STATE MONEY ASKED TO AID OREGON FARMERS

Field demonstration work by the Oregon Agricultural College, widening the usefulness of that institution greatly, will be realized to a much larger extent than has hitherto been possible by Senate Bill No. 72 is passed by the legislature. This measure provides for the appropriation of money by the state and counties to carry on cooperative field demonstration work among the farmers themselves.

The bill was drawn by the Central Oregon Development League, in connection with the Oregon Development League and the Oregon State Bankers' Association agricultural committee. It provides for a well organized system of field work, conducted by experts under the direction of the O. A. C.

The demonstrations in agriculture will be given in different parts of the state and the plan is what might be called a system of traveling agricultural schools.

There is found to be need for this work, particularly in the newer sections of the state where settlers are flocking in and taking land. They must be given a start in the proper agricultural methods suited to the country if they are to prosper, and demonstration work by the state college will do this and do it right. The plan of the bill is extremely practical, meaning to place the demonstration work right out among the farmers so they will not have to waste valuable time in visiting some far point. It is thought friends of the agricultural interests of the state will rally to the support of the bill in the legislature and secure its passage.

NEW COURSE GIVEN HOP GROWERS

A new course in hop growing which has been planned because of the growing interest throughout the state in improved methods of handling both the hop plant and the soils on hop fields, will be given at the Oregon Agricultural College next year. It was hoped to begin the work during this short course, but because of the heavy burden of the large number of lecture courses in agronomy, it was decided to wait another year.

Assistance to hop growers will be given in the coming season through cooperative work in cultivation and fertilization of the crop and in the proper handling of the vines. j30pd

WORK MUST BE DONE BY CHILDREN

Not only that, but in showing something that is not the product of his own effort he is practicing deception, cultivating dishonesty and laying the foundation for a life of dishonor and trouble. He may be successful in deceiving others. No one but himself and the members of his own family may ever know that he has cheated, but that is enough. In doing what he knows is not right he loses respect for himself, and that is a long step in the wrong direction. When a person loses respect for himself he soon loses the confidence and respect of others. "To thou self be true, and it follows as the day follows night that to no other man thou canst be false."

Character building is the most important part of the early education of the child, and the greatest value in these industrial contests is along that line—forming in the child habits of industry, economy, system, honesty, self reliance and all of the traits that go to make up the good citizen.

There will be many valuable prizes for the children at the State Fair again next year, but none of them will be worth as much as a clear conscience and the experience gained by raising or making something with which to win the prizes.

Right Soil for Roses.
The rose growers of Portland, organized as the Portland Rose Society, are much interested in the quality of dirt from which their blooms are raised. At a recent meeting Prof. H.
D. Scudder of the Oregon Agricultural College told them about soil character and the ideal soil, discussing its qualities and management.

One Oldfield Dry Kiln, 5000 daily capacity, one 48x14 Kewanee High Pressure Boiler,
