Disciples of Sir Isaac. Are distracted, sad, and sore. That their days for "shiner" fishing Now have gone forever more. And they pray some one to tell them, How to work the problem out. When their hook gets in a "shiner" "Tho' they cast it far about. Yes, it's hard for e'n a christian, When he feels a frisky bite, And he lifts his rod so gently, 'Till the game comes into sight, Yes, his very vitals tingle, And his soul is filled with doubt, 'Till the "shiner" safely landed Proves to be a frisky trout. And my brothers it is trying To the moral of us all, And there's many truthful people Prone to take a sudden fall— Prone to lose their moral vision 'Tho' their lives have been devout Who will look upon a "shiner, And can only see a trout. I myself am pretty goodly, And would blith to tell a lie, But when going on a "shiner" Comes a weakness to my eye— Such a dimness, that I can't tell "The small 'shiner" from a trout, And so the verdict always goes In favor of the doubt. Christian Church Notes.
