To Albany as Shown in the Following Plat :

They have sold more real estate in the past two years than any two firms in the Willamette valley, and have land in quantities to suit any and all chasers.

Albany is the most thriving and rapidly improving city in the valley and those desiring to invest here can secure bargains, as many are now doing daily.

They have a very large list of fine Linn county farms for sale in both large and small tracts. They also have a large number of
