The steamboat Wm. M. Hoag, loaded with excursionists from Corvallis came down the river at 9:30 last night. They seemed to have all the sociability they wanted on board, as they did not stop, but after going as far down as the Oregon Pacific draw bridge steamed back toward Corvallis.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Fire in Portland—A Candidate Resigns—News from the State Capital.

Special to the Herald.

PORTLAND, April 21.—The republican county central committee received the following letter:

Continued ill health renders it necessary for me to respectfully decline the nomination for sheriff of this county, tendered me by the late convention. It will be impossible for me to take any active part in the work necessary to a political campaign, and therefore I now withdraw. Respectfully,

W. R. SEWELL.

Sewell was nominated by the republican county convention. After deliberately weighing the subject the committee decided to place Pennebria Kelley on the ticket in Sewell's stead.

FIRE IN AN OIL WAREHOUSE.

PORTLAND, April 21.—This morning the large oil warehouse belonging to Kelley, Dunne & Co. caught fire. The fire department managed by great efforts to prevent the flames from reaching the immense quantities of oil which was stored in the building. A portion of the roof was destroyed. The loss will reach $2500. The building and stock therein was covered by insurance to the amount of $10,000.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.

SALEM, April 21.—Governor Penney to-day made the following appointments: B. M. Mantell, Portland commissioner for Oregon to the world's exposition at Paris in 1887; notaries public—C. E. S. Wood, Victor C. Bellinger, P. W. Giellette, Portland; Frank Kellogg, Heppner; Robert Kelley, Union.

MINING COMPANY INCORPORATED.

SALEM, April 21.—Articles of incorporation of the Development Co. were to-day filed with the secretary of state. The incorporators were W. J. Herren, John G. Wright, Van Anos Strong, J. A. Eaton, W. W. Martin, Squire Farrar. Capital stock, $500,000. Principal office, Salem. The object is to work mines in Southern Oregon.

Colored spectacles and eyeglasses at French's.

BRIGHT-PLUMAGED PHEASANTS.

Fears that the Beautiful Bird may Become a Pest Before the Law Expires.

The Mongolian pheasants are spreading out over the valley and are now plentiful around Corvallis. The Benton Leader says: "They can be seen in the fields from the road and are conspicuous by reason of their bright plumage. If they increase for a few years longer with as much rapidity as within the past two years, there will be a bounty on their scalps."

There need be no fear about these birds increasing after the law ceases to protect them. Their bright plumage will make them easy victims to the hunter, and we all know that death loves a shining mark.

About Albany farmers and gardeners complain of the destructiveness of these Mongolian pheasants and the legislature will no doubt be asked to remove them from the list of birds protected by the game law.

MILITIA MATTERS.

The Boys in Blue will Give a May Picnic on the Santiam.

The Corvallis militia company has decided to give a May picnic, and have selected as a place a beautiful spot at the Santiam bridge of the Oregon Pacific railroad. It is understood that an invitation will be extended to "F" Co. and the public of this city to join in a grand excursion and participate in the festivities of the occasion. It is such arrangements are made it will no doubt be well attended.

"F" Co., of this city, will soon be provided with an armory. The large hall occupied by S. E. Young as an agricultural depot will be fitted up and furnished for the use of the company. It will be a commodious hall and will be elegantly furnished.

$1000 WORTH OF FUN.

How Wm. Close and Family Like Oregon and Will Return Here.

William Close and wife, William Close Jr., Peter Close, Archie Close, Plister Close, Alice Close, Myra Close, John Close and Chas. Close, of Woodstock, Canada, who have been spending a few weeks in this city have started on their return home. Each is an accomplished musician, and they form a brass band. They brought their instruments with them and have been all over the Northwest and stopped some time in Albany and, like the old woman who had rings on her fingers and bells on her toes, they have had music wherever they went. Thursday afternoon Mr. William Close purchased return tickets at the Northern Pacific office for the entire family via the Northern Pacific and Albert Lee routes. As he paid for them he remarked: "I've been away from home a month having a little time. The trip has cost me just $1000, but I have had $1000 worth of fun. Just as soon as I can arrange my affairs at home I'll sell out and return and settle down in Oregon, which is the finest country in the world."

SHREWD CHINESE.

Reported to be Supplying the Umatilla Indians With Liquor.

It is reported that Chinese in the neighborhood of the Umatilla Reservation are very active in supplying the Indians with liquor, but so quietly is this done that the officers of the law have as yet been unable to make any arrests. The Chinese engaged in this law-breaking call into play all their native shrewdness, and strange to say the Indians cannot for any consideration be induced to give necessary information, as is always done in the cases with white men.

The matter is now exciting considerable comment, and whatever clues may be found will be vigorously followed.

The Crop Outlook.

The prospects of farmers in the surrounding country for the season now in hand are very encouraging as far as can be learned. While the damage to fall sown grain was greater and more widespread than was generally supposed or admitted, still it is a happy fact that much or nearly all of this damage has been repaired by re-sowing, and the fine weather of the early spring has enabled the farmers to prepare and work their ground in excellent shape. Grain and vegetables of all kinds are in a healthy, promising condition, and a full yield can be confidently expected unless a protracted drought should ensue, which is scarcely likely.

Archbishop Segher's Remains.

Some time ago His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons wrote to Mr. C. S. Fairchild, Secretary of the Treasury in whom the authority is vested, requesting him to authorize Captain Healy of the Revenue Cutter Bear cruising in Alaska waters to convey the remains of Archbishop Segher who was murdered a year ago while performing a missionary duty among the Indians, to Victoria, B. C. Secretary Fairchild graciously and promptly acceded to the request. In replying to Cardinal Gibbons Mr. Fairchild says: In reply, I have respectfully to state the vessel referred to will probably be ordered to cruise in Alaska, at an early date, and instructions will be issued to her commanding officer in accordance with your request.

Glove Contest.

The veteran of many contests, that always comes out victorious, is the Centimeter kid glove. As a fitter it has no rival, its finish has no equal, and for nicety of style, excellence of quality and satisfactory endurance it tramples upon everything in the glove market.

MONTEITH & SEITENBACH, Sole Agents.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Herald:

The expense incurred each year in grading, graveling and keeping up the street of the city when carefully footed up forms a strong argument in favor of a project to macadamize at least one or two of the business streets. The amount that is expended in the course of a few years will equal the cost of macadamizing them, and placing them permanently in good condition.

Besides the appearance of sloppy, muddy streets in the winter is anything but metropolitan. If Albany is really going to be a city and reach out after trade and business, a liberal display of enterprise in public works of some kind ought to be manifested. In point of economy, it would certainly be wise to macadamize the most important business streets, and if a street railway is to be constructed along certain such streets, it would seem to be a most opportune time to consider the matter of macadamizing them at the same time.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

BROWNSVILLE, Or., April 20.

The revival meetings by Mr. Cairns are still going on and much interest is being manifested.

All our farmers are very busy now putting in spring grain.

Mr. W. C. Baird of Willows Valley, and his son N. Baird of Arlington are here visiting friends and relatives.

S. P. Barger has just purchased E. W. Jack's building on Main street and intends moving his furniture into it immediately.

Silas Powell's little girl is quite sick with intermittent fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Adkinson, of Hillsboro, are here visiting Mrs. A.'s parents, and have two children very sick with scarlet fever.

John Singer has just purchased the Widow Wilson property, and has built a new picket fence in front of the same.

Mrs. E. Simons has gone to Prineville to visit her daughter, Mrs. D. Venner.

M. Miller, of this place, has a chicken hatchery in successful operation, hatching chickens by the incubator process.

Mrs. N. Templeton has departed for the Wallowa valley to live.

D. Arthurs is moving to his hill ranch, while his daughter, Miss Lone Arthurs, teaches the school out at Union Point near here.

This spring there is the largest number of fine horses here ever seen so a person can have their choice from a large variety.

Many fruit trees have been set out here this winter, and we look for quite a variety of fruit to be raised in the future.

By a recent change in the time on the Narraw Gauge again we get our mail the second day out from Portland, which does not suit the public very well.

Thrown From a Buggy.

Mr. J. J. Dorris, agent of the Farmers and Merchants Ins. Co., was driving in the country when his horse became frightened and turning around suddenly overturned the buggy. Mr. Dorris was caught under the vehicle and was dragged for some distance. Fortunately the horse became unfatigued from the buggy before Mr. D. was seriously injured, but it was a narrow escape.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINES.

Letter From Jackson County Mines—Some Interesting Discoveries.

Editorial Correspondence.]

FOOTES CREEK, April 19.—Throughout the mining regions of Southern Oregon, which includes nearly all of it west of the Cascades, the mining interests seem to be on the increase. Much of this state of affairs is undoubtedly due to the wave of prosperity that has overtaken the entire state, and the tide of emigration that is setting in this way. In this vicinity which is adjoining the famous Gold Hill region the mining season, which lasts only through the wet or rainy part of the year, has been very short, owing to the deep snow and extreme cold weather of early winter, and the entire lack of rain during the spring months. Probably less than six weeks of good run has been had in the placer and hydraulic mining claims. In consequence of the cessation of rains and the drying up of the water courses the claims on this creek will with difficulty be enabled to make their clean up, and none of them have yet arrived at the stage of work which the water supply is fast dwindling away. The placer claim just above where we are on the right fork of Footes Creek and some few miles further up the Hosmer claim which are the two hydraulic or pipping claims on this fork, are still running. The placer mines, including that of Mr. Covr date near by, are through for the season, for the lack of water. Covrate who works his placer alone, owning the very beautifully located and fertile farm on the up-beridge of which it is located, made a clean up of over a hundred dollars, in a run of less than three weeks.

A walk over on the left fork of Footes Creek to-day, revealed about the same condition of affairs there. The hydraulic and placer claims are husbanding all the water they can find to finish their clean up with. That creek has been and is being more extensively than this and shows a large number at work. At the mansion of Mr. and Mrs. Justice, where we found that the country was rich in the necessities of life as well as the precious metals, we learned that there was much activity in quartz mining, in the adjacent mountains, several new ledges having been opened and prospects extremely good. Messrs Bailey and Covrate, two young men who were running a drift on a ledge had found a small pocket that yielded them $180, and they had not yet reached the main ledge being at work upon a "bisure."

Further up the stream we visited the hydraulic claim of the Cook Bros., and saw the immense power of a 2 1/2 inch stream of water under a 200 foot head. The rocks, dirt and gravel danced in the air and wandered off down stream as if they desired to get out of the way of the water that was pursuing them. A peculiar article that was dancing under the stream attracted attention and the manipulator of the "giant" turned the stream aside so that it could be picked up, when on examination it was found to be the tusk of some ancient animal of elephantine proportions, for the portion of it left measured 2 feet 3 inches in length and 3 1/2 inches in diameter, with a cavity six or seven inches deep in the larger end. The spot where it was imbedded in the gravel and soil was at least sixteen feet beneath the surface of the land. It was still sound enough to show the grain of ivory, and Messrs Cook promised to forward it to Prof. Condon at the Stat University, where it will form an interesting addition to his fossil cabinet.

The land up and down the creek for some distance above and below this claim is owned by the Cook family and connection of who there seems to be a large number, comprising at least three generations. The aged pioneer who was the first progenitor of the Cook's was but recently deceased, and the descendants still occupy the old first place of settlement and carry on the mining business.
