O. & C. R. R. TIME-TABLE.

Table with columns for NORTH BOUND, SOUTH BOUND, and LEBANON BIANCIL, listing arrival and departure times for various routes.

JOINTS ABOUT TOWN.

Leap year party Jan. 13. Ask Winn for an accident policy in the Travelers'. Good skating is reported on the ponds adjoining the city.

A number of good shows will visit Albany this month. Mrs. Reason McConnell is spending a few days at Yaquina. The thermometer registers 15 degrees above zero these mornings.

The postoffice building is being repaired and repainted on the inside. McKanlass' minstrels furnished some excellent music on the street yesterday.

Extra copies of the New Year's Herald can be had at this office at 10c each. The second and fourth prizes, Nos. 1199 and 555, still remain unclaimed for at F. M. French's.

The delayed north-bound O. & C. passenger train passed through this city at 7:30 last evening. The Royce and Lansing Musical Comedy Co. and Swiss Bell Ringers will appear in this city on Jan. 16th and 17th.

Curran & Monteith sold yesterday to S. W. Crowler lots 3 and 4 in block 128, Hackleman's second addition, owned by R. S. Strahan, consideration $500.

Mrs. Leona Burmester, daughter of Henry Burmester, of Prineville, is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Houk, in this city.

The Rev. J. Taylor will hold divine services in St. Peter's Episcopal church next Sunday, January 8th, morning and evening. All are invited to attend.

The railroad commissioners, who have been in session in Salem, were in the city last evening, the session having adjourned and each being on his way home.

Saturday night will be Prof. Miliken's last night of dancing school. All holding tickets should be present. Those not holding tickets will be charged 75c for the evening.

Of the immense stock of goods Fortniller & Co. received from the East, there remains a few red, carpet and plush rockers, which they will sell at a small profit so as to reduce their stock before taking invoice.

It is comparatively a rare thing for us to be able to announce an entertainment which we honestly feel will be in no sense a disappointment to our people. Such we are confident will be given by the Royce & Lansing minstrels Jan. 16 and 17.

Now is the time to subscribe for newspapers and magazines for 1888. F. L. Kenton continues to receive subscriptions for all the leading periodicals, saving subscribers the trouble, risk and expense of sending direct to publishers. Orders left at the store of Kenton & Chase will receive prompt and careful attention.

The McKanlass Company. This genuine colored company of specialists gave a performance last night to a fair sized audience. The entertainment was a pleasant relief from the average minstrel performance. Each member of the company, of which Prof. McKanlass is, of course, the principal, is an artist. The banjo, violin and cornet playing of Mr. McKanlass certainly entitles him to the championship among colored musicians.

Bad News from the Coquille. Information has been received that Coquille river has deflected its current at the mouth so as to change its channel from the government jetty and endanger shipping, and Congressman Hermann has notified, in person, the engineer department, and has urged the necessity for increased estimates for additional improvement. Gen. Duane at once communicated with the local engineers in Oregon for a detailed report.

A sweet item. Genuine New Orleans molasses, extra quality maple syrup, white sugar drops, choice honey, and a large stock of the most choice confectionery. Kenton & Chase, between the opera house and post-office.

The finest out. Mr. Bink has received the finest assortment of wicker rocking chairs to be found in the city. If you don't like them, call in and see for yourself.

BILLS BY HERMANN.

A List of Measures to be Introduced by Oregon's Congressmen. Representative Hermann will introduce in the house a number of bills, as follows: Appropriating $1,333,000 for continuing improvements at the mouth of the Columbia river; $750,000 for work on the canal and locks at the Cascades; $250,000 for improvements at Yaquina bay; $10,000 for the improvement of the Umpqua river; $50,000 for beginning construction of a boat railway around obstructions to navigation at The Dalles and Celilo falls in the Columbia river.

To authorize the Dalles city to construct a bridge across the Columbia river. To authorize the Columbia bridge company to build a bridge across the Columbia between Oregon and Washington territory. Establishing a lighthouse at the mouth of the Coquille. Appropriating $40,000 for payment to Indian war claims.

To establish a life-saving station at Yaquina bay. Asking $20,000 for improving the wagon road between Rogue river valley and Fort Klamath. To establish a lighthouse at the mouth of the Umpqua river. Forfeiting the land grant of the Northern Pacific railroad between Wallula and Portland.

Appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Salem. To establish a land district to be known as the Harney land district. Appropriating $500,000 for a public building at Portland. Bills providing for settlement of Indian war claims, and many private bills and memorials.

A Bore. It is understood that a couple of gentlemen are in Salem from the East, talking up the idea of going around and boring holes in the ground, hunting for oil, coal, natural gas, or anything else that is liable to be hid away down in the bowels of the earth. They are from Ohio, in some parts of which state all you've got to do is to take a long auger and bore a hole in the ground and attach a supply pipe to it, and you have enough natural gas to run all the machinery and cook all the grub and toast all the shins in the school district, with the thermometer clear down in the cellar. The horse editor of this great family newspaper will assure these gentlemen that there is plenty of "natural gas" in this region, but it is not the kind they bore for. All you've got to do to find the kind referred to is to start in to tell what a cold winter there was in Oregon away back in 1839, and how the snow was seven feet deep on a dead level, and nothing to eat but buffalo hides, and you've got your "natural gas" in quantities to suit. Mr. Ladd, a poor Portland laboring man, struggling hard against the adversities of a cold world, to el a well near East Portland, which was twenty-one thousand feet deep the last Billy Dugan heard from it, and was getting along well; but if he struck any natural gas or anything else worthy of particular mention the fact has not yet been advertised. They are boring for gas in some Washington Territory towns, but the horse editor does not wish to risk his reputation as a prophet by arguing success for them. But these men who come to see what there is under Salem should be encouraged. The people in Ohio used to be so foolish as to make fun of a traveling evangelist, now a multi-millionaire, and has his pic every day dinner, and butters on both sides of his bread, while some people who laughed at him sleep under the bridge and board around. This goes to prove that no one should laugh at gas outside of a dentist's office. It has lately been discovered that the whole of Curry county, in the southwest corner of this state, rests on one vast coal bed, and who knows what is in the ground unless he bores for it? The proper thing is, if you don't see what you want, just bore for it.—Salem Statesman.

Attorneys. The annual business meeting of the Linn Co. Bible Society will be held at 6:30 P. M. on Saturday evening in Dr. Gray's office. On Sunday evening there will be union services and a collection in aid of the funds of the society in the United Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Rev. P. C. Hetzler, state agent, will present the clames of the Society.

Some people worship ideas, some worship filthy lucre, some worship at the shrine of beauty, and some are wrapped in self, but those who first reach the topmost rung in the ladder of success and social happiness are those who worship the opportunity to secure choice bargains at a money saving price and have the good sense to take advantage of it when it presents itself.
