JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN. When the water pipes are frozen, one straightway to the plumber goes...

More coal is being used in Albany this winter than ever before. This is fine weather for the ice man and the wood and coal dealer.

Entire change of programme tonight by the Royce & Lansing Co. Beware of slippery places. Get a Traveler's accident policy of Winn.

Before you go skating have Winn write you an accident policy in the Traveler's.

The "Beautiful Willamette" is gorged with ice for the first time in thirteen years.

Boston brown bread is among the cold weather luxuries at Parker Bros. bakery.

Benj. Knight, a little son of John Knight, of Salem, was killed by a collision on a toboggan slide Saturday.

Best seats only 50c for the Royce & Lansing Co. Get them reserved at Blackman's without extra charge.

Don't fail to hear Royce & Lansing in their new musical comedy, "The Blizzard" to-night. Only 25 and 50 cents admission.

Simon Seitenbach, formerly city treasurer of Albany, now of the firm of Monteith & Seitenbach in Spokane Falls, is in the city.

The immense stock of boots and shoes at A. B. McLwain's is being slaughtered at twenty-five per cent. discount on each and every dollar's worth sold.

Dr. Gunderson's office is at present at the corner of Baker and Third street, where he is prepared to treat all kind of diseases to which male and female is subject. Catarrh treated successfully.

Messrs. Franklin & Co. have opened in connection with their second hand store a first-class tin shop, and will hereafter be in the field for contracts and all other work usually connected with the business.

Remember to-night is the last appearance of Royce & Lansing Co. They gave excellent satisfaction last evening, and all who wish to enjoy a thoroughly pleasing and refined entertainment should go to-night.

The Willamette Packing Co.'s store is one of the most attractive in the city. Its proprietors keep on sale the fine fruits canned by the company during the past season, and also a choice stock of family groceries.

There was a general scurrying for water last evening after the city water supply was shut off. In some instances it was carried for several blocks. The O. & C. engines have also been experiencing much trouble in procuring their regular water supply.

All who attended the Royce & Lansing entertainment last evening are high in its praise, as one of the brightest, cleanest and most amusing ever given in the city. They appear to-night in their new musical comedy, "The Blizzard." Only 25 and 50 cents to-night.

The Pyke comic opera company will positively appear in this city on January 25th and 26th in two of their latest successes, "Black Mantle" and "Nanon," which plays were produced to packed houses in Portland. The company is even stronger than when last in Albany and the public can expect a great treat.

Now is the time to subscribe for newspapers and magazines for 1888. F. L. Kenton continues to receive subscriptions for all the leading periodicals, saving subscribers the trouble, risk and expense of sending direct to publishers. Orders left at the store of Kenton & Chase will receive prompt and careful attention.

When the water power is frozen up mills and factories can shut down but a newspaper cannot. The Herald has been compelled to employ two Chinese laborers at $1.50 per hour to turn our big cylinder press at the witching hour of 3 o'clock each morning. Many white men want the job they can have it by calling at the business office of the Herald.

No Humbug About This. It is a straight business proposition, easily comprehended and worth giving attention to, that the entire stock of boots and shoes at A. B. McLwain's is now offered at twenty-five per cent. discount. This sale is positive, as the entire assortment is offered without reserve at this slaughter in prices.

THE WILLAMETTE BLOCKED.

The River at this City Gorged with Ice—Coldest Weather for Many Years.

Navigation on the Willamette has been suspended for several days on account of the ice. Yesterday morning the large quantities of floating ice which had been drifting down the river began to accumulate opposite this city, and before noon the river was completely gorged to a point a half mile above the city.

The huge mass of ice kept packing in more solidly all day, causing the water in the river to gradually rise and back up above the gorge. The ferry-boat was caught in the ice on the opposite side of the river, and the pressure of the moving mass was so great that the ropes had to be cut to prevent it from breaking its cable. Several small boats along the river were crushed, and the boat-house of J. G. Crawford and Geo. L. Blackman was turned upon end on the bank.

The ice is piled up several feet high, and is the worst gorge experienced this far up the Willamette for many years. It is the first time since 1875 that the river has been closed over at Albany. During that winter the river was frozen over so that it was almost passable for footmen, one man, Levi Backus, having crossed over upon the ice by using a board.

The thermometer has registered as reported by John Briggs, U. S. signal service observer, one degree above zero for the past three nights. Last evening the weather was somewhat moderated, and it began snowing again.

THE NELSON BENNETT AFFAIR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:

I wish to call your attention to the way Nelson Bennett does business. I had a check for $21 for board of one of his sub-contractors, whom I trusted, with the understanding that Mr. Bennett would pay me. I presented my check several times, but was always told that they were not ready to settle at the time. The other day I went there and was told that Bennett had settled up with Brown, the sub-contractor, and I could get nothing. That if I wanted my money I should have gone there—that is, I should have gone to his headquarters at West Scio and stayed there for a month or six weeks, in order to be there so I could get my money, instead of Bennett notifying me when he intended to make a settlement, or taking the amount of my check, as he might have done, at one of the various times it was presented to him and retaining the amount for me.

Mr. Bennett is trying to work up sympathy for himself and at the same time seems to be standing in with the sub-contractors to beat the farmers around the country in every possible way. I am not the only one; nearly every one who has had any dealings with Bennett has the same story to tell.

H. W. PARKER.

STANTON, Jan. 14, 1888.

The Oregon Pacific suit.

The Oregonian of the 15th inst. says: "Yesterday, in the case of Nelson Bennett vs. the Oregon Pacific railroad, to recover $551,815 for breach of contract, damages, etc., Judge Shattuck ordered Second Vice-President Wallis Nash, of the defendant corporation, to appear January 24 and show cause why he order heretofore made, quashing service, should not be set aside. Sheriff Jordan served the papers on Mr. Nash at the Holton house one night, and Nash, a few days later, asked Judge Shattuck to quash the service, on the ground that he was not the legal representative of the company in this state, and that the difficulty between the plaintiff and defendant did not occur in this county. Since then it has been ascertained that the president and first vice-president are absent from the state, and counsel for plaintiff argued before Judge Shattuck yesterday that, owing to this fact, Mr. Nash is the legal representative of the company in Oregon.

The Girls in the Lead.

"Over 80 per cent. of the High school graduates of the United States are girls," says an exchange. This proportion does not hold good in the Portland High school says the Oregonian which is credited with 276 graduates since it opened in 1875. Of this number 280, or 85.2 per cent. had three girls. The class of 1876 had three girls and eight boys; 1877 four girls and five boys, and 1878 six girls and seven boys. With these three exceptions the majority of graduates have been girls every year. The class of 1882 had thirty, of whom twenty-one were girls, 1885 forty-two, thirty-two being girls, 1887 twenty-six, of whom nineteen were girls. The boys had better "brace up."

The Water Supply shut off.

The ice gorge in the Santiam canal, which caused the water to overflow the fields above this city, has necessitated the shutting off of the water at the head of the canal. This of course has caused all the mills and factories of the city which depend upon water for motive power, to shut down. The freeze has so decreased the power at the water works that the pumps will no longer work, and the supply was shut off yesterday. This leaves Albany to depend upon the wells of the city for water, an occurrence which has not been experienced before for many years.

Convention and Concert.

The R. B. George convention and concert company, who are now giving a successful series of concerts in Corvallis, will be in Albany on Saturday, January 21, to convene a musical convention. They are well qualified and successful teachers of the divine art.

A PECULIAR DECISION.

One of our leading attorneys furnishes the following unique record of the work of the supreme court of Georgia:

Stevens vs. State, indictment for simple larceny, Buckley, C. J. 1. In the house, hog bones; in the garden, hog hair; in the trails, hog meat, buried in the earth; refusal of the occupant of the premises to permit a search without a legal warrant; his abrupt departure from home while the warrant was being procured; his flight on retreat to a point more than fifty miles distant; and his continuous absence until arrested and brought back for trial, are strongly suggestive of a suspicious interest on his part with some hog or other. The jury were of the opinion in the indictment, and as he was a near neighbor to that hog, and as it disappeared about that time, and its owner went on search of it as a stolen hog, and as the hair and meat found buried in the garden looked like the hair and meat of that hog, it is highly probable that the jury were not mistaken.

2. Complaint is made that a witness was allowed to testify that the owner was hunting for the animal "as a stolen hog;" and so he went to look in a dwelling house, or under the ground in a garden, for a strayed hog, and such were the places searched. How the witness ascertained that the owner regarded it as stolen, whether from acts alone, or from declarations and acts together, does not appear; but if the prisoner or his counsel had wanted to learn this, the witness ought to have been interrogated on the sources of his knowledge. He testified as if he knew the fact somehow, and if he knew it he could state it as explanatory of the mode and purpose of the search. He was present at the search, and assisted in conducting it on the owner's behalf. Moreover, the prisoner himself was present, and was with the owner, when the investigation began, and when steps were taken to enter upon the search with the legal authority. He could have had no doubt that the owner was looking for stolen property. Any man who enters his park may expect the late departed hog to be hunted for as stolen, if it is hunted for at all on his premises. Judgment affirmed.

Convocational services.

The convocational services to be held in the Episcopal church will begin with evening service on Tuesday, January 17, and continue through the 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st insts. The following papers will be read during the services: 1—The place of the holy scriptures in the services, including the Psalter, by the Rev. John W. Sherwood. 2—Morning prayer, Rev. Jesse C. Taylor. 3—The creeds, Rev. A. L. Parker. 4—The Ecclesiastical year calendar, Rev. F. N. Post. 5th—The Litany, Rev. Wm. S. Short. 6th—Office of the holy communion, Rev. Geo. W. Ford. 7—The hymnal or church music, Rt. Rev. Wistar B. Morris, D. D. On Sunday, the 22d inst., the rite of confirmation will be administered by Bishop Morris.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. The morning services will be held at 11 o'clock; evening services at 7:30 o'clock.

Last Night's Entertainment.

The performance of the Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Co. and Swiss Bell Ringers at the opera house last night was one of merit. Notwithstanding the cold an audience of about three hundred was present, who were delighted from the opening overture to the close. Each member of the company is an artist. Ray L. Royce in the impersonation of some dozen different characters was both droll and entertaining. Web Lansing in his instrumental eccentricities, playing on seven different instruments at once, fairly took the audience by storm. Olaf Moen won a hearty applause on his violin solo, Fifth Air De Berot. Miss Lizzie Royce is a charming little actress and a sweet singer as well. Miss Nellie Hoskins and Miss Royce each play several different instruments, and were repeatedly encouraged. The company appears to-night in an entire change of programme.

A Cold Day for Tramps.

Six drunks were up yesterday before his honor Recorder Henton, one sorry looking, indolent fellow was discharged, one paid his fine of $5.00, and the others, who were vagrants, were given three days in the city jail, and were ordered to be put to work.
