HAVE YOU A COLD HEAD? [illegible] secretion of mucus or matter in the nasal passages which either must be blown from the nose or drop back behind the palate, or hawked or snuffed backward to the throat? Are you troubled with sneezing, spitting, weak and inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, ringing or roaring in the ears, more or less impairment of the hearing, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness or dizziness of the head, dryness or heat of nose? Have you lost all sense of smell? Have you a hacking cough? Have you dyspepsia? Is your breath foul? If so YOU HAVE THE CATARRH. Some have all these symptoms, others only a part. The leading symptom of ordinary catarrh is increased secretion of mucus of yellow or greenish colored matter.

Foul breath is caused by the decomposing secretions exuded from festering ulcers far back in the head; sometimes the membrane covering the bones is eaten away and the bones themselves gradually decay. Such cases are indeed objects of pity, as stench from corroding sores reveal the corruption within.

As every breath drawn into the lungs must pass over and become polluted by the ulcerations in the nasal passages, it must necessarily follow that poisoning of the whole system gradually takes place, while the morbid matter that is swallowed during the night stem into the stomach, enfeebles digestion, and often produces dyspepsia, and finally gives rise to debility, nervousness and consumption.

DO NOT PROCRASTINATE.

If you have experienced any of the above symptoms do not delay, but try "CALIFORNIA CAT-R-CURE at once. We positively guarantee a few applications relief and a thorough treatment to cure. Six months treatment for $1.00; sent by mail

The Era of Discovery.

Pittsburg Dispatch.

The announcement that a commission of savants will shortly set out for Mount Ararat, or the elevation in Western Asia designated by that name, recalls the alleged attempt some years ago to recover from the bed of the Red Sea, at the point where the children of Israel were supposed to have crossed, some relic of the lost hosts of Pharaoh. These statements are but the exaggerated outgrowth of legitimate enterprises having for their object the discovery of archæological treasures, the corroboration of biblical statements by external evidence. The work of Layard, Lenormant, George Smith, and others on the ruins of Nineveh and Babylon testifies how much the world owes to men of this stamp. At their recent meetings the authorities of Yale College appointed a professor to accompany the expedition of the University of Pennsylvania to Babylon, to make further research among its ruins for relics of the mighty city of many gates. The indefatigable labors of Champollion in Egypt, which first gave to the world nearly all we know of the early dynasties of that ancient civilization, are among the more valuable in the history of exploration, while second only in importance are the labors of the missionary priest who wrung history out of the hitherto undecipherable monuments of the Mayas in Mexico. It would seem that a new era is about opening in the matter of exploration and discovery. A Danish expedition will shortly start to explore the interior of Greenland; a Mexican party is preparing to invade the undiscovered interior of Yucatan; the sources of the Amazon are being penetrated, while the Russian are pushing their discoverses in Northern Siberia and in their possessions within the Arctic circle. Stanley is in the heart of Africa, and while waiting to hear from him the world listens to the story of the wonderous discoveries in the planetary world by the aid of the superb Lick telescope. Taken all in all, the indications are that before the dawn of the year 1900 many of the mysteries of lost cities and forgotten nations, of nebulæ and stars and interplanetary space will have been revealed to the glorious light of the nineteenth century.

An Inventive People.

"We are an inventive people. Invention is by no means confined to our mechanics. Our merchants invent, our soldiers and our sailors invent, our professional men invent, our schoolmasters invent and our women and children. One man lately wished to patent the application of the Lord's Prayer, repeated in a loud tone of voice, to prevent stammering; another claimed the new and useful attachment of a weight to a cow's tail, to prevent her from switching it while milking; another proposed to cure worms by extracting with a delicate line and tiny hook, baited with a seductive pill; while a lady patented a crimping pin, which she declared might also be used as a paper cutter, as a skirt supporter as a paper file, as a child's pin, as a bouquet holder, as a shawl fastener or as a mark."

The above is not a quotation from the effort of some professional humorist. It is an extract from a matter of fact statement made many years ago by Mr. Fisher while he was commissioner of patents—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

AN OLD DITTY MODERNIZED.

Oh! where are you going my pretty maid?
To dance a german, sir, she said.

Oh! shall I go with you, my pretty maid?
If you are invited, sir, she said.

Oh! what is your father, my pretty maid?
My father's a banker sir, she said.

And what is your mother, my pretty maid?
A leader of fashion, kind sir, she said.

Pray what is your fortune, my pretty maid?
A cool half million, kind sir, she said.

Oh! then I will marry you, my pretty maid!
I think you're mistaken, kind sir she said.

HUMOROUS BITS.

Last year's maple sugar is now fresh.

A boy's prayer.—"Now I lay me down to sleep, and—O Lord, but your feet are cold!"

It is absurd to say that hair-dye does not deceive anybody. It deceives the man who uses it.

A Paris paper recently informed its readers that "the people of St. Louis, D. T., are dying of a disease called the blizzards."

What irritates the average husband is, that he knows his wife knows he isn't so big a man as he wants the world to think he is.

Bobby (listening intently)—"Ma, is pa putting up a stove in the parlor?" Mother—"No, dear; he is writing with his new fountain pen."

Hard to Suit—"There is nothing so aggravating as a jealous husband," said a married woman; "but there's nothing so humiliating as a husband who is not so."

Sheriff (to condemned man eating his last breakfast)—"Will you have some ham and eggs?" Condemned man—"A couple of eggs, please, but no ham. Pork gives me indigestion."

Husband (groaning)—"The rheumatism in my leg is coming again." Wife (with sympathy)—"Oh, I am so sorry, John: I wanted to do some shopping to-day, and that is a sure sign of rain."

"I often wonder," said Chesley, "what my ancestor Adam said when he first met Eve."—Was he an ancestor of yours?"—"Certainly."—"Then he probably asked her to lend him two dollars.

A recently invented process for making railroad cars out of wood pulp is only a fair counter on the cyclones which have so often made wood pulp out of railroad cars. Moral: Insure in The Travelers.

Philadelphia Footpad—"How yer gettin' along?" New York Footpad—"I've been doin' purty well: knocked six men in the head, last week." P. F.—"Eh? Where was perlice?" N. Y. F.—"Raidin' art galleries."

"Where is the island of Cuba situated?" asked an Austin school teacher of a forlorn-looking six-y boy.—"I dunno, sir."—"Don't you know where sugar comes from?"—"Yes, sir; we borrows it from the next-door neighbor."

McFly (who has done pretty well on a blue-stone contract)—"I'll take roashted goose, shtuffed with inyins, an'—Saints in hiven! P-phwet."—Mrs. McFly (calmly and decisively)—"Say 'Indians,' an' doan be givin' yerself away t' th' parleyvoo!"

Merchant (buying a bill of goods from a Chicago drummer)—"What is your usual time—thirty days?" Chicago drummer (absent mindedly)—"Yes; or $10. I always pay the fine—oh—eh—I beg pardon; yes, thirty days, or two per cent, off for cash."

Florida has a newspaper bearing the name of "The Key West Cigar and Sunday Morning Advertiser." Now that Sunday morning, as well as cigars, is to be advertised in Key West and vicinity, an improvement in the morals of that region may be looked for.

"Why do you fill your paper with such nonsense as this?" he said to the country editor: "'John Smith, of Fogville, is in town calling on his many friends.'" Just then the office-boy poked his head in the door and said, "Mr. Smith, of Fogville, wants fifty extra papers." "That's why," explained the astute editor.

"Can a mother forget her child?" asks a sweet poetess in the Home Journal. Birdie, if it is a boy child, four years old, and awake, we will stack up the mines of Golconda against marshmallows for the crowd that she can't: no, not for one minute, unless she drowns herself or chloroforms her child.

A little girl out visiting was given the album of family photographs to look at while the hostess attended to other affairs. "Well, dear," asked the latter on returning, "did you look at the album?" "Oh, yes," answered the little maid mightily; "and we've got one 'zactly like it, only the pictures are prettier."

Envious young man (speaking of favored rival.)—"Yes, George is clever and handsome, but he is so abominably conceited." Sharp Young Lady—"But, Mr. Dumley, if you were handsome and clever, wouldn't you be conceited." (A few moments' reflection, followed by total collapse of Dumley.)

Pensions Granted.

The following pensions have been granted: Oregon—Original Invalid, Dudley G. Henry, Zena; Daniel S. Horton, Grant's Pass; Patrick H. Rogers, Eagles. Mexican survivors—George D Henry, alias George Lemer, Portland. Idaho territory—Mexican survivors—John S. Loomis, Bruneau.

That exquisite line of satins in our show window will be run close this week. Have no excuse for not getting in on them. Monteith & Seifen-each.

GENERAL NEWS.

Democrats Getting Ready for the St. Louis Convention.

GEN. SHERIDAN MAY RECOVER.

Jay Gould is Not Very Well—News East of the Rockies and All Over the Country.

The HERALD Special Dispatches.)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—It is said that a telegram has been received by the president from one of his managers at St. Louis to the effect that Judge Thurman will not refuse the vice-presidential nomination. It is further reported that no later than Monday evening a conference will be held by friends of the leading vice-presidential candidates, at which the comparative strengths and weaknesses of the various candidates will be talked over. There is no doubt that the administration is satisfied of the advisability of the nomination of Judge Thurman. Secretary Whitney thinks he can not only carry Indiana, but will make a close race for republicans in Ohio and possibly carry the Pa-slope states.

WHAT THURMAN SAYS.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—The "Republican's" Columbus special says: A representative of the "Republican" called on Judge Thurman at his home yesterday, and found him in a happy, talkative mood. When informed that the Thurman boom was rapidly spreading, he said: "Yes, I guess so, at least it looks that way, judging from all the telegrams and letters I have been receiving—but did I not say two years ago and again two weeks ago that there was no office on earth I wanted." "Now judge," said the reporter, "the whole country is clamoring for Thurman for vice-president. If the nomination is given you, even against protests, wouldn't you feel it your duty to accept?" "I have the highest regard for President Cleveland, and sincerely hope he will be re-elected. If, though, my name would add strength to the ticket, I am willing to make personal sacrafice for the interest of my party. I certainly should feel very bad should the ticket be defeated, to think my name would have strengthened it. Of course it is only upon condition that the nomination comes without any struggle that I can accept.

ANOTHER INTERVIEW.

COLUMBUS (Ohio), June 2.—T. E. Powell called on Judge Thurman last night, and was authorized to make the statement that Thurman has consented to have his name presented to the St. Louis convention for vice-president, on condition that the Ohio delegation is solid for him, and that he will accept if nominated. Powell will present the name of Thurman.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.

He is Better and May Get Entirely Well.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A News special from Washington says that General Sheridan, it is believed by those who have seen him this morning, will pull through, unless he has another relapse. The passage of the bill reviving the rank of general has done him more good than medicine. He is determined to live if there is a fighting chance for him.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—At 8:15 o'clock this morning Dr. Mathews left Sheridan's residence and said to a reporter that the general had passed a quiet, comfortable night, and that there was no recurrence of the heart trouble. His cough is not so severe as it was the previous night, and on the whole he has about held his own. All his doctors were with him at different times during the night, Drs. Byrne and Mathews remaining until morning.

GOULD IS NOT ILL.

He is Still Able to Ride Over and Inspect His Millions.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—A dispatch from Vice-President Clark, of the Missouri Pacific, from Fredricks, Kansas, says: "New York reports regarding Gould's condition are absolutely false. He is not seriously ill, and now inspects the road while traveling at the speed of forty miles an hour, and is doing as much work as ever on trips of this character.

A Big Suit.

LOUISVILLE, June 2.—Judge Hins, for the state, has instituted a suit against Ex-Treasurer Tate and bondsmen for $247,000, less certain credits.

Weekly Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, Jnne 2.—The weekly bank statement shows a reserve decrease of $2,575,000. The banks now holding $25,915,000 in excess of legal rules.

The Emperor's Condition.

POTSDAM, June 2.—The emperor's first night here was a satisfactory one. His condition is good this morning, although he is fatigued from yesterday's trip.

Just received, the celebrated Estrella Key West cigar, the finest Key West cigar in the market at M Baumgart's cigar store.

Life at the North Pole.

If they ever find the North Pole colonized, they're going to have an awful time of it. They have daylight six months and dark six months out of the year. The great check on immorality is daylight. There is a certain limit of trouble and ingenuity beyond which it immorality will not go. The limit is far enough off at the best, but if it were night for six months on end what would become of us? Husbands would never go home at all. Parties would only be divided by the time necessary to recruit exhausted nature; a woman would need a new dress every four hours, because she couldn't go to more than two parties in the same dress, and it would be an awful hardship to do even that. They would say: "Why, do look at Mrs.—. She wore the same dress at the Smiths just ten hours ago."

"Are you going to theatre now?"

"No; I saw the piece already to-night."

"Get up."

"What time is it?"

'Don't know, but I put you to bed in a miserable condition six hours, ago and we are due at the Jones'."

"Well, wait till I get my breakfast or supper or dinner: which is it anyhow?"

"Don't remember; it is my 119th meal this season."

"Don't light the gas yet. I only saved $1,000,000, and that gas bill is getting prodigious. A new dress? That's the fifteenth in 175 hours."

"Great Scott! the meter's bursted and the electric wire's broken. Where are my boots?"—San Francisco Chronicle "Undertones."

A Woman Indicted for Murder.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Mrs. Meckie Lawson, the principal figure in the court room yesterday, was indicted by the grand jury to-day for an attempt to murder Henry C. Whitney, her husband's attorney.

The Kerr Trial.

NEW YORK, June 2.—This morning the Kerr jury, which has been been out since night before last, has announced a disagreement and been discharged. Judge Patterson fixed Kerr's bail at $50,000.

We are just in receipt of the best line of corsets ever brought to Albany and remember we will give away a fine piece of instrumental or vocal music with each corset while they last. Something new.
