OREGON IS A STOCK RAISING STATE

"Grass Grows Green and the Trees Grow Tall"; Animal Production Is Large.

Live stock production is one of the great industries of the state of Oregon. A wise old Scotchman once said to his son: "If you would grow stock successfully, go where the grass grows green and the trees grow tall." That Scotchman was the father of the widely known Prof. W. L. Carlyle, whose opinions on live stock and agricultural matters pass at par throughout America. Prof. Carlyle, as well as every other expert who has visited and studied conditions here, says they are as nearly ideal as any spot outside of the British Isles, where most of our great breeds of fine stock originated. In western Oregon the climate and soil is very similar to that of Britain. Here the "grass grows green" almost the year around and the "trees grow tall," and conditions obtain that are conducive to the development of the highest type of animal life of all kinds, with the exception of fine wool sheep, those finding an ideal habitat in the higher, drier plains of the state lying east of the Cascade mountains.

Oregon Prize Winners.
In proof of this assertion we need only point to the fact that an Oregon herd contains most of the Jerseys that stood in the highest rank in the dairy contest at St. Louis, and that an Oregon herd of shorthorns, not only won first honors at the great show, but repeated the feat at the Lewis and Clark world's fair the following year. Our sheep and goats do not fail to win when brought into competition with either eastern bred or imported stock and their fleeces are unequalled for luster, length of staple and quality of fiber.

Great as are her interests in fruit, lumber, wheat and other things, Oregon is pre-eminently a live stock state, and although in the total value of this asset she leads all other states of the northwest, yet this industry is, comparatively undeveloped and splendid opportunities await the intelligent, persistent undertaker in any branch of this pursuit. According to official figures, the number and value of Oregon's live stock, together with some of their products, at the close of the year 1910 was as follows:

	Number.	Value.
Cattle	673,750	$13,475,000
Dairy cows	175,000	7,000,000
Horses	295,000	32,538,000
Mules	8,670	1,040,400
Sheep	2,401,000	9,604,000
Hogs	324,000	3,888,000
Goats	220,000	880,000
Wool lbs.	20,000,000	4,000,000
Mohair	880,000	264,000
Total valuation		$72,689,400

Range-Bred Horse Noted.
The Oregon range-bred horse has long been noted for his wonderful constitution and endurance as well as his toughness of character. But the Oregon cayuse is passing with the open range, and will soon be a thing of the past. His successor, raised on the ranch, is more aristocratic, retaining his good qualities without the bad ones, and probably averages as high in quality as in any other state.

Our markets for dairy products are practically insatiable, yet undeveloped and growing. A dairy cow famine is imminent. The high price of milk and butter fat has caused dairymen to neglect the raising of heifer calves, and those who will engage extensively and intelligently in the raising and supplying of good cows may demand almost any kind of prices for them the next few years. The coast counties, the great Willamette valley, and the irrigated sections of eastern Oregon offer almost unequalled conditions for the dairy business.

Portland a Livestock Center.
Portland is the only live stock market center on the coast, there being none other west of St. Paul and Denver. The recent erection there of large stock yards and a packing plant is going to greatly improve and augment the business of growing and feeding beef cattle, mutton sheep and hogs by giving a more stable and discriminating market. Largely for lack of this Oregon has, heretofore, shipped from the east 85 per cent of the pork she consumes. This condition will not long continue. Oregon farmers are fast finding that all alfalfa, clover, kaie, rape, peas, barley and wheat, coupled with this salubrious climate, will produce the choicest of pork and as great a profit as in the corn belt.

Oregon ranks sixth among the states of the union as to the number and value of the sheep and second as to the average weight of fleece, viz., eight and one-half pounds. The average weight of fleece in the other leading sheep-growing states varies from five and one-half to seven pounds. The average weight of fleece for the whole United States is 6.8 pounds. While the sheep industry on the range can not be increased, it is not likely to diminish, as most of the range now used by the sheepmen is not land that can be devoted to agricultural purposes. The breeding of pure-bred bucks of the long and medium wool breeds in the Willamette valley for supplying the range breeders presents almost unlimited opportunities. Conditions are ideal for the production of bucks that can not be equalled in the eastern states, and the range men having learned this stand ready to take all that can be produced.

The present year is likely to witness the completion of another railroad across the eastern half of the state. The Oregon Eastern, being built from Vale westward to Dog Mountain, 140 miles, is progressing favorably and railroad men say they will complete the construction for this distance within the year. Dog Mountain is near Bend and it is expected the line will then be extended to a connection with the Southern Pacific Natron-Klamath road now being built.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Cottage Grove Citizens.

When a Cottage Grove citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Cottage Grove resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Mrs. J. H. Shortridge, Cottage Grove, Ore., says: "Since I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills two years ago, I have taken them off and on and they have always benefited me. I was all run down from kidney and bladder trouble and often my back was so weak and lame that I could hardly get around. I had headaches and the kidney secretions annoyed me. After I had taken a number of remedies without benefit, I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and deciding to try them, I procured a supply at Benson's Drug Store. The contents of three boxes improved my condition in every way. I have often told other persons how effective Doan's Kidney Pills are in cases of kidney complaint." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. j30-16

Administrator's Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been duly appointed by the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, administrator of the estate of Eudora Lincoln, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to me at the office of J. E. Young attorney for said estate at his office in Cottage Grove, Oregon, within six months after the date of this notice.
Dated this 9th day of January, 1913.

LESS BOWEL TROUBLE IN COTTAGE GROVE

Cottage Grove people have found out that a SINGLE DOSE of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-i-ka, the German appendicitis remedy, relieves constipation, sour stomach or gas on the stomach INSTANTLY. This simple mixture antiseptizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities and it is surprising how QUICKLY it helps. The New Era Drug Store.

Within a 15 mile circle around IMPERIAL there are now several hundred prosperous farmers raising enormous crops of wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, vegetables, etc. Poultry raising is also highly successful. Three large stock ranches, owning several thousand horses and cattle are also in this circle. IMPERIAL is now the trading point and will soon be the shipping point (the railroads are now building) for the products from thousands of acres surrounding it.
