Cases Argued.

Attorneys C. E. Wolverton and W. R. Bilyeu, of Albany, yesterday appeared before Judge Boise in chambers and argued the cases of Schooling vs. Hay, Schooling vs. Hay & Ashby, and Schooling vs. Wright. These are civil cases, which were referred by Judge Boise to a referee; but the attorneys took exceptions to the referee's findings, and presented them yesterday to Judge Boise.—Salem Statesman.

THE OREGON PRESBYTERY.

The Second Day's Session Held Yesterday in this City—A Detailed Report.

The second day's session of the presbytery of Oregon was held in the First Presbyterian church yesterday.

The presbytery convened at 9 A. M. and was opened with prayer by Rev. E. T. Ingle, of East Portland.

The roll call showed an attendance of 31 ministers and 19 elders.

Rev. H. P. Webb, pastor of the Albany M. E. church, was invited to sit as a corresponding member of the presbytery.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the temporary standing committees were appointed.

A call was presented from the Lebanon church for the services of Rev. G. W. Gibney, which was referred to a special committee.

A like call was received from the St. John's church, of Portland, for the services of Rev. J. V. Millican, which was also referred to a special committee.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the installation of Rev. A. J. Brown as pastor of the First church of Portland.

A report of the organization of a church at Grant's Pass was read and accepted.

Reports were then heard from the standing and permanent committees, concerning the work of the presbytery.

Presbytery was opened with prayer by Rev. Strange, Ashland. Licentiate Hausman and Rev. Gilpin were examined for ordination by the presbytery.

The Rev. J. B. Brown, of the German Reformed church, and Rev. H. V. Rominger, of the Congregational church, were invited to sit as corresponding members.

Reports were heard from the special committees. President E. N. Condit was heard with reference to a curriculum for the Albany Collegiate Institution, and a committee was appointed to confer with him in regard to the matter.

In answer to an application for a letter of dismissal by Mr. Gardner, he was referred to the church, of which he is a member.

THE WOMEN'S MEETING.

The Woman's Presbyterial Society met at 9 A. M. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Wolverton.

At roll call, fifteen delegates from abroad were reported present.

A very full report of the fall meeting was read by the recording secretary. Several items of business was laid over until tomorrow.

The importance of the foreign work was happily illustrated and heartily emphasized by the president.

A report from the committee on depository work was read, and the need of funds and books laid before the society.

A package of leaflets was secured for the use of the society from the board, of the southwest.

Short reports from various places were presented by the delegates.

Programme for the afternoon was then read including devotional exercises.

Papers were read by Mrs. Dr. Geary, of Eugene; Mrs. Parker, of Astoria, and Mrs. Dr. Newell, of Salem, Mrs. H. C. Campbell of Portland.

From the Dark Continent.

Mrs. Geo. Patterson, of this city, received Tuesday a letter from her sister, Miss Lizzie McNeil, who recently went as a missionary to Liberia, Africa.

She is in good health, although three of the twenty-one who left together have died of African fever.

Miss McNeil is located at Cape Palmas, in Liberia, on the western coast of Africa, and is engaged in teaching the Grebo blacks at Pluki, a native village one mile from Cape Palmas, and is also teaching a night school at the latter place, which is attended by young Liberians.

She receives the HERALD each week, and our readers are promised an article from her concerning that faraway country.

What Mr. Hogue Says.

Mr. Wm. M. Hoag and Mr. C. C. Hogue, of Corvallis, were in the city yesterday. A HERALD reporter hunted up Mr. Hogue and interrogated him concerning the prospects of work on the road eastward.

"There is nothing new," he stated, "which I am at liberty to give you, although we may have in a short time. There is no question but that the road will go on and that soon, but as to any definite plans for this season, I am not now at liberty to say anything."

Short Horns for Milk.

Some question has been raised as to whether or not Short Horns are profitable for milk. Here is a pointer for them: Mark Hulbert has two short horn heifers from a milk strain. Mary Sutherland, 2-year-old February 24, gives four gallons of milk per day. Fanny Davis will be two years old the 15th of May next. She gives four and one-half gallons per day. They are where any one can see them milked on the stock farm of Mark Hulbert, near this city.

CONTRACTOR G. W. HUNT.

He Pays for All His Work on the Oregon Pacific and Leaves for Wallula.

Mr. G. W. Hunt, who has been in this city for a few days paying for his last work on the Oregon Pacific, and arranging for the removal of his outfit to Wallula, left yesterday for Portland, accompanied by his family.

He has now finished paying up for all the work he has done on his Oregon Pacific contract.

The amount he has paid out for such work is about $200,000, for which, he states, he has not received anything from the Oregon Pacific company.

He has a force of men now at work removing his supplies, tools, etc., from his old camp on the line of the road, and he has several tons of supplies at the summit, which cannot be removed until the snow goes off.

This outfit will be taken to Wallula to be used on his work there. By reference to an advertisement published elsewhere, it will be seen that he is going to push his work there, and is offering employment to all the men he can get.

Mr. Hunt is an energetic contractor and certainly deserves much credit for the manner in which he has paid up for the work on his contract on the Oregon Pacific, especially when it is remembered that he has paid out of his own pocket about $500,000 for work for which he has not received any money from the company, the claim for the same being now in litigation.

The Dutchman from Dakota.

Last week a gentleman by the name of Frank Brock arrived in Corvallis from Dakota, accompanied by a brother who resides near Oregon City.

It was learned that Mr. Brock's mission here was to purchase land. M. W. Wilkins, a dabbler in real estate, soon formed his acquaintance and gained his confidence, and for two or three days the Dakotite was driven around at Mr. Wilkins' expense and the many fine farms he had for sale were exhibited in all their splendor, and their good qualities and advantages glowingly portrayed.

Finally he was shown the farm of Mr. Parham and James Henderson, containing in all 616 acres. That was just the kind of a farm the Dutchman was looking for and a bargain was soon struck at $11,320, cash up and no grumbling.

Before the transfer was made, however, Mr. B. thought he would like to purchase an eighty acre tract adjoining this also, which has a growing crop on it, and belonging to Mr. Wm. Henderson, providing it could be bought for $1,000.

Now Mr. Wilkins, like many other real estate men, is very accommodating and he wanted to satisfy the new arrival from Dakota and sell him all the land he wanted, so he hitched up his outfit and drove out to interview William. He was soon armed with the authority to sell Mr. Henderson's eighty and bubbling over with joy returned to this city to close the bargain and make the transfer of the entire tract, but his ambition to make a good thing out of this sale got the best of him, and he told Mr. B. that the crop had been ruined.

Now Mr. Brock evidently had had dealings with real estate men before, for the next morning bright and early he slipped out to Mr. Henderson's place, where he was informed that the crop had not been retained. That settled it—in case of language "the gig was up."

At the new arrival from Dakota left our city the same day for other parts. At this writing Mr. Wilkins is just out $410 by the transaction, for which he has commenced suit in the county court to recover.

An officer overtook Mr. Brock at Albany and served the summons on him, but if they want his evidence they will have to go to Dakota to get it.—Corvallis Times.

Death of S. E. Duncan.

S. R. Duncan, of Scio, died at that place yesterday, aged about 38 years. The death of "Russ," as he was familiarly known by his friends and acquaintances, was a surprise to that portion of them who reside in this city, as he was regarded as a man of robust health.

About a week ago he was compelled to take to his bed with the fever, accompanied with erysipelas, which terminated fatally at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

Last evening his remains were brought to this city. The funeral will take place at 10 A. M. to day from the residence of B. F. Prudum, corner of second and Montgomery streets.

Albany Not a Village.

Year by year, without the excitement of a boom, Albany has steadily grown, until it is no longer a country village, it has become one of the most prosperous and enterprising cities in Oregon, and conspicuous among her enterprises that add to the comfort and convenience of the public, is the recently established business of Kenton & Chase, the grocers who make a specialty of selling the best goods at the lowest rates for cash.

Gold Watch Given Away.

Francis Pfeiffer has placed in his show case at the Albany soda and candy works a $50 gold watch, which will be given away to the customer who purchases of him the most cigars. Every person who buys a cigar will receive a ticket. At the end of ninety days the one holding the largest number of tickets will receive the watch. It is warranted to be a genuine gold watch worth $50. His cigars are the best in the market. This is a rare chance to get a gold watch free.

W. O. Tuggle, L. Grange Ga., writing about Darby's Prophylactic Fluid says: "It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant and deodorizer. My wife states for the benefit of young mothers that it is a valuable adjunct to the nursery." It is equally so to parents traveling with children. Not only is it a disinfectant and deodorizer, but a few drops added to the water in bathing will remove all eruptions from the skin, chafing, etc., and greatly refresh and soothe.
