The new First National Bank building in this city will be one of the finest finished buildings in the state. The work is under the supervision of Mr. D. C. Shell, and some idea of its magnificence can be obtained from the fact that the two front carved oak doors cost $200. The bank will be removed into the new building in about a month.

A fine 30 pound chinook salmon was caught yesterday in the flume of Zeiss & Hockstedeler's planing mill. It is not known whether the lonely salmon climbed the golden stairs of the dilapidated fish ladder at Oregon City, or jumped over the falls, at any rate it was a fine fish and will grace the table as perfectly as those which come up by the prosaic Wells Fargo route at 25 cents per pound.

A COLONY COMING.

To Settle on Fruit Land in Rogue River Valley of Southern Oregon.

W. L. Messick, who for years has been an attache of the firm of Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, which does the bulk of the advertising for the Northern Pacific railroad, says that he is greatly pleased with the Willamette and Rogue river valleys. Good fruit land, he says can be purchased here at $50 per acre, better than can be bought for $300 per acre in Eastern states. In Rogue River Valley Jack Frost is seldom seen, while in Minnesota and Iowa the howl of the blizzard is heard for months.

Mr. Messick was so impressed with the Rogue River Valley that he purchased 3000 acres of land there, and is now arranging to have thirty or forty families from Minnesota settle on the land, which will be divided into fifty, seventy-five and 100-acre tracts, and sold on the arrival of the newcomers, who are very anxious to emigrate from the blizzard-stricken region to the genial climate of Oregon.

Business Change.

Reference to our advertizing columns will show that the firm of Kenton & Chase, grocers of this city, have disolved partnership. Mr. Chase retires on account of the continued ill health of his wife, and the business will be continued by Mr. Kenton. They have been a popular firm, and the business under the management of Mr. Kenton, will still be in good hands.

About Wheat.

The price of wheat has been steadily advancing, and the tone of the market is now more hopeful than at any recent period. A pool of 7000 bushels was sold yesterday at the Farmers' warehouse for 65½ cents. But little over one-fourth of the wheat crop has yet been sold, but if prices continue to advance the bulk of the crop is likely to soon move.

HON. J. W. WATTS.

His Speech at the Court House Last Night—The Tariff and Prohibition Question.

A good sized audience was present at the court house last night to hear Hon. J. W. Watts of Lafayette discuss the question of prohibition in politics, the tariff question and other political issues of the day. Dr. Watts, like many other sensible republicans who favor the prohibition amendment when it came up as a square issue shorn of all party consideration, fails to find any reason for dragging the question into politics in a calculated to weaken its chances of success.

On the tariff question Mr. Watts stands on the side of the farmers of Oregon. He warmly advocates the rights of the wool growers of the state, and showed up the damaging effects of Cleveland's free-trade policy.

Mr. Watts is well known to the people of Linn county as an earnest advocate of temperance, and his purpose is not to defeat it but to keep the liquor question out of politics so that it may be voted upon in a cool deliberate manner wherein rests its only hope of success.

Mr. Watts, handled St. John's demagogism without question in an able manner, being thoroughly conversant with them, and on the various political issues before the people he presented thoughts worthy of reflection by every voter of the country.

LYING ABOUT OREGON.

A Communication from Portland Which Slanders the Willamette Valley.

A communication of recent date from Portland, Oregon, to the Rockford, Illinois, Register, contains a sample of the missionary work that is being done in the East by some of our Portland friends. After enumerating the advantages and extensive business of Portland, and the wealth of the Sound country, the communication says:

"There is a large amount of fine agricultural land in the Willamette Valley, but the laziest of farmers in the United States. They do not even make their own butter and take no care of their orchards. Once on a time, they received $15 a box for apples and since they dropped below $5 they have left them to rot. These people mostly settled in the valley in 1854. Most of their farms, which consists of 640 acres, are mortgaged to Portland bankers, and they are almost the sole owners of one of the most fertile valleys of Oregon. Sixty bushels of wheat per acre is a usual crop upon it. These bankers are in no hurry to let these lands get into other hands and are thus holding back the growth of Portland."

The scribbler who furnished the correspondence to the Illinois paper is either entirely ignorant of the [illegible]se and thrift of the Willamette Valley, with its richness and inducements to home-seekers, or he is perhaps a real estate dealer, who has no land to sell up this way and no scruples against lying about the country.

Unfeeling.

A story comes from East Portland to the effect that a man living in East Portland, whose name is known but withheld, has a step-daughter—a child about 7 years of age—and has been making a practice of beating her in a most shameful manner. In order to provide himself better with the means of continuing the beatings he has been giving the child, he went into a wellknown harness shop and wanted to buy a rawhide, telling the keeper of the shop what he wanted to do with it. He was promptly refused and invited to leave the store in language more forcible than elegant. The city marshal has been informed in relation to his actions, and he would better have a care or his name may figure in the police court.

Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge.

The Oregon grand lodge of Odd Fellows met in Portland Tuesday. An election of officers was held with the following result: A. N. Gambell, Portland, G. P.; W. H. Bently, Baker City, G. H. P.; R. Alexander, Pendleton, G. S. W.; J. M. Bacon, Oregon City, G. Scribe; J. G. Wright, Salem, G. Treas.; A. D. Helman, Ashland, G. J. W.; Samuel Sired, Canyon City, G. M.; B. F. Morris, Dayton, G. O. S.; C. L. Palmer, Baker City, G. I. S. The grand patriarch appointed the following district deputy grand patriarchs: District No. 1, James Cummings; 2, T. O. Barker; 3, Phil Metschan; 4, T. F. Ryan; 5, J. F. Backensto; 6, Allen Bond; 7, W. H. Bently; 8, M. Fuller; 9, D. S. K. Buick; 10, Silas J. Day; 11, A. E. Eaton; 12, G. Reed; 13, S. R. Baxter; 14, W. R. Kirk; 15, A. D. Holman; 16, R. Alexander; 17, B. F. Barnum; 18, E. T. Miller.

The Firemen's Excursion.

Arrangements have been completed for the firemen's excursion to Salem one week from next Saturday, the 26th inst. The juvenile band has been engaged to furnish music for the trip. Tickets were placed on sale yesterday at the principal business houses, and before night twenty-five had been sold. As the number of passengers is limited those holding tickets will be admitted first, hence purchase a ticket and, besides avoiding the rush at the boat, be sure of an opportunity of going. The Hoag is the fastest boat on the upper Willamette river, and a ride down this stream, with its beautiful scenery, at this season of the year will be a most enjoyable one. Fare for the round trip only $1.

"You will never miss the water
Till the well runs dry."

If you want a well dug call on E. B. Davidson. He does prompt work at a reasonable price. Orders can be left at this office.

CRUSHED BY A TRAIN.

A Son of Hon. Lafayette Lane Run Over by a Train at Roseburg.

ROSEBURG, May 16—A horrible accident occurred at this place as the train was pulling out last night. The train is helped over Rice's hill from Roseburg by an extra engine, and Lafayette Lane, Jr., has been employed as firemen on this engine. Last night an engineer named Jap Waite and Miss Lucy Burnett, daughter of Hon. J. D. Burnett, of Oak Grove, Douglas county, were married. Young Lane attended the wedding, and after the wedding drank freely with the other attendants. When the time for the train to start north arrived, the engineer on the "helper" told Lane that he was in no condition to work, to go to bed, and he would be all right in the morning. This Lane refused to do, saying he was going to work. The engineer, however, refused to let him get on the engine, and the train started to pull out, leaving Lane standing on the platform.

He was determined to go, however, and when the emigrant car reached the spot where he was standing, he caught hold of the platform railing, attempting to swing himself onto the car, but here is where he miscalculated, and, missing his footing, the momentum of the moving train precipitated him under the fast moving wheels, which past over both legs, severing them from his body. Just what his condition is could not be learned, but his chances for life were considered very slim.

The injured young man is a son of ex-Congressman Lafayette Lane, is about twenty years of age and is considered a very bright young man. Yet even his brightness does not save him from teaching a great temperance lesson to the masses. He is a cousin of Dr. Harry Lane, superintendent of the asylum.

Merry's Departure.

Thomas B. Merry, editor of the Mercury, recently appointed by President Cleveland commissioner to the world's exposition at Melbourne, Australia, leaves Portland early next week accompanied by Mrs. Merry. Mr. Merry feels greatly disappointed at the indifference shown by the people of the state regarding an exhibition of the products of Oregon at the exposition. In the face of all that though, he will boom the Northwest among the Australians.

Who Is Your Best Friend?

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will harm you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right.—If you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Billiusness, Indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.
