A Young Electrician.

Not many people of our little village, perhaps, are aware of a budding and well-developed genius residing within the city limits.

Hearing rumors of some of the wonderful things being done by this young philosopher, we paid a visit to his workshop and laboratory last Tuesday, and to say that we were surprised, is putting it mildly. The name of this promising young man is Earl Simpson and he is only 16 years of age, but the things he has done in an electrical way are worthy the efforts of a much older head and a more experienced mechanic.

He has built a small dynamo and a water motor for running it. These are operated in the woods. By means of wires, he carries the current from this dynamo to his workshop and laboratory in the garret of the dwelling house. Here he has small incandescent lamps for lighting purposes; by means of a wire attachment, the family clock down stairs rings the hours on an electric bell in the laboratory upstairs.

He has constructed a complete and modern switchboard for central telephone offices. He erected and operated a wireless telegraph system in the back yard. His first attempt at this was not satisfactory, the pole being too short (only 30 feet high); so he has taken it down and is putting up a 60 foot pole. On the first one he could receive messages, but they were very indistinct.

He has made electric door bells for his mother attached an emery wheel to his motor and, in fact, has so many different appliances in operation and in the course of construction that our half hour's stay only gave us a glance at the principal features.

His latest efforts are a static machine and a loud-speaking telephone, both of which he expects to have in operation in a few days.

Master Earl is of a very reticent and retiring disposition and his efforts would be entirely unheard of had not the information leaked out through other channels than himself. While he comes of humble parentage from a financial point of view his people are intelligent and cultivated and give their son every possible encouragement and assistance. Mr. Simpson, Sr., is an electrician and mechanic of more than average ability, and while lending what assistance he deems necessary in a theoretical way, the actual labor and plans are all original and carried out alone by the boy.

It is not improbable that we have a second Edison growing up in our midst.

Hoskins-Lamont Wedding.

A quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian church on June 28, 1904, when J. Neil Hoskins, engineer of the North Bend woolen mills, and Miss Isabel Lamont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lamont of Bandon, were united in marriage. Rev. Adolph Haberly, pastor of the church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins left the same day for their home at North Bend.

The season between seeding and harvest has been very generally improved in farming communities by pioneer reunions. One of the past week was held in Brownsville and was attended by a large number of the early settlers of Linn County and their descendants. The occasion, according to a correspondent, has grown in public favor until it has come to be regarded by old and young alike with yearly increasing pleasure. It is impossible to overestimate the benefit that farming communities find in these gatherings. They are supplemented in the Fall by the county, Grange or neighborhood fairs, and through each has its distinct place in the life and endeavor of the community, they are alike in the social features that vary the monotony of farm life, stimulate friendship and foster emulation. The State Fair of thirty-five or forty years ago—sacred to memory was the simple, genial, neighborly forerunner of these later fairs and gatherings. A dream of long ago, it finds cheerful awakening many times a year in county and Grange and neighborhood fairs, in farmers' institutes and in pioneer reunions. —Oregonian.

Saved From a Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. Cime's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at R. S. Knowlton, Drug Store.

Saveguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

R-I-P-A-N-S Tablets

Sailing Under False Colors.

Insurance Commissioner Luling of Kansas is after H. C. Rowell and Dr. J. W. Long, representatives of the American Woodmen of Denver, a fraternal society for colored people following the lines of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Woodmen of the World. They are attempting to do business in Kansas without complying with the state laws and, in addition, they are attempting to advance their interests by representing themselves as members of the Modern Woodmen of the America and the Woodmen of the World.

Both Rowell and Long are negroes, and wear prominently displayed emblems of these two societies, neither one of which admits negroes to membership. The laws cover this offense and make it a misdemeanor for one to wrongfully wear the emblem of a fraternal society. Both have been arrested and when searched, it was found that they had in their possession rituals of the Odd Fellows, Masons' United workmen, Fraternal Aid Association, Knights of Pythias, Knights and Ladies of Honor, and also those of the Modern woodmen of America and the Woodmen of the World.

It is believed that both the authorities and the societies will watch this matter closely and press it to an issue for the purpose of preventing others from attempting to deceive the public in this way.—Fraternal Aid.

Land Opened to Settlers.

Omaha, June 28.—Nine millions of acres of Government land in Nebraska were opened for homestead entry today under the provision of the Kinkaid law, which permits homesteaders to file on 640 acres of land. The land opened by the Kinkaid law is known as semi-arid land, and is mostly adapted to grazing. This is the last great opening of Government land of this nature that will ever be made, and was the occasion of a rush for choice section.

The six land offices in Nebraska were the scene of great excitement. At O'Neill, nearly 1000 persons, nearly 10 per cent of whom were in line at sunrise.

The greatest excitement was at Broken Bow where over 200,000 acres the best land included in the provisions of the law were thrown open. At sunrise 2000 persons were in line, and Sheriff Richardson, who had already taken extraordinary precautions to forestall trouble, today enlisted an extra force of deputies to keep order. Later he requested Governor Mickey to order the militia out to assist in keeping order.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, putting it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased. Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me."

Kodol Digests What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure. Bottles only $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c. Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., CHICAGO.
