Christmas Home.

Editor Tribune:—On Sunday, last, your correspondent, in company with William Biger, an old California and Arizona miner, made a trip over to South Sixes, to see what was done in the way of mining, prospecting, etc.

From Capt. S. H. Whitney, the foreman of the Commander Mining and Milling Company, your correspondent was informed that he and two others were busy framing timbers for a sawmill, the same to be used for the purpose of cutting lumber for the large flume the company contemplates building this summer. The flume and ditch will be a mile or more in length. It is the intention of the company to put in a dam sixty feet high in Sixes River to raise the water to the ditch when completed. The company has located an ancient river channel a mile in length. Will have 150 feet pressure at the lower end of their claim. They will put on two large giants and will be able to handle an immense amount of gravel. They have prospected the claim and estimated that the entire claim will pay one dollar and fifty cents per yard. About the first of July, or as soon as the roads dry up so they can get their supplies in from Myrtle Point, the company will put on a force of thirty men to building a flume and digging ditch.

At the lower end of the Commander mining claim B. J. Harrison and sons, Bob and Ben, have located extension claim of the same old river channel, and will use a portion of the Commander Company's water. This claim is said to be as good as the claims adjoining.

Lower down the river Joe Fox and son are preparing to mine in the present river channel. A few more weeks of such weather as we are having now the river will be low enough to begin operations.

Mr. Allen, the gentleman who purchased the Tichenor tract of land, has two men employed building an addition to the cabin W. J. Holmes and C. W. Zumwalt built when they were prospecting for coal. Mr. Allen went to New York, and is expected to arrive here daily, and it is rumored that as the roads become passable for teams he will bring in a drill and prospect for coal. Madam Rumor also has it that Mr. Allen contemplates, in the near future, to put on a force of men to blasting large boulders and rock jams from below Avery's down below Dr. Elgin's. The object is to open the channel for the purpose of floating saw logs down the river. The above is a mere rumor. I do not vouch for the fact.

In a week or ten days there will be plenty of ripe salmon berries, and if the editor of the Tribune will bring up four or five gallons of good rich cream the writer will furnish the sugar and berries and we will have a fine feast.—Port Orford Tribune

The high standing of this salve has given rise to counterfeits, and the public is advised to look for the name "DeWitt" on the package, and accept no other. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

The Mill Whistle Again.

Our enterprising merchant, W. T. Kerr, and our ex-steamboat man and engineer, Alex Snyder, have effected a lease from the P. F. & L. Co. of the Lyons mill at this place, and this morning a crew of men gathered to their respective posts and the whistle sounded and the saws are humming. This is a proposition on which Mr. Kerr has been working for some time, and having succeeded in securing an order for 400,000 feet of lumber for the construction of a university building at Los Angeles, California as well as other encouragements, locally and otherwise, he has at last made the supreme effort which has set things a going. This will lend a great deal of life to our town and community, and these gentlemen should receive every encouragement it is possible for our people to put forth to keep this mill in constant operation. It goes without saying that our city is almost without a payroll, and if we expect to keep abreast of the times, this is a matter that should be looked after by our enterprising citizens and the employment of a greater number of people provided for.

Holt Bonebrake Dead

Holt Bonebrake, the young man who was operated on for appendicitis in this city last Sunday, died at the city hospital here this morning at 6:40. Mr. Bonebrake, whose home is in Goldendale, Washington, was in Marshfield visiting friends and relatives when the attack of appendicitis set in and it was found by the physicians that an immediate operation was necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. Horsfall assisted by other physicians of the city last Sunday and as the case was a very complicated one it was thought best to notify the parents of the unfortunate young man that his condition was very serious. Immediately on receipt of the message the parents, Dr. and Mrs. Allen Bonebrake, started for this city at once, arriving here last Monday, and were with their son up to the time of his death.

Mr. Bonebrake lacked but a few weeks of being eighteen years of age and was a young man of the best moral habits and one whose faculty for making friends rendered him extremely popular with all who met him.

The remains were embalmed this morning and with the next Northbound Alliance will be carried back to the Washington home for burial.—Coast Mail.
