LIMITING FORTUNES.

In view of the vast accumulations by private individuals in this country, that have in a measure locked up the wealth of the nation, and indirectly contributed to many of the financial stresses that have overtaken us, many have advocated the limiting, by statutory law, the extent to which individuals can sequester to themselves the wealth of the country.

The fallacy of this view of the case cannot help presenting itself to the observant thinker who rightly views the situation, however. If we acquire the habit of now and then looking at the case from this side, from which we unhappily so seldom look at it, the proposal to put legal limits to the amount of fortunes will take an entirely new aspect. We shall see that we are, in reality, making the definite proposal that our law shall henceforth forbid any citizen to make the world more than so much richer in his lifetime to provide employment for more than a legally limited number of those who need and desire employment, or to be more zealous than the law allows in seeking out commodities or doing any similar service for the general public.

NEW SCHOOL FOR THE INDIANS.

The United States senate has passed a bill providing for the education of Indian children with every prospect of its passage in the house. This, with the bill providing for the appointment of a superintendent of Indian schools, places the future prospects of the rising generation of our Indian wards in a very favorable light.

The Indian education bill first requires the secretary of the interior to establish an industrial boarding school on every reservation containing not less than five hundred Indians. This is the first step toward the development of such a school has already been accomplished. As millions, so in the matter of Indian education, the great dependence lies with the young generation. Experience in both fields has shown that there is comparatively little to be looked for from placing new ideas in old heads.

For the sake of the self-reliance and improvement of all that pertains to a higher citizenship and the planting of religion in the heart of the young Indian the course of education for the Indian is one of overshadowing importance; and even were these wanting, as they are not, as an economic measure and means of putting an end to the costly wars which have existed between the whites and the red men for two hundred and fifty years the education of the Indian under increased efficiency consequent upon the new government of schools will justify the cost.

The trouble which Frederick III of Germany is having over the diplomatic situation in which his English wife has replaced him, causes some genealogical fiend to hunt up the number of English wives that German monarchs have had. He finds that Victoria is the fifth. Otto I married Edgith, of England; Henry III married Gunhilde, an English princess; Henry V wedded Matilda, who was a Norman and Plantagenet; and Frederick II married Isabella, daughter of King John, the gentleman who tumbled to the racket at Runnymede.

OREGON will be well and fully represented at the republican national convention at Chicago next June.

THE OLD WAY

Newton Self-Wringing Floor Cleaner!

THE NEW WAY

Every housekeeper knows from experience the hard labor required to wash floors and wring the cloths by hand. By using the Newton self-wringing floor cleaner, wringing the cloth by hand is avoided, the hard labor is thereby lessened; the hands do not come in contact with the water, whereby you can use boiling and ammonia water. The Newton self-wringing floor cleaner is light, durable and simple in construction, and well merits the claim of being the best invented. Special rates to canvassers and the usual discount to the trade. Manufactured and sold by LOUIS VIERECK, Albany, Linn County, Oregon.
