Mrs. H. I. Short entertained the Emanon Club last Thursday afternoon in compliment to her guests, Misses Maude Crane and Catherine Trautner. In a unique puzzle contest Mrs. J. T. Short proved the most adept. In drawing pictures suggested by rhymes Mrs. 'Ernest Bisby won the prize, a doily. Rerfreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served. Members present were Mesdames Richmond, Mackin, Umphrey, Atkinson, Bisby, Allison, Cooper, Cochran, Bede and Short. Mesdames J. T. Short and C. E. Jones were guests.

A marriage license was issued Monday to George L. Godfrey of Springfield and Miss Maggie May Doak of Lorane.

Mesdames H. A. Miller, W. H. Abrams and F. W. Robbins entertained with a unique aeroplane party Friday afternoon at the Robbins residence. Each guest was given a card bearing a pen and ink sketch which in some humorous way referred to the aeroplane party. Attached to each card were a number of slips of paper upon which was written a conundrum from the names of the places to be visited, which the guests were requested to guess. The drawings were the work of Mrs. Robbins and were extremely original. After the contest a dainty two course luncheon was served. Guests were: Mesdames Job, C. M. Shinn, H. J. Shinn, C. Adams, Bede, A. C. Kinter, Anna E. Kinter, Waterhouse, Venske, Powell, Short, Dunton, Kerr, H. Silsby, D. H. Hemenway, Joe Porter, Chambers, Burkholder, Eakin, Monroe, Compton, Nichols, Phillips, Broadbooks, Jury, VanDenburg, J. C. Johnson, Misses Silsby, and Trautner.

Presbyterians Hold Picnic.

Despite the rain the Presbyterians held their picnic Tuesday, Phillips Hall being substituted for the park. After the supper a program was given. Roy Smith for the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Moore for the Methodist Church and Rev. Cobb for the Baptist Church extended a welcome to the new Presbyterian pastor, Rev. R. M. Broadbooks. Elbert Bede also made a short address. Mr. Broadbooks replied very feelingly. The musical part of the program consisted of solos by Misses Ursulla Lockwood and Blanche Veatch, a chorus by Misses Blanche Veatch, Leah Perkins, Dessie Harms, Ursulla Lockwood, Mesdames C. Adams and H. A. Miller and a duet by Miss Leah Perins and Lloyd Stratton. A. C. Kinter ably officiated as master of ceremonies.

Only One of the Kind.

Miss Nellie Hemenway returned last week from the University of Oregon from which she graduated this year and where she took the last year in the school of journalism. When she informed Editor Jenkins of The Register that she was going to follow up her training by work on The Sentinel, he remarked that it was the only real country weekly in the state.

HIT BY BRANCH NEXT DAY AFTER TAKING JOB

A young man named Snyder was slightly bruised up at the U. S. Logging Co.'s camp Saturday afternoon. A falling log hit a tree and a branch of the latter struck Snyder on the side of the face. He was brought to the Schleef hospital in this city. Snyder had only gone to work the day before being hurt.

able to place you. I thought I had you placed a few times, but when it came to a show down you were gone again. Now, just once state fairly and squarely where you stand on any phase of this proposition. Let us know just once where you are."

Mr. Chambers followed this up by offering a dollar to anyone who would get Mr. King to commit himself. Messrs. King and Chambers had numerous passages-at-arms during the evening. Each one of the two expressed the opinion that he did not believe the statements of the other. No one claimed the dollar offered by Mr. Chambers, although when material for the new building was discussed King and the other members of the committee were of the same opinion on every point and it became certain that Cottage Grove brick would be used in the construction.

The mention of material brought forth the question of whether Mr. Chambers of the advisory committee and Director Jones of the school board, both mill men, were to bid for the lumber. Mr. King stated that he did not care if Chambers did get in a little graft by furnishing the lumber, which statement was quickly resented by Mr. Chambers, who stated emphatically that while he expected to bid on the lumber, in case bids were ever asked for by a reputable contractor, he was going to make it a point to see that no matter whether he or the lumber company controlled by Mr. Jones, or someone else, furnished the lumber, it was to go to the lowest bidder. "And I'll tell you another thing," continued Mr. Chambers, "the lumber furnished is going to be up to specifications. This school district is not going to be mulcted out of a cent by any juggling with the specifications, no matter who furnishes the material, and I'll make it a point to see to that myself."

C. M. Shinn urged upon Mr. King that it was time to cut out all boys' play, that the taxpayers of the district were tired of the fussing and squabbling and wanted something done.

Mr. King declared that he was greatly misunderstood by those who opposed him and that when things got straightened out, as they eventually would, they would find that they had misjudged him. "You can't drive me an inch," he declared, but no manner of persuasion was successful in getting him to state when he would call the desired school board meeting, although he found no fault with the architect selected and declared himself ready to go ahead with the building at once.

The date of the school board meeting was finally left to Chairman King and Committeeman Shinn and it is understood that a flag of truce has been raised.

ing the Looney mines Wednesday and retraced his steps to the head of Mule Creek, where he took the trail leading down Rogue River.

In the event Staton's theory is correct, Diamond may emerge from the mountain districts in the vicinity of Grants Pass or may continue his way down the coast to Crescent City, where he could leave the country by boat. Staton tonight went to Grants Pass. From there he said he would strike out over the trail in hope of blocking any attempt that Diamond may make to reach Crescent City.

Local officers today received a message from Grants Pass to the effect that a man answering Diamond's description attempted to board a theatrical special train at that place early Friday morning. The informant said the fellow carried a gun and had a pack of blankets.

We recommend Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets to customers every day, and have yet to hear of one who has not been benefited. We believe them to be without equal.
