NOTICES ABOUT TOWN.

Board of trade meeting to-night. Ice cream every day at Francis Pfeiffer's.

Fresh strawberries at Wallace & Thompson's. Screen doors and windows at Thos. Brink's.

The Oregon State Grange meets in Salem to-day. New residences are going up in all parts of the city.

Regular meeting of the city council to-night. Fresh strawberries received every morning by F. L. Kenton.

W. H. Udall, of Tacoma, is in the city. He talks of locating here. A fine selection of fresh millinery just arrived from New York at E. & C. Howard's.

Mrs. Dr. Redpath of Seattle is in the city, the guest of her mother Mrs. Bridgford. Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. of this city will probably send a team to the tournament.

A new line of fancy wicker and upholstered chairs has just been received at Thos. Brink's. Another lot of new hats for ladies and children will be in by Wednesday at Mrs. O'Connor's.

All the latest and prettiest styles in dress and sun hats will be in by next Wednesday at Mrs. O'Connor's. Patronize home industry and try some of J. Joseph's Havana filled cigars, the first of his own manufacture.

The fine harness to be used by the hose team at the firemen's tournament is being made by J. J. Dmbrulle. You insure your property, then we insure your self against accident in the Travelers' C. B. Winn agent.

A noticeable feature of the present political campaign in Oregon is that the woman suffrage question has been Dunniway with. The democratic central committee has filled the vacancy on their ticket by nominating E. J. O'Connor for the office of county surveyor.

D. C. Shell will commence this week the erection of a neat $1800 cottage for Mr. Ignatz Fox, on the corner of Fifth and Broadalbin streets. M. G. Hall, a prominent official of the Northern Pacific Co., was in the city yesterday on his return from Yaquina, of which place he speaks in most laudatory terms.

Rescue H. & L. Co. last night voted to attend the firemen's tournament to be held in Portland next month. They will raise a ladder team and with the assistance of the hose team will wrestle for the $225 prize. Over 100 tickets have been sold for the firemen's excursion to Salem on May 26. The time of leaving Salem on returning has been changed from 5 to 4 o'clock, in order to enable all to return home before too late an hour.

Parties who were at Sodaville Sunday state that not less than 200 people were there that day. The proposed extension of the O. & C. railroad branch to that popular resort will both be a great accommodation to the public and will double the traffic of the road between Sodaville and this city. Messrs Isom & Lanning state that careless hunters have recently killed three valuable sheep on their farm near this city, and unless hunters and their dogs can tell the difference between Chinese pheasants and sheep they will hunt at their own peril on their premises.

FARM RESIDENCE BURNED. The Dwelling of B. H. Irvine at Jordan Valley Burned with all the Contents. Information has been received in this city that the farm residence of B. H. Irvine at Jordan Valley was burned to the ground Saturday night with all the contents. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have originated from a fire. The building was entirely consumed, and the loss is considerable, as about $150 worth of wool was burned, and $100 in greenbacks. A quantity of silver also went through the fire, but was nearly all recovered in a half melted condition. There was insurance of $600 on the house in the State, of Salem, but none on the contents, or on the wool. Mr. Irvine is a brother of Hon. F. A. Irvine of this city, and is well known here.

Excursion to Yaquina. A grand excursion is being arranged to run from this city to Yaquina and return on July Fourth. The round trip tickets will be placed at $3.00 each. Mr. C. J. Stuart, general traveling freight and passenger agent of the Oregon Pacific Co., returned yesterday from Yaquina, where he went to make arrangements for the excursion. A boat race, base ball, a trip over the bar and other attractions will be arranged. As Albany is not likely to celebrate the Fourth this year the excursion will without doubt be largely patronized. Thos. Brink has just received an elegant assortment of window shades and curtain poles. New goods at French's.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Outline of the Session to be Held this Week in This City.

The third annual convention of the Oregon state Sunday school association will be held in the Baptist church, in this city commencing this evening and closing Thursday evening of this week. An excellent programme has been prepared the theme of which is "The King and His Servants."

The subject of the opening address Tuesday evening will be "The King's Weapon," by President J. F. Ellis, Pacific university. Wednesday morning, "The King's Business," will first be presented in the reports of the officers and short reports from counties and schools. At 11:45, "The King's Army," will be reviewed by the president. Wednesday afternoon, "The King's Service," How to advance the work through the home, the church, the convention and institute and other means will be presented by leading workers from different parts of the state. In the evening there will be a lecture on "The King's First Temple," by Rev. D. Heagle, of Princeton, Ill.

Thursday morning, "The Servants, Work Preparation, Plans and Performance," will occupy the thought of the convention, Reverends Houghton and Boyd of Portland and Hill of Eugene City, leading in the presentation. Thursday afternoon, "The King's Subject," How to manage a class and like practical topics connected with the work in the school will be presented and discussed. At 4 o'clock a children's meeting will be held, "The King's Favorites." Thursday evening, "The King's Anointed Sent Forth." Short addresses by newly elected officers. The convention closing with an address by President Bell of Philmath college. Topic, "The King's Reward." This will be a mass convention and all Sunday school workers will be entitled to a seat and to participate in the discussion of the topics presented. Arrangements have been made with all of the railroads in the valley to return those attending the convention at one-fifth fare.

Patents Granted. The following patents were granted to citizens of the Pacific States during the past week and reported for the HERALD by C. A. Snow & Co. patent lawyers, U. S. patent office, Washington, D. C.: F. W. Baltes, Portland, Oregon, printing press receiving table; H. Doty, San Jose, Cal. churn; H. Hewson, San Francisco, rotary vapor engine; H. G. Prengal, Oakland, Cal. hay press; P. Selby, Oakland, Cal. printing machine; C. H. Todd, Middleton, Cal. show case; E. J. Weston, San Francisco, cable road and machinery for operating the same.

A Grave Charge. The Democrat has been hunting for some weeks for something to bring up against John Conser. That highly influential journal at last brings forward the intelligent statement that Mr. Conser is going about over the country asking republicans to vote for him. This is a serious charge we will admit, in view of the fact that he is on the republican ticket, but he is a solid and well known business man all the same, and will make a good sheriff. Since we think it about a dozen candidates of each party started out over the country asking people, both republicans and democrats to vote for them.

Ran Away With a Plow. John Powell, of Halsey, while plowing the other day, met with what came very near being a serious accident. His team ran away, dragging him some distance. Fortunately the plow became fastened and stopped the team before Mr. Powell was seriously hurt. He was, however, considerably bruised up, and has not yet fully recovered from his injuries.

Wedding Bells. Mr. Jos. Young and Miss Laura Miller were united in marriage yesterday at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. A. Gross, Rev. Louis Metayer officiating. An elegant wedding supper was served at the Depot Hotel, and a host of friends united in wishing the young couple a life of happiness.

Appointment Made. C. G. Rawlings, formerly Postal Telegraph operator at this city, has been appointed agent of the O. R. & N. Co. to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. M. Young. Mr. Rawlings is a capable young business man and will fill the office with satisfaction.

Check Received. Governor Pennoyer has received from the government a check for $22,707.13, the balance due on the state's claim against the United States for public land sales, mentioned by the HERALD some time since. The claim was liquidated considerably sooner than was expected.

Board of Trade Meeting. The regular meeting of the Board of Trade has been postponed until Tuesday evening, May 22, at 8 o'clock, in the G. A. R. hall, on account of the court house and G. A. R. hall both being engaged for Monday evening. By order of the president, J. W. BLAIS, Secretary. Albany, May 18, 1888.

Grange Picnic. The members of Tangent grange are making arrangements to give a picnic at Blevins' bridge on June 7. An interesting programme will be arranged and an enjoyable occasion is promised. Don't forget we are receiving new goods every day and propose to give good bargains.

THE N. S. BENTLEY.

The Repairs to the Hull Completed—Boiler and Machinery to be Placed in Position.

A few weeks ago the Oregon Pacific company's steamer N. S. Bentley, which, some time since, ran afoul of a snag and sunk, was raised and brought down to the basin at Oregon City. There the badly disabled steamer was placed on the "grindiron" and the hull repaired. When the boat was docked an inspection showed that the snag had committed great damage to the hull. The boat had run against the hidden root of a large tree which was deeply imbedded in the bottom of the river, while going at a good rate of speed. A fearful rent was torn, about seventy-five feet long and from one to five feet wide. Not only was the planking ripped off, but the timbers were torn and broken.

All this damage was thoroughly repaired at the basin. New braces were placed in, and the hull made much stronger than before the accident. Before the repairs could be made, it was necessary to remove the boiler and machinery from the boat. This necessitated the cutting out of a large hole in the side of the steamer. After being taken out the boiler and machinery were brought down to Portland on a scow.

About two weeks ago the Bentley was towed down, and now lies moored on the east side just below the Morrison street bridge. Boiler and machinery are on board, but have not been placed in position yet. Considerable work will be required before the boat will be ready for service again. This will include some repairs to the cabin and a general overhauling and bracing of the upper works, as the accident strained and racked the frame. When ready for service the Bentley will be as good as when first finished, notwithstanding the very rough time the boat has had.

From first to last the Bentley seemed to have a run of bad luck. With the wheel taken to pieces, the shaft and cranks, resting on the timbers, the smokestack removed and the numerous patches of new unpainted plank here and there on the sides of the upper works, there is a general dismantled appearance about the craft. It looks as if the boat had had an encounter with a small monitor, or attempted to run a blockade. Paint will cover all these wooden scars, and when the steamer is ready for service, it will look as neat as a pin and bright as a new dollar.—Oregonian.

AN OLD OFFENSE. James Morgan Arrested for Robbing a Safe in This City Over a Year Ago.

Readers of the HERALD will remember that on January 8, 1887, a man named James Morgan, who was in the employ of Hoffman & Pfeiffer, decamped early in the morning, taking about $50 from the safe.

He was arrested yesterday in Portland, charged with the offense, having been suspected for some time as the man wanted. A complaint was issued and the prisoner will be brought up to this city to-night for trial.

Morgan was a queer acting man. Before his crime here he was receiving good wages and was industrious. He was an ex-soldier and was about to receive a pension of $24 a month, and his action in stealing $50 and running away was a surprise to his employers. He had attempted to commit suicide a few months before by taking morphine, and it is possible that his mind was deranged.

EUGENE CITY NOTES. EUGENE CITY, May 21. Col. Effinger, Col. Irish, J. D. Lee and John F. Swift are all advertised to address their respective parties in Eugene this week.

S. P. Caldwell, an Oregonian in the sixties, now of San Jose, is in Eugene visiting relatives and old acquaintances. The Baptist Sunday school held a picnic north of Eugene Saturday. Many children were present and enjoyed themselves in games and singing.

Messrs. R. M. Day, J. Campbell, W. Cherry and J. J. Walton attended the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Portland last week. Geary Post, G. A. R., is making extensive preparations for the observance of Decoration Day. The post, "C" Co., O. N. G., school children and citizens will march to the cemetery east of town, where graves will be decorated and an oration pronounced.

Mrs. C. L. Richmond, whose husband represents Oregon as swamp land commissioner, is visiting relatives in the city, the guest of Mrs. G. M. Whitney.

Who is Your Best Friend? Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will harm you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right—if you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, ringing up of the food after eating, biliousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

First Quarterly Meeting. The first quarterly meeting of the Evangelical church will be held in their church in this city on Sunday, May 27. Rev. C. C. Poling, presiding elder of this district will be present and officiate. A new invoice of British trimmings at Read's. Lovers, 25 yards for $1, at Read's.

HON. GEO. H. WILLIAMS.

A Powerful Plea For Protection for American Products.

Hon. Geo. H. Williams addressed an immense audience at the court house last night on the political issues of the day. He was introduced by Hon. C. H. Wolverton, and at once began a most powerful speech. He arraigned President Cleveland's administration as a failure in bettering the condition of the people, unless it was by his veto of the river and harbor bill, deranging the mail service, vetoing pension bills of deserving soldiers, his civil service reform farce and the entire category of his actions, which looked not to the interest of the country which he served as president, but for his own political influence.

He then entered upon a powerful plea for the defeat of the discriminating free trade policy, and for the continuation of the protection of wool, lumber and other products of the farmer, instead of on sugar, one of the necessities of life. He totally annihilated Ex-Senator Slater and Col. Irish's attempt to pull the wool over the eyes of the people of Oregon by the statement that free trade in wool would not cheapen the price of the important products, and showed by official statistics that for a period of five years before the reduction of the tariff on wool it was 8 cents higher than during the five subsequent years under the tariff, and that the pending Mills bill now before congress, would cost the wool growers of Oregon this year $2,000,000.

He devoted a few minutes in stating to Editor Stites of the Democrat that he was in favor of reducing the surplus revenue of the government by reducing the tariff on sugar, removing the tariff on tobacco, and protecting such industries as would protect the farmers and laboring men of the country. He then addressed a few pointed questions to the editor of that paper, which he will not answer, one of them being why he favored cheapening the price of wool and leaving an enormous tariff on sugar, one of the necessities of life, making farmers and poor men poorer and rich men richer.

He said that if Albany wanted a woolen mill it ought not to favor the ruining of the wool growing industry. The people of Oregon, he said, are just now beginning to extend manufacturing enterprises all over the country, and they ought to be protected.

He said on the prohibition question that it had nothing to do as to the right or wrong of prohibition, but as to the question of third party. A fair vote was taken on prohibition last fall, and now the projection of the question into the political campaign would only injure the temperance cause.

He concluded with an urgent appeal to the voters to stand by the party which advocated the principle of American markets for American products.

A large number of ladies were present, and the speaker was frequently heartily applauded.

A Severe Fall. Mr. Robert Conn, in leaving the court house last evening at the speaking, in company with his wife, fell down stairs, receiving severe injuries. The fall down stairs was not lighted up, and his fall was occasioned by the darkness enveloping the stairway. He was picked up insensible, but in a few minutes revived, when it was ascertained his head was badly bruised, though not seriously. He will doubtless be fully recovered in a day or two.
