OF INTEREST TO OREGON.

Measures in Congress Relative to Oregon and the Pacific Coast.

The committee on commerce has reported the river and harbor bill to the senate. A number of changes have been made in Pacific coast items since the house passed the bill. Besides others, the committee recommend the following increases: The appropriation for improvement of the Willamette river is raised from $14,000 to $29,000, $14,000 of which may be used for revention work above Corvallis; mouth of the Coquille, raised from $22,000 to $25,000. The total increase in the bill, as reported to the senate, is about $1,500,000.

The appropriation for Oakland, Cal., is made $350,000; Wilmington, Cal., $62,500; canal at the Cascades, Oregon, $300,000; mouth of the Columbia, Oregon, $500,000; lower Willamette and Columbia, in front of and below Portland, Oregon, $100,000; Willamette above Portland, $29,000; Tilamook bay, Oregon, $50,000; Yaquina bay, Oregon, $150,000. The acting secretary of the interior has affirmed the decision of the commissioner of the general land office in rejecting the application of C. W. Burrage to make a private cash entry of certain land in the Oregon City, Oregon, land district, on the ground that under the act of congress approved January 31, 1885, offered lands that had been covered by private cash entries, which were subsequently cancelled, did not become subject to private cash entry.

Representative Hermann appeared Monday before the committee on claims, and addressed it upon three important Oregon cases. One was of Col. Wm. J. Martin, for cattle furnished soldiers of the government years ago; another was for repayment of P. B. Sinnott for money advanced as salary to the superintendent of farms, and for a mill on the Grand Ronde Indian reservation, and the third for the payment of the claims of the heirs of Chauncey M. Lockwood, for services in carrying United States mails in Eastern Oregon. These matters are now under consideration.

Pensions have been granted as follows: Oregon—Increase, Martin Purdeppie, Centra Point; Mexican survivors—Robert S. Dunslop, Jacksonville; James B. Jordan, Conquille; Marcus P. Chandler, Brownsville. George Williams has been appointed postmaster at Waino, Wasco county, Oregon, in place of M. A. Chamberlain, who has resigned.

A Live Firm. Yesterday Messrs Thompson & Overman the harness dealers, shipped a lot of harness to four different towns, which look to Albany as a trade center. When men leave their own towns where shops are located and come to buy their harness of Thompson & Overman, it shows conclusively that they are building up a thriving trade. Their goods are of the best quality, and they deserve the trade and confidence which they are fast gaining.

OPENING OF THE CAMPAIGN.

On Monday the candidates met in the school house in Fox Valley. A small crowd had gathered to hear the opening of the campaign. The speaking began at about half-past one.

Judge Whitney was the first speaker called. He spoke for a half-hour on the affairs of the county since the beginning of his work as county judge. He compared the expenses of Linn county with the expenses of Marion and other counties. He tried to make some cheap capital for himself by accusing the Marion county officials of gross dereliction of duty, especially the clerk and sheriff, for their enormous bills and the county court for allowing them. He wound up by a reference to the effect of the election on the 4th of June on the national election in November, and made a threat that the democratic county officials who might be defeated would bolt the national ticket in November.

Mr. Blackburn was next introduced. He stated that Judge Whitney was not entitled to any credit because the clerk's and sheriff's fees of Linn county were so small compared with other counties; that, if any credit was due, it was due to the sheriff and clerk of Linn county for presenting only such bills as came clearly within the limits of the law. Mr. Goodman was introduced and took the place of Mr. Denny, prohibition candidate for treasurer. Jeff Myers spoke for a few minutes upon what he would do when he got to be a "legislatreman."

Mr. Richardson talked for a half-hour upon important legislative matters. He was in favor of repealing the internal revenue on whisky and on tobacco. Mr. Taylor read the prohibition platform and talked for some little time. Mr. Curl told what he would do were he elected county school superintendent. He would visit every school in the county and would do his best to elevate their standing and to create a strong educational sentiment among the people. He denied the report that he held a third grade certificate, and stated that if any one didn't believe that he held a first grade certificate, he was at liberty to examine the document.

Mr. Williams said that if elected superintendent, he would give his whole time to the duties of the office, and would perform them to the very best of his ability. He read the standing upon several of his first-class certificates, to show to those with whom he was unacquainted what his standing was in various examinations, his certificate for Linn county bearing a general average of 99.8-10. Mr. Irvine said that the audience had been detained long enough, but upon the cries of go a head, he took the floor and spoke for a short time on the tariff question. He quoted from statistics showing that if the tariff on wool was abolished the price on the best grade of Oregon valley wool would drop eight cents, and the second grade would drop eleven cents.

He criticised the position of the democratic party on the tariff question and showed the unfair and partisan methods of reduction proposed in Cleveland's message and in the Mills' bill veto pending before congress. He compared the democratic platform of two years ago on the wool question with their present platform, and showed that they had experienced a wonderful conversion or change of heart in the past two years.

Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will hurt you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right.—If you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Bileusness, Indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.
