HE SPOILED THEIR FUN.

A Lady Telegraph Operator Who At- tempted to GUY the Wrong Man.
Grand Rapids Telegram Herald.
I heard a funny incident the other day. Mr. G. L. Woolley, the electrician of this city, was dining at the Superior House in Cleveland, and it so happened that the only other occupants of the table with him were a boy of lady operators. Mr. Woolley had been very successful in his business and is able to gratify a strong penchant that he has for diamonds, and he generally wears one or two of startling proportions. He is also an expert telegraph operator. As soon as they were seated, one of the young ladies began to size him up; then placing her knife-blade between the tines of her fork, she imitated a telegraph sounder and telegraphed to her companions: "Get onto his nobs with the big diamonds."
Woolley caught on at once and as soon as all the girls had turned their attention to him, he in the same manner, telegraphed: "Ah, there! Are you all on?"
A general stampede of the ladies followed and they dined somewhere else that day.

Youthful Wisdom in a Blizzard.

Minnesota Tribune.
It is related of two little girls of eleven and thirteen, years of age that they were late in going to school, and when about half way the storm arose and they turned back. After wandering about for a time they came to a strawstack. The older girl dug out the straw as far as she could. She then put her sister in ahead of her and crowded it after her. She took off their shoes, and when their feet grew cold she rubbed them briskly. The younger girl fell asleep, but the elder kept awake and continued the rubbing process when necessary. The parents gave up their children as lost, but early Friday morning after the storm has subsided, the girls, none the worse for their experience, made their way home, and it is needless to say there was great joy and rejoicing in that house. The wise head is sometimes found on very young shoulders.

Something a Mother Ought to Know.

Every mistress of a household, especially every mother, ought to find out what the family income is, and where it comes from, and thereby prevent all needless extravagance. Half the miserable or disgraced bankrupts never would happen if the wives had the sense and courage to stand firm and insist on knowing enough about the family income to expend it proportionately; to restrain, as every wife should, a too lavish husband, or, failing that, to stop herself out of all luxuries which she cannot rightfully afford. Above all to bring up her children in a tender carefulness that refuses to mulct "the governor" out of one unnecessary half-penny or to waste the money he works so hard for in their own thoughtless amusements.

Ameri an Wars Expensive.

The Revolutionary war cost the United States $135,193,703. The colonies furnished, from 1775 to 1783, 295,064 troops. The war of 1812 cost the United States $107,159,003. The number of troops engaged is estimated at 471,622. The Mexican war cost the United States $100,000,000. The number of troops engaged was 191,382. The war between the States cost the United States $7,189,729,900. The number of Federal troops were 2,859,132.

The West Shore.

The current number of The West Shore is accompanied by a large tinted supplement, showing the famous Shoshone Falls, of Snake river, a cataract superior to Niagara in many respects, though carrying a smaller volume of water. These monthly supplements will continue a feature of the magazine for 1888, and will make a valuable collection of large and spirited engravings of the most famous scenes of the Pacific Northwest. The illustrations of the number are devoted to the cities of East Portland and Albion, and the Quaker settlement of Newberg, in the Chehalis valley. The literary features are especially entertaining, consisting of stories, sketches, poetry, and much valuable descriptive matter. In the March number will appear the opening chapters of a highly interesting story of the great civil war, written by James P. Shaw, whose service in the army during the entire period of the rebellion qualifies him to write entertainingly of the scenes he witnessed. It is a romance of deep interest, as well to the younger generation as to those who participated in the stirring events of that period. A large supplement of Mr. Tacoma, the most magnificent snow peak in the world, will be furnished with the March issue. The West Shore is published at Portland, Oregon, by L. Samuel, at $2.50 per year, in single copies, 25 cents.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Union Square Theater in New York Burned.
PROHIBITION VOTE IN MICHIGAN.
Local Option Defeated by 1500—Investigation of the Recent Collision of Boats in Portland—No Blame Attached.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD.

Since the little Monitor defeated the Merrimac twenty-six years ago no American craft has been honored with such European attention as is now being paid to the pneumatic dynamite torpedo gun cruiser under contract at William Cramp & Sons' shipyard on Beach street. The interest is of a very lively kind for, like the Monitor, the new cruiser, with its queer guns, threatens to revolutionize naval warfare and to prove more than a match for the huge iron men of war upon which foreign nations have expended hundreds of millions of dollars. The news of the movements of Lieutenant Zhalaski's cynnrite gun is blowing to peices an old bias in New York harbor was not long in crossing the Atlantic, and ever since the United States Government appropriated $500,000 for the building of a cruiser to carry three of these formidable guns foreign naval officers have been hastening to this country to inspect this new engine of warfare. So far Cramp's shipyard has been visited by Japanese, Chinese, French, English, Danish, Italian and Spanish officers anxious to inspect the gun, and a high Russian official is now on his way to this city for the same purpose.

PROHIBITION IN MICHIGAN.

Twenty-Eight Counties for, and One Against Local Option.
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 28.—Twenty-eight counties in Michigan have voted for prohibition under the local option law. The first county to go "wet" is Washenaw. Prohibition was voted on yesterday resulting in a majority of 1550 against prohibition.
No Blame Attached.
PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—Messrs McDermott and Ferguson, U.S. inspectors for this district, render a decision in the case of the Northern Pacific steam ferryboat, the Acoma, which during the night of February 16th collided with a bark, which was lying at anchor in the Columbia river opposite Kalama. After making a thorough investigation, Capt. Scott was examined and no blame was attached to any one on the ship, which had enforced all the rules, and had her lights properly placed.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

A republican convention for the state of Oregon is called to meet at the city of Portland, Oregon, on Wednesday, the 11th day of April, A. D. 1888, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, to-wit: Representative in congress, three presidential electors, supreme judge and district officers, and to select six delegates to attend the national republican convention, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. The convention will consist of 209 delegates, apportioned among the several counties as follows:

Baker	5
Benton	7
Clackamas	7
Clatsop	7
Columbia	4
Coos	3
Crook	3
Curry	3
Douglas	3
Gilliam	5
Grant	6
Jackson	7
Jefferson	7
Klamath	4
Lake	3
Lane	10
Linn	10
Malheur	10
Mason	14
Morrow	5
Multnomah	30
Polk	6
Wallowa	4
Wasco	4
Washington	8
Yaquina	9

The same being one delegate at large from each county and one delegate for every 150 votes and one for every fraction over one-half thereof, cast for Hon. Binger Hermann, congressman, at the last general election. The committee recommend that the primaries be held March 31, 1888, and the county conventions April 4, 1888, unless otherwise ordered by the county central committee.

Republican electors and voters of the state, without regard to past political affiliations, who believe in the American principle of protective tariff and dignifying American labor, giving free, popular education to the masses of the people, effectually protecting all human rights in every section of our common country, and who desire to promote friendly feeling and permanent harmony throughout the state by maintaining a government pledged to these objects and principles, are cordially invited to unite in selecting delegates to the republican state convention. Respectfully submitted, L. T. BROWN, W. R. ELLIS, H. B. MILLER, H. HURLEY, W. M. SIMPSON.

Sore Throat.

is particularly favorable to the contraction of Diphtheria. Heed the warning, and use Darby's Propylactic Fluid. It at once allays the inflammation of the throat, subdues the pain and gives permanent relief. It promptly and effectually destroys all contagion and diphtheria germs. It is a safeguard against Diphtheria, and should be used on the first symptoms of sore throat as a gargle.

A NEW ELEMENT IN WARFARE.

A Craft Under Construction Which May Revolutionize War.
Philadelphia Record.
Since the little Monitor defeated the Merrimac twenty-six years ago no American craft has been honored with such European attention as is now being paid to the pneumatic dynamite torpedo gun cruiser under contract at William Cramp & Sons' shipyard on Beach street. The interest is of a very lively kind for, like the Monitor, the new cruiser, with its queer guns, threatens to revolutionize naval warfare and to prove more than a match for the huge iron men of war upon which foreign nations have expended hundreds of millions of dollars. The news of the movements of Lieutenant Zhalaski's cynnrite gun is blowing to peices an old bias in New York harbor was not long in crossing the Atlantic, and ever since the United States Government appropriated $500,000 for the building of a cruiser to carry three of these formidable guns foreign naval officers have been hastening to this country to inspect this new engine of warfare. So far Cramp's shipyard has been visited by Japanese, Chinese, French, English, Danish, Italian and Spanish officers anxious to inspect the gun, and a high Russian official is now on his way to this city for the same purpose.

The cruiser, which is now on the ways, has not yet been named, but probably will be before her completion, which will be in about three months. She is to make twenty knots an hour, and will be provided with vertical, triple expansion, twin screw engines of 3500 indicated horse power, and four cylindrical locomotive boilers. Her measurement will be 700 tons; length, 246 feet; breadth, 26½ feet mean draught, 8½ feet. She will carry two 10½ and one 12½ inch guns, and these are now being made in the shops of the firm. The range of these guns will be at least one mile. The 10½ inch shell will carry 200 pounds of explosive gelatine equal to 326 pounds of dry gun cotton, and the 12½ inch shell 400 pounds of explosive gelatine, equal to 652 pounds of dry gun cotton. These shells, which are of very peculiar construction, are being made at one of the Government stations.

The Zalinski gun is no more like the ordinary gun of naval warfare than a monitor is like a man-of-war. Its chief peculiarities are length and siminess. The projectile force, as the name of the gun—pneumatic dynamite torpedo—shows, is air, which is admitted from compressing reservoirs. By an automatic arrangement more and more air is admitted as the shell moves toward the muzzle. The greatest pressure is upon the projectile just as it leaves the gun. By this use of compressed air the danger of exploding the dynamite by a sudden impact is avoided and a greater force can be obtained. A peculiarity of the torpedo shells used in the gun is that the time of their explosion can be fixed so that it shall not be until after they have penetrated the armor if they should strike a vessel, or until they shall have passed beneath the surface if they should fall into the water. The concussion produced by one of these dynamite shells exploding under water will be so tremendous as to crash in the hull of any ordinary vessel. The range of the gun is determined by the amount of pressure applied, and it can be fixed to a nicety. Other novel features of the Zalinski gun make it so formidable for all kinds of naval warfare, as well as for land fortifications, that the interest shown by foreign nations in it is fully justified.

At What Age to Marry.

Philadelphia Press.
No young woman having proper regard for her own subsequent health or that of her offspring should marry before she has arrived at maturity—in this country usually between twenty and twenty-three years of age. A man reaches his full development later between twenty five and thirty. There may very well be a difference of ten years between husband and wife. The former ought to be in his prime at forty, whereas the latter at the same age is commonly well not quite so fresh looking as she was. And what husband is there whose wife is still dear to him but desires that she should prolong her good looks into his old age? A too early marriage, by bringing in its train ill-health, soon causes a wife to appear careworn. The power to be spiritual or interesting in other ways may exist, but still good looks never fail to exercise powerful sway in a household, and a woman, even when married, should be careful to retain her her bloom and comeliness, if only for her husband.

Remember This.

If you are sick Simmons Liver Regulator will surely aid nature in making you well. If you are constive or dyspeptic or suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the liver, stomach, or bowels, it is your fault if you remain ill. For Simmons Liver Regulator is a sovereign remedy for all such complaints.
