A Flour You Can Bank On

When you purchase a sack of ::

Drifted Snow Flour

From your grocer you can rest assured that you have as good a flour as it is possible to mill. A flour that is as clean as modern scouring machines can make—and as wholesome and pure as the finest wheat will produce.

Drifted Snow Flour is sold with a guarantee. If you are not satisfied with the baking results you obtain from this flour, your grocer will pay you back the full price for the whole sack and the flour you have used will cost you nothing. It takes good flour to live up to such a guarantee—and Drifted Snow has always made good.

There is satisfaction in every sack.

ARRIVES FEW YEARS AGO FROM SWITZERLAND; MAKES FORTUNE

year above that he had at the beginning. Mr. Scharen is a native of Missouri and doesn't have to be shown that Lane county is a good place to live.

Albert Ziniker lives a quarter of a mile east of Creswell and is a native of Switzerland. He hit Creswell 28 years ago with 10 cents in his pockets which he spent for oranges. Now he has 118 acres of land of which 50 acres are in a high state of cultivation. He is out of debt, his land is well stocked and he has money in the bank, a nice home and other buildings.

He milks nine cows—Holstein and Jersey mixed—which average him over $75 to the cow per year. He sells about $300 per year of hogs; 150 White Leghorn hens average over $1 per day in eggs. From the 50 acres he sells over $1500 per year.

Borrowed $90 to Start With.

El Ziniker, also a native of Switzerland, lives five miles west of Creswell and is known as "The Onion King." From three and a half acres of onions he clears an average of $1200 a year—two acres of bearing prunes clear him $300 an acre a year. He has 120 acres of land of which 20 are in cultivation. He has been on the place 20 years and has a fine family of 10 children, an elegant home, some city property, a substantial bank account and no debts. For his start it might not be amiss to say he borrowed $90 of his brother Alfred.

In the vicinity of Creswell is a splendid place to live. The soil is fine, schools and church facilities are first class, markets are good and are getting better as is shown by the cannery, the building of which is completed and machinery for this year's run being installed. As fine people live in the town and country as one could wish to find.

Creswell is called the Orchard City from the many hundreds of acres of fine orchards surrounding it, but of the orchards and berries I hope to write later. I found farm land priced very reasonable in that vicinity.

To give an idea as to what can be produced in that vicinity I will say that at the state fair last year John Lindsey, who lives one mile east of Creswell, took the first premium on the largest squash and on the six largest beets and second premium on potatoes and onions. He raised over 30 tons of kale to the acre.

In conclusion I wish to say that I am not in the real estate business, and am employed by no one save The Register. These articles cost no one a cent but The Register. The sole object is to show what is being done by farmers in different parts of Lane county so that others may perhaps read and profit from the experience of men who have made good.

Sentinel Helps Bring Him.

Rev. R. M. Broadbent paid The Sentinel a pretty compliment at the picnic Tuesday when he said the progressiveness of the city as reflected in The Sentinel had a great deal to do in impressing him so favorably with Cottage Grove that he decided to become a resident without the preliminary of visiting the city first.

What do you want, anyway? A Sentinel want ad. will for you.

Too Good to Keep.
An exchange which tried to put one over on The Sentinel a couple weeks ago perpetrated such a joke on itself that The Sentinel can no longer keep it quiet. The "wise one" said:

"Everything you can mention in The Sentinel—and a good many things which had just as well not be mentioned, for instance: Mrs. D. G. Allison of Roseburg is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson. This will indeed be news to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, but Mr. and Mrs. Hope Piester will wonder when Mr. and Mrs. Johnson adopted their daughter."

The fact of the matter is that Mrs. D. G. Allison is the daughter of none of these parents. She is a daughter of Mark Jones. Mrs. Hershel A. Allison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Piester. The "wise one" will kindly be more careful about initials in the future.
