils, but they are not in the majority, for which we are duly thankful. But if the thing is not wrong it is right, and if it is right that it should be, it cannot be wrong to discuss it. It must be discussed if it is ever to be righted, and the most pessimistic of us must admit that it has been righted to a small extent in other cities, and is not quite so bad as it once was even here.
Moral suasion is a better thing than compulsion, and more effective. Why not try a little moral suasion and see what the effect will be.—Portland Journal.

Land Quickly Taken up.

Oregon City, Or. March 22.—Nine and a fractional sections in township 10 south, range 11 west, were thrown open to settlement at the Oregon City Land Office at 9 o'clock today. The tract embraced more than 6000 acres, and all the land was filed on with the exception of a quarter section by the 34 applicants who stood in line for an hour before the office was opened.
The land, which is located in the Siletz reservation, was opened to settlement under the provisions of the homestead law, and was taken almost entirely by Salem and Albany people. Two similar tracts in the same section of this land district will be opened to settlement on April 6 and 13, respectively.

Ambition of Japan.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Vladivostok papers which have just arrived here say that a member of the Japanese Consulate declared on the eve of his departure that it was Japan's ambition to drive the Russians across the Amur, restore Manchuria to China and annex Corea.
The Vladivostok editors find it almost impossible to get out their papers. The supply of paper is practically exhausted, they cannot get up steam in the press boilers because the horses which carted the water have gone, most of the reporters and composers have either been called to the colors or have bolted, and no advertisements are being received.

Note and Comment.

The Sultan has agreed to go to sleep while the Czar gets his ships out of the Black Sea. He can do it easily.
A Russian general departing for the seat of war closed his speech as follows: "God be with us! Hurrah! Well, that's about it."
Democrats tried to adjourn the House of Representatives in honor of Washington's birthday, but Republicans defeated the motion 105 to 93.
If you want to buy $3,000,000 worth of Philippine bonds, now is your time. They bear four per cent interest and will be quoted higher than English consols.
Senator Mitchell of Oregon will probably succeed to Hanna's vacated chairmanship of the committee on the Panama Canal. If Senator Spooner gets out of the way.
Congress has defeated a bill to pay to ex-Queen Lilioukalani a mere trifle in consideration of the $100,000 a year which we took of her's when we seized Hawaii. Is this gallantry?
Congressman McDermott, N. J., has introduced a bill to make the President a party to all labor disputes, and boss arbitrator. The Chief Executive might possibly object to having such a large annex built onto him.
Representative Shafroth, Democrat, of Colorado has done something which no Congressman ever did before. He has resigned his seat on discovering, after personal examination, that the vote was tainted by which he was elected.
Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador to this country, gladly accepts the suggestion Secretary Hay to make the belligerents in the Eastern war localized hostilities and respect the neutrality of China. He would also include Corea.
Off Guam in the Pacific the sea has a depth of six miles. At that depth the pressure of water is six tons to the square inch, and when its funny inhabitants are brought to the surface they explode like bombs. Not one has ever been obtained alive.
The Postmaster-General proposes to "purify the mails." An excellent object; but when he undertakes to exclude "objectionable newspapers" he cannot be too careful. "Objectionable" is a very vague and comprehensive word. Objectionable to whom?
The sentiment in favor of the re-establishment of the whipping post for wife-beating seems to be growing in strength in every direction. Some fear that such punishment would injure the wife-beater's self; but it is now discovered that he hasn't any.
Will the United States ever wake up to the fact that it is far behind the times in the matter of postal accommodation. Great Britain and Germany can send fifty pounds from one end of the realm to the other at a trifling expense, while we can send nothing over four pounds. Of course the express companies know the reason.
To finish all the ships authorized by Congress up to the present time and equip and arm them will cost $82,718,659, of which one-third has been appropriated. Senator Gorman thinks this will answer; and instead of authorizing any more ships at present, he is in favor of spending money for good roads and other improvements.
Rev. Cortland Myers of Brooklyn has had a truly great experience. He went to Washington and was permitted to shake the hand of the President. He says he has not washed his hand with soap since and does not think he ever will again, adding "I would like to take that splendid grip with me into the next world and have it as a part of my resurrection life." This is truly ecstatic bliss.
Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.
Pneumonia is a dangerous disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who also is a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

Georgia Monument to a Negro.

We doubt very much if any northern cities would have taken the trouble to erect a marble monument to a negro who lost his life in an effort to save another human being. But Columbus, Georgia, has done this for Bragg Smith, stirred, perhaps, because he died in a vain attempt to save a white man—the city engineer. Creditable as the event is in every way, it brings out once more the inconsistency in our treatment of the colored man. The Southerner loves and even kisses the black mammy who "raised" him so tenderly—but cannot contemplate the thought of her eating by his side. Some Mississippians fiendishly tortured and then burned an innocent negro woman in utter disregard of her sex at the very moment that Columbus was honoring Bragg Smith and putting upon his monument the line:
"Act well will your part; there all the honor lies."
We northerners have not half the affection for the colored people about us that the southerners have. The misery and degradation of the negroes in our northern cities has only just begun to appeal to the well-to-do and charitable, and while we give them the ballot we are indifferent to their exclusion from trades unions and dozens of employments to which they should of right have access, as in the south. And we, too, are lynchers. What other problem could bring out more clearly that this, above all others, the land of contrasts and inconsistencies?—New York Evening Post.

Colds cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

Only Settlers Can Remain.

Oregonian News Bureau, Washington, March 17.—Senator Ankeny and Representative Jones today received letters from General Counsel Bunn, of the Northern Pacific Railway, stating that his company intends to deal liberally with bona-fide settlers on the lands within the "overlap" limits which passed to the railroad company under the recent decision of the Supreme Court. Settlers who settled upon these lands in good faith prior to July 1, 1898, and have made their homes thereon, will be permitted, under the act of 1898, to retain title. Mr. Bunn states, however, that the railroad company for "slysters" and speculators, who will be ousted from the lands within the overlap limits.

Do You Want Strength.

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

A Politician Writes His Own Epitaph.

Herman Alston, a member of the Texas Legislature, was at the Galt House last night, pensive, melancholy, disheartened, because he is a politician.
"It's a hard fate to be mixed up in politics," he said. "Always looking for office. Always reaching out for something. Always getting so little if honest, so much if otherwise."
"I have told my wife that when I die I want her to put upon my tombstone the epitaph: 'Here lies Herman Alston, in the only place for which he never applied.'"—Louisville Herald.
