Meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

STATE CONVENTION ON APRIL 11.

Newsy Items from the State Capital and Throughout the State—Dr. Carpenter Dying.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.

PORTLAND, Feb. 23.—The republican state central committee met to-day, and every county was represented except Clatsop. There were fourteen proxies. Portland was finally selected as the place to hold the next state convention, and the date was fixed at April 11. The appointments were fixed as follows: One delegate for every 150 votes cast for Einger Hermann, one delegate for every fraction over 75 votes, and one delegate at large from each county. This will give the convention 230 delegates. The committee recommends the holding of the primaries on March 31, and of county conventions on April 4.

Dr. Carpenter III.

SALEM, Feb. 23.—Dr. H. Carpenter, ex-superintendent of the asylum, who has been seriously ill for some time, is not expected to live till morning.

A Robber in Limbo.

SALEM, Feb. 23.—"Nic" Reynolds, who robbed his room-mate of a watch and $7 was to-day bound over in $300.

Death of William Humphrey.

ROSEBURG, Feb. 23.—William I. Humphrey, a banker of this city, died this morning of congestion of the stomach, aged 36 years. A special train will bear his remains to Eugene to-morrow, where the funeral will occur.

"Both Heads Up! One Winner!"

A sudden surprise sometimes upsets the best calculated department. They are telling in Wall street this week how Russell Sage was doing countervail in the Forty-second Street Presbyterian Church, where he goes to listen to the Rev. Dr. Paxton's sermons, and usually finds them lively enough to keep him awake. Sage is an admirer of Paxton, and bought five pews in the church two years ago, becoming their owner outright instead of on rental. Cynics said that he meant to begin them and then sell out at an advance, but that is a cruel distortion of the millionaire's personal and religious interest in his pastor. Sage has since sold one of them to Jay Gould, but not at a profit. Well, the new anecdote goes that Sage slumbered at the bedside of his own pew. A deacon came along with the contribution plate and nudged him lightly with his hand. Sage, who was fast asleep, opened his eyes, saw a big round silver dollar lying on the plate, and was at once reminded of the matching for dollars that is his daily sport with fellow financiers at his office. Sage is a fair successor of the late actor John T. Raymond in his diversion. In strictly he drew a dollar from his pocket and tossed it down on the plate.

"Both heads up! I'm winner!"

And he reached out for the coin. But the alert deacon covered the money with his disengaged hand and whispered: "What's the matter Russell?" That completed the awakening of Sage, and it is actually asserted that he blushed in his confusion, although that point in the story is regarded by his Wall street acquaintances as the most improbable feature of it.

ALBANY PRAIRIE ITEMS.

ALBANY PRAIRIE, Feb. 23. Harmony grange conferred the third and fourth degrees on another class of nine the 17th inst. The weather had been very bad the day before the meeting, but there was quite a crowd out. After dinner R. A. Irvine and M. H. Wilds instructed the class; we had good music furnished by members from No. 10 Tangent, Sheild and Harmony. Several of the brothers responded with good suggestions. Among them some of the brothers that had just taken the degrees. Harmony is ahead of the other granges this winter; it has taken in more members than any other grange. The farmers are waiting patiently for the rain to cease, so they can sow their grain. They are looking for an early spring.

The Dunkards will have a protracted meeting this week which will last two weeks or more.

THE WOOL TRADE.

Why Australians Want the Duty Taken Off.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Interviews in this morning's Tribune indicate that another interest is striving for the introduction of free wool. Four companies here are interested in the carrying trade between this port and Australian ports wholly by sea. A member of one of these firms tells the Tribune: "The most discouraging feature of the trade is that there is no home trade for returning vessels beyond three or four cargoes of wool a year. If we could import Australian wool, and could have a home trade equal to the outgoing one, we could make our round charters much cheaper and outboard rates of freight lower, and could soon take a fair share of the trade."

The Commercial Bulletin, reviewing the exports and imports in 1887, sums up the wool statistics as follows: There was a large decrease in the imports of wool, of which only 195,000,000 pounds came in, against 131,000,000 pounds in the previous year, but considerably less of the wool imported and afterward sent abroad to find a market. In 1886 over 10,000,000 pounds of foreign wool was thus exported, and in 1887 less than 5,000,000 pounds. The imports of woolen goods amounted to $45,065,986, against $43,995,641 in the previous year, the large increase appearing in dress goods, woolen cloths and rags, shoddy and waste, while imports of the year declined more than 2,000,000 pounds and imports of carpets about 140,000 square yards.

FOR A NATIONAL PARK.

How the Crater Lake Park Matter Now Stands in Congress.

Mr. W. G. Steel is in receipt of a letter, bearing date of the 14th, from Senator Dolph, to whom he wrote concerning the creation of Crater lake and surroundings into a national park. Senator Dolph in substance answers:

The lands embraced in the proposed district have been temporarily withdrawn from sale. A majority of the committee on public lands is opposed to creating any more national parks, and there is no possibility of securing the passage of the bill at the present session of congress. Senator Dolph has, however, with the committee's consent, reported a bill granting the lands to the state for the purpose of a park only, and although there is doubt as to whether it will pass the house, the effect of the measure will be favorable to the general proposition.

The bill provides that the tract of land embracing townships 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 S., R. 5 and 6 E., W. M., within which is situated Crater lake, be granted to the state of Oregon for the purposes of a public park upon condition that the grant be accepted within three years. The state shall never permit the growing timber upon the tract to be removed except what may be necessary for the construction of roadways and buildings for the accommodation of visitors and for firewood. Lessees of portions of ground for hotels, etc., may be granted for terms not to exceed fifteen years, and income thus derived shall be expended in improving the park.

Senator Dolph has promised to give the entire matter his most careful consideration, and it is probable that his efforts will ultimately be attended by success.

Return of the McKanlass Company.

The public will have reason to be pleased to hear that this favorably known company of musicians will return to this city and give a performance on Saturday evening next. Their performance here last December was a clean and enjoyable one. The professor enjoys the distinction of being the only colored graduate from the Cincinnati college of music, as well as the only colored professor of music ever in the Cincinnati public schools. As a student, he was earnest and painstaking, having a mark of nine in a maximum of ten. For two years Professor McKanlass studied in Leipzig, giving his attention to violin, theory, harmony and composition. The professor's traveling represents sixteen years of his life, and during that time he has visited England, France and Australia. His musical specialties are new and original, his feat of playing two cornets at once, and also that of playing on eight different instruments at one and the same time, being original with him. Taken all in all, the professor is certainly a musical genius, one who combines a natural ear for music with many years of hard study. His banjo playing is of such high order that he is justly called the king banjoist, while his handling of the violin has earned him the title of the "Negro Ole Bull." His colored specialty company has been organized for three years, and gives a first-class entertainment.

Peace on Earth

Awaits that countless army of martyrs, whose ranks are constantly recruited from the victims of nervousness and nervous diseases. The price of the boon is a systematic course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest and most genial of tonic nervines, pursued with reasonable persistence. Easier, pleasanter and safer than to swash the victim's department with pseudo-tonics, alcoholic or the reverse, beef extracts, nerve foods, narcotics, sedatives and poisons in disguise. "Tired Nature's sweet repose, balmy sleep," is the providential recipient of weak nerves, and this glorious franchise being usually the consequences of sound digestion and increased vigor, the great stomachic which insures both is produced also of repose at night. Not unrefreshed awakens the individual who uses it, but vigorous, clear headed and tranquil. Use the Bitters also in cases of ague, rheumatism, indigestion, constipation, and biliousness.

GENERAL NEWS:

St. Louis Gets the National Democratic Convention.

THE DATE CHANGED TO JUNE 5.

Tons of Corn and Sugar to Feed the Russian Soldiers—The Fisheries Treaty Likely to be Defeated.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The national democratic committee met this morning in secret session to continue balloting for selection of city in which the democratic convention shall be held. Before opening the session there was a rumor circulating in the hall that an effort would be made to reconsider the vote by which the 5th of July was agreed to as the date for the convention. Scott moved that pending business be suspended so that a motion might be made to reconsider the vote by which the 3d of July was decided upon as the date for holding the convention. This was lost. The first ballot resulted for San Francisco, 17; Chicago, 16; St. Louis, 13; and New York, 1. A later dispatch says that St. Louis was selected as the place for holding the democratic convention, the vote being unanimous. The second motion to reconsider the vote by which the 5th of July was selected as the date for holding the convention prevailed, and the date was changed to the 5th of July.

MILLIONS OF BISCUITS.

Tons of Corn and Sugar to Feed Russian Soldiers.

WARSAW, Feb. 23.—Large quantities of biscuits are being manufactured at Dubocak, a railway depot between Voloczak and Odessa. They are to contain 10,000,000 pounds of corn and 7,000,000 pounds of sugar, which it is impossible to forward, because troops are using the transport service.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION

An Interview with Senator Frye Concerning It.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Tribune this morning prints an interview with Senator Frye in regard to the fisheries treaty. The Maine senator criticizes the treaty severely. He says: "New privileges have been surrendered, new ex-tensions have been introduced, and our fishermen's necessities juggled with." The Tribune says in view of the fact that Frye's judgment in all matters relating to the fisheries is paramount with his colleague in the senate, it is not too much to say that the fate of the treaty can be foreseen. It will be rejected by an overwhelming vote. The only question is how large a majority it will be beaten by.

GRANT'S OLD COACHMAN.

Now an Object of Charity in the City of Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 21.—In the rear of 133 Macomb street in an old frame shanty lives Gen. U. S. Grant's old coachman, the only man who could handle the old warrior's horses to his perfect satisfaction, and the only coachman Gen. Grant ever had with whom Mrs. Grant dare ride behind the thoroughbreds. The old man was once well to do. He owned considerable city property, paid taxes and was interested in two manufacturing concerns. From exposure on battle field and from age he was compelled to sell out his investments, expended his all for medicines and now he is, as he himself says, a county charge, a pauper, and a paralytic. The old man's name is John Fler, and he is in possession of autograph letters from Gen. Grant, Gen. Rawlins and others high in public life at one time, testifying to his honesty, etc. He was originally a private and later a musician in the Mexican war, and later in the war of the Rebellion. He met Grant in the former war. He claims that he was with Grant when Lee surrendered to him at Appomattox, and that Lee shed tears on that occasion. Fler's wife nursed Mrs. Grant through a trying sickness in 1865.

Fler was too patriotic to apply for a pension while he could have got one then being in no need of aid. When he lost his property he applied, but in the meantime the two surgeons who doctored him while in the army died, and he could not establish his claim to the satisfaction of Commissioner Black. Fler and wife have eleven children, two of the youngest living at home and doing what they can to support their parents. The city poor commission is helping them some. Fler is now 70 years old and the tears roll down his cheeks while discussing his troubles.

What ails it to do?

The symptoms of biliousness are happily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furry it is tough at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this it not effect a cure by Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

An Excellent Medicine.

"My wife and myself were in bad health for some fifteen years. I chanced to be looking over one of Simmons' Liver Regulator Almanacs and saw A. H. Stevens and Bishop Pierce's names to testimonials. I then obtained some the Regulator, and can heartily recommend the Liver Regulator to my friends as an excellent medicine."
