Peace on Earth
Awaits that countless army of martyrs, whose ranks are constantly recruited from the victims of nervousness and nervous diseases. The price of the boon is a systematic course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest and most glorious of tonic nervines, sweetened with reasonable persistence. Easier, pleasanter and safer than to wash the vitualizing department with pseudo-tonics, alcoholic or the reverse, beef extracts, nerve foods, narcotics, sedatives and poisons in disguise. "Tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," is the providential recipient of weak nerves, and this glorious franchise being usually the consequence of some digestive and increased vigor, the great stomachic which insures both is productive also of repose at the required time. Not unrefreshed awakens the individual who uses it, but vigorous, clear headed and tranquil. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney troubles, constipation and biliousness.

What am I to Do?
The symptoms of biliousness are un happily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time, if it is not white and furled, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom of the two many alternate. There are often hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

Mothers and nurses may give Simmons' Liver Regulator to children and to the most delicate home bound invalid with the utmost confidence in its safety and efficacy. It saves no end of doctors' bills. Always keep it in the house, for it is a household remedy, and there are many ailments that the Regulator will cure. It is safe to take in any condition of the system. No fear from exposure after taking his medicine.

OFFICIOUS YOUNG PAPAS.

How One of Them Received a Well-deserved Rebuke.

The St. Louis Critic relates the following true story of one of the most effective rebukes that mild and lovely woman ever administered to vain and lordly man: Two young matrons were in a horse car.

"Well," said one of them, "I wish Charley wouldn't act as if he thought that—that because it is my first baby I didn't know how to take care of it. He never interfered so with anything before. But now, when he is starting off in the morning, he begins: 'I wouldn't take baby out if it turns cold; and don't put that wool veil over her eyes again; and you had better try the water in the bathtub before you put her in,' and so on and so on." "Yes I know rejoined the elder lady philosophically, they all do so till the novelty wears off. To hear the rooster crow one would think it was he who was doing the incubating. I stood it as long as I could with it cold, but one day when he was struggling into his overcoat and leaving numberless charges about baby's food, and flannels, and medicine, and wrappings, I said very sweetly and dutifully: 'You may rest easy dear, while you are in town at your business. I will take just as good care of baby as though she were my own child.' 'Your own child?' he replied, gaspingly. He looked at me a moment, then he saw the point. He kissed me good-bye in silence and then went off, but he never tendered me any gratuitous advice on that subject.

A COMPRESSED AIR TALE.
The Adventures of a Newspaper Reporter in a Church Organ Pipe.

N. Y. Press.
A good story was told at the recent dinner of the Stylus Club about the narrow escape from death of a well-known member of the New York press in St. Andrew's Church this city. The gentleman in question, who, by the way, is quite a celebrated organist himself (pipe organ, not hand organ) was wandering through the organ loft of St. Andrew's Church when he slipped and fell into the diaphanous pipe of the huge instrument. He went down feet foremost into the cone of the pipe until he was firmly wedged.

The more he struggled the tighter he wedged himself, and, being about twelve feet from the top of the pipe, the air soon began to give out, and he became frightened at the idea of dying in the prison where accident had lodged him. His frantic shouts for help did no good.

After spending a night in this dangerous and dismal hole, and having in his struggles stripped off his coat, he wound it about his waist, so that no air could escape from below. Soon he heard the sonorous tones of the organ, and to the welcome and inspiring strains of

"Arise, my soul, arise,
Shake off thy guilty fears!"

He ascended the pipe until he reached the top with his hands. Then he knew that air had been pumped in below him, and that by gradual compression of the air he had been forced up as through a pneumatic tube. As he drew himself out of the pipe he gave one hearty and fervent shout "Saved!" which rang above the tones of the organ and nearly frightened the organist to death.

As none of the gentlemen who heard the recital of this sublime narrative can attest upon their oath that it is a prevarication, they are obliged to let it go down to posterity as a true story.

GENERAL NEWS.

Political Gossip Concerning the Presidential Nomination.

THE WRITER "NASBY" DEAD.

Favorable Action for the Admission of the Territories—Election in Wisconsin—A $450,000 Fire.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A Washington special to the Times says: "Wm. Walter Phelps is quoted as saying to a Southern man that it was altogether probable that Senator Hiscock, of New York, would become a candidate of Blaine and that he would go into the national convention with New York, New Jersey, and all other Eastern and Middle states, except Connecticut, behind him. This report has made Hiscock an important factor in politics. It looks, however, as if the result of the publication of Blaine's letter would be to encourage all aspirants, for the presidency to make heroic efforts to enlarge their respective followings in the national convention, and then perhaps under the inspiration of a Kansas and California hurrah, break for Blaine and nominate him by acclamation on the first ballot. All his friends agree that he would not refuse the nomination under these circumstances.

Admission of Territories.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—At a meeting of the house committee on territories today, adverse reports were made upon bills of Baker and Alford, dividing Dakota on the east and west line and admitting the southern half to statehood. The sub-committee approved of an omnibus bill providing for the admission to statehood of Dakota, Montana, Washington and New Mexico.

Republican Victory in Wisconsin.

Always in Luck.

The old saying "it is better to be born lucky than rich," finds a literal application in the case of the beautiful English woman Mrs. Langtry. She has settled in California, and invested in land in Nevada. It is now said that some two months ago the contractors in boring an artesian well for Mrs. Langtry, the actress, near the foot of the mountain where the North Carson mine is situated, came on a formation of rock which lay between the clay walls. This formation was so hard that the drill bounded up, and it required seven feet of drilling to penetrate and reach the under clay. When the debris of the rock came to the surface it attracted the attention of the borers. A few ounces of the rock was taken to the Bullion and Exchange bank, where it was assayed. The assay was $510 a ton of rich silver ore. Since then experts have been making an examination seeking to trace the ledge to its croppings and determine the character of the enclosing walls. Discoveries last week seem to show that the ledge runs all the way from 7 to 120 feet thick. The excitement over the discovery is now great, and it is probable that much of the vein runs through Mrs. Langtry's land. She bored for water and struck silver.
