THE WEATHER TO-DAY. SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Weather indications for the next twenty-four hours beginning at 7 p. m. are: Fair weather.

NOTICES ABOUT TOWN.

Reserved seats for the artistic entertainment at the opera house, are on sale at Blackman's. The steamship Willamette Valley will sail from Yaquina on Saturday, March 17, at 2 p. m.

Hallelujah bustles with the latest style of War Cry combined, all for 35 cents at P. Cohen's. An assembly of nearly a hundred teachers, together with the session of the circuit court makes things lively in this city.

Several large horses were sold at Schmeer's stable yesterday to buyers from the Sound, the prices ranging $200 and upwards. The supper at the W. C. T. U. hall last evening by the Y. P. S. C. E., of the Presbyterian church, was a very pleasant and successful affair.

Mr. J. M. Williams, principal of the H. J. public school, is representing the HERALD as reporter at the present session of the teachers' institute.

Attention is directed to the adv. of Appleton's Encyclopedia of American Biography in this issue. Mr. W. W. Beck is now in the city introducing this, one of Appleton's most recent and best works.

The verdict in the Rogers-Schmeer damage suit will entail the costs, all except $5 upon the plaintiff, Mr. Rogers who is administrator of the estate of the deceased who was run over and killed.

Look out for Fortmiller & Co's. new adv. They have a fine line of oil paintings in gold frames, and a large assortment of late shades in wall paper, besides their usual assortment of upholstered goods and fine furniture.

Steps have been taken to raise the ill-fated steamer N. S. Bentley. The barge General Hancock has been secured, which, with the assistance of her consort, the steamer Three Sisters, will move the Bentley from her present position to ascertain the extent of her injuries. In all probability she will be dismantled and a new hull be built.

In a speech before the committee on river and harbors on Wednesday Congressman Herman characterized Yaquina bay as an equalizer of transportation charges, and cited various reductions on exports of the farmers of the Willamette country, which followed the inauguration of this line, and demonstrated that the annual saving to producers alone, saying nothing of the estimates for jetty completion. A transcontinental line which was heading westward to a junction with the Yaquina railroad makes this harbor of interest to Eastern Oregon as well as the nation.

All Marshall Dead. Mr. Ans Marshall, of this city, is in receipt of a telegram announcing the death of his brother Alf Marshall, at Eagle Rock, Idaho, on the 14th inst. The deceased resided for several years in Albany, and his death will be a surprise to many who knew him. He leaves a wife and several children.

Bound for the Pen. Harry Stewart, alias Wm. O'Brien, the boy burglar who was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for burglarizing the hardware store of Stewart & Sox in this city, will be taken to Salem by Deputy Sheriff Humphrey this morning. C. R. Sayers, convicted yesterday of horse stealing, will be sentenced Saturday morning and will probably go down that day. The hotel de Smith has been overcrowded for a few months, but the present term of court is rapidly reducing the number.

Artistic Entertainment. A few days since a very large audience in Corvallis greeted Mr. C. C. Hogue in the role of a cartoonist. For over two hours he kept the house in delight with the creations of his brush. He draws as rapidly as the famous Thos. Nast, and owing to the more humorous character of his sketches many enjoyed Mr. Hogue's efforts more than that of Mr. Nast. His local portraits of a few of the leading men of Corvallis, although done with a few strokes of the brush, were recognized before half done and were greeted with cheers. Mr. Hogue has consented to repeat his entertainment at the opera house in this city on Friday night, March 23d, for the benefit of the ladies aid society. He will try to draw the portraits of some of Albany's notables in addition to the regular programme. Tickets—Reserved seats, 50 cents; gallery, 25 cents. For sale at Blackman's drug store.

Chronicle route for sale, apply to C. B. Winn. The neatest and cheapest hand-sewed shoes at Read's.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Yesterday's Session—List of Teachers Present—A Detailed Report.

The institute was called to order at 8 o'clock by Supt. Reid. The enrollment of teachers was taken and the regular programme proceeded with.

The enrollment showed an attendance of eighty-one teachers. Methods of institute work was discussed by Superintendent McElroy. He dwelt strongly upon the importance of institute work, and the influence it exerted, not only upon the schools of the state, but also upon the community at large.

He compared the systems of other states with that of our own, showing the influence they have been and are exerting upon the industries of the country. He stated that no other factor in the state was of as much importance as the public school. He urged all the young teachers to step forward and take part in the discussion.

Mr. Herron, of Tangent, and Miss Kirkpatrick, of Albany, were appointed critics. Upon motion of Superintendent McElroy L. D. Boyer, of Brownsville, was elected musical director of the institute.

The study of geography was discussed by Miss Irvine, of Albany. Her brief talk upon the subject showed that she had thoroughly digested the best methods of teaching geography. She would teach the subject and intersperse with the subject with interesting talks, drawn from the history of the places about which they are studying, these to be afterward written by the pupils. The discussion was continued by Prof. Walker, of Albany, Mr. Brown, of Lebanon, and Miss Annie Godley, of Halsey.

Superintendent McElroy dwelt strongly upon the importance of teaching direction, followed by remarks from a number of others. Mr. Childers, of Brownsville, asked Supt. McElroy several humorous questions, which were answered in the same way.

Supt. Reid continued the discussion by dwelling on the errors of teaching geography. He considered the greatest error to be allowing pupils to commit definitions without knowing the meaning of the words employed. A recess of five minutes was taken.

Mr. Southerland, of Scio, read a paper on "The Miscellaneous Granger," being the objections to our present school system told in a humorous form. Supt. McElroy followed, dwelling on the importance of keeping the school law up to its present standard and keeping on in the march of improvement.

Other remarks were made by Mr. Boyer, Mrs. Miller, Supt. Reid and others, all speaking highly of the improvements made by the last legislature in the school law. The objections to those improvements were freely discussed and the unanimous sentiment was that those people who objected to the new clauses were wholly and altogether in the wrong.

Adjourned to half-past one o'clock. AFTERNOON SESSION. The institute was called to order at 1:30 o'clock by Superintendent Reid.

Roll call showed several teachers to be absent. A paper was read by M. R. Brown, of Lebanon, in which the character of the true teacher was discussed and ably set forth.

An enrollment of the teachers desiring reduced fare on the railroad was taken for the use of the certificate secretary. Superintendent E. B. McElroy was called to the chair.

Prof. Walker, of Albany, continued the institute work by reading a paper on "Reviews and Examinations." He took strong grounds against written examinations in school work. He believed that the examinations had a bad influence upon the child and should be abolished. Mr. Hunt believed as much as Mr. Walker, but did not take such extreme grounds. Mr. Boyer took the side of examinations. Mr. Jewett, of Harrisburg, also took the side of examinations, and said that the examination should teach the pupil what he ought to know. A number of people coming in Superintendent McElroy stated the question under discussion to be opposition to what might be called the school machine in examinations in public schools.

President Stanley, of Monmouth, was called upon and spoke for a few minutes for examinations. He quoted the familiar quotation from Bacon: Reading maketh a full man; conference, a ready man; and writing an exact man. Study in school is the reading, the recitation and review the conference, and the written examination the writing that makes an exact man.

Opening exercises in school was presented in a brief paper by Miss Morris, of Albany. She would open with something interesting to the children, instructive in character and excellent moral tone.

Under the lead of J. D. Boyer, the institute sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Mr. Jewett, of Harrisburg, being unwell was excused from presenting his subject.

Mr. McEwe, of Brownsville, delivered a short speech on penmanship, and showed some common errors in teaching the letters. Mr. Southerland spoke for a few minutes on the importance of teaching penmanship.

Superintendent McElroy stated that there was nothing in school work that the parents took so much pride in as seeing the children improve in penmanship.

Mr. McEwe would teach the principles of the letters first and would place the pen in the hands of the pupil at once beginning.

Prof. Walker would use the pencil first, and stated that in all the prominent schools of the United States the pencil was used to begin with.

College Bred Men in American History by President E. N. Condit, of Albany, was an able paper, showing that the college bred men had not been found wanting in the history of the republic. They had uniformly been leaders of public opinion from the foundation of the government. That though they had not always been successful during life, their opinions finally became the sentiment of mankind, and that in the hour of danger they had ever stood firmly by their principles.

Small Things of a Teachers Work was an interesting discourse by W. T. VanScay, of the Jefferson Institute. Small things must be attended to be successful in school.

EVENING SESSION. The house was called to order at 7:45 by Superintendent Reid, and the following programme carried out: Grand Waltz Duet—Belle Senders and Rose Islet.

The Army—Song by the little girls of the public school. Recitation, Bye and Bye—Little Miss Della Giblin. Lecture, "Knew the River"—President D. T. Stanley. Solo, The Gypsies—Prof. Lee. Recitation, Tom—Miss Anna Godley.

OREGON WAGON ROAD GRANTS.

The Interior Department Will Try to Restore the Lands to the Public Domain.

The secretary of the interior has sent to the president for transmission to congress, the report of J. B. McNamee relative to the Lebanon wagon roads in Oregon. The report shows that the grants of land were made by congress in 1864 and 1866 to aid in the construction of these roads, in all over 2,500,000 acres. The report shows that none of these roads were ever constructed, although several governors, patents have been issued to these companies for 1,000,000 acres.

Immediately on securing certificates of completion, the land grants were sold, with the view of putting the lands in the hands of nominally innocent purchasers. One grant is now claimed by Alexander Wells, the second by the California & Oregon Land Company, of San Francisco, and the third by the heirs of Edward Martin, of San Francisco, and the Eastern Oregon Land Company, also of San Francisco.

With the report the secretary submits a draft of a bill to be submitted to congress repealing all of said granting acts, declaring forfeited all rights and titles and restoring to the public domain all lands granted, excepting such as may have been sold to innocent purchasers, who are actual settlers, to the extent of one section to each of such purchasers. The bill directs the attorney-general to institute suit to cancel all patents and certification under said acts, with the exception stated above.
