

Morning Daily Herald

THE MAILS. Mail at the Albany postoffice close as follows: For all offices north...

O. & C. R. TIME TABLE. NORTH BOUND. SOUTH BOUND. Arrives Albany. Departs Albany.

LEBANON BRANCH. For Albany. Departs Albany. Arrives Albany.

REGISTRATION ABOUT TOWN. Ice cream at the city restaurant today.

Mr. G. Scott Royce is quite ill at his residence in this city. J. R. N. Bell, clerk of the state railroad commission, is in the city.

Rev. E. R. Prichard, of this city, and H. A. Newell, of Salem, will exchange pulpits on Sunday.

Mr. H. W. Settlemier, proprietor of the thriving nursery at Tangent, has the thanks of this office for a box of fine cherries.

D. R. N. Blackburn, newly-elected county judge, was tendered a serenade at his residence last evening by the juvenile band.

Your school tax is now due and unless paid very soon will become delinquent. Pay the same before costs of collection are added.

Examine the list of men who carry accident policies in the Travelers and you will find they are farseeing, careful men. C. E. Winn, agent.

Children's day will be observed at the Congregational church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Parents are requested to bring their children.

Mr. E. E. Goff, of the firm of Allen & Goff, proprietors of the Albany electric light works, will leave today for The Dalles, where he will probably put in a plant similar to the one used in this city.

Under the heading "New today" will be found notice to contractors for erecting a country residence by D. B. Monteith. He has extended the time of letting the contract to June 15, and new plans and specifications can be seen at Monteith & Seitenbach's.

Misses Clara and Maggie Meekens and Misses Clara and Elsie Davidson, Mr. Walter Meekens and Bruce Davidson, of Harrisburg, are in the city on their way to attend the commencement exercises at the state normal school.

The ladies of the M. E. and Congregational churches will give an entertainment at the opera house, June 15, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, tableaux and pantomime. The programme promises an enjoyable time.

Children's day will be observed tomorrow morning at the Presbyterian church. The service will consist of recitations, responsive reading and singing by the children, together with a short address by Rev. H. A. Newell, of Salem. All will be made welcome.

STATE DISPATCHES. Neway Items from the State Capital—The Latest Election Returns.

SALEM, June 8.—Ex-Gov. Moody, wife and daughter will leave tomorrow morning for Portland, where they will join the Oregon delegates to the republican national convention, who start for Chicago Sunday. Gov. Moody thinks that the republican presidential nominees should come from doubtful states, and for that reason his preference now is Harrison for first place, with Morton or Hawley for vice-president. But his final choice is for the republican who will lead the party to victory in November.

PORTLAND, June 8.—The latest returns in the state election do not materially change the results. Hermann's majority will be just about 7000. The legislature stands republican 70 to 20 democrats.

EGGERS, June 8.—The official count today gives Hermann 1325, Gearin 1255, Miller 92, Lord 1624, Burnett, 1276, Hinford for district attorney 1594, Hamilton 1531.

Thrown From a Horse. From a private letter received from Prineville, it is learned that Mr. J. J. Dorris, traveling agent of the Farmers and Merchants' Ins. Co. of this city, met with a severe accident recently, being thrown from a horse, receiving severe injuries about the face and having his jaw fractured. He will return home in a few days.

OFF FOR CHICAGO

The Oregon Delegates Will Leave Tomorrow for the Republican Convention.

Mr. J. W. Cusick, of this city, delegate to the republican national convention, which meets at Chicago, on June 19, leaves this morning for Portland, where he will join the remainder of the delegates who will leave the following day for Chicago.

The delegates are J. W. Cusick, J. E. Bean, Rufus Mallory, Z. F. Moody, J. Bourne and Pierce Mays. Before leaving Mr. Cusick stated to a representative of the Herald that the Oregon delegates were not committed in favor of any candidate, but that he and several other delegates considered Gresham to be the most popular candidate, and would be in favor of him if he proved to be the strongest man before the convention, as he thought he would. In fact Gresham is first choice. The Oregon delegates are not going, however, to make any fight for Gresham, and if a candidate whom they consider a stronger man comes before the convention they will be ready to support him.

The overwhelming republican victory in Oregon at the election just held will place the Oregon delegation in a prominent position in the convention at Chicago.

Swank, R. M. Brown, S. A. Sanford, E. G. Margason. There were 9 first grade, 9 second and 4 third grade certificates.

Mr. Foster's Condition.

The condition of Mr. J. H. Foster has been steadily growing worse during the past few days, and last evening it was thought he would not live till morning. Robt. Foster came up from Portland yesterday, and Mrs. Freeland is expected to arrive today. The remainder of the family have been at their father's bedside for several weeks.

We are just in receipt of the best line of suits ever brought to Albany and remember we will give away the piece of instrumental or vocal music with each suit while they last. Something new.

MURDERER LANDRETH AGAIN.

He Writes Another Confession and Requests That it be Published.

Landreth, the murderer, is out with another confession. Yesterday he sent word to a member of the Statesman reportorial staff that he wanted to see him; and when the reporter called on him at the jail he handed him a sheet of legal cap upon the four pages of which was written a third statement of his crime. It is more lucid in state ment than the former two, and is probably an exact account of the circumstances of the murder and the causes which led him to it.

The confession starts out with another strong denial of any criminal relation between Landreth and his step daughter. Then he repeats the statement about the girl and her uncle trying to break him down by using letters he had written, in consequence of which "all who knew me looked at me with a scornful gaze." His mind was so distressed that he could think of nothing but the ruin of himself and family. He felt worse, he says, than he does to day, and he has had his sentence a week. He says further:

"I did not think of killing the girl, but I thought many times of taking my own life. One time I cleared the hay from a joint in the barn, and thought there I would finish my distressed life; but when I went to the house after the rope to do it with, I could not take the rope in hand. My tongue or pen cannot describe the distress of my heart."

"Now, friends," he writes in another place, "it matters not to me what disgrace you put on me. I know that I will soon have another trial, and that is in the courts of heaven. God is the judge. He hath the evidence written himself."

He adds further on: "The last word I ever spoke in my house that morning, I said to my wife: 'The river is high this morning.' Then I went in the kitchen to make a fire. When I got in there a thought came over me to kill the girl. When that came over me, it set me so wild and crazy and excited, I rushed for the bed. There came a glare over my eyes till I could hardly see her, but she did not speak to me, nor did I speak to her. All I could hear was the screams of the children. I was so excited it was a wonder I didn't hit some of the children. I was nacking all around on the bed with the knife. I couldn't see just where she was. The first thing I knew my wife came and crowded between me and the bed, and pushed me away from the bed. I don't know if I had hold of her or not. There was not a drop of blood on my clothes."

Landreth then continues with the story of his flight from the house to the slough, where he says he tried to commit suicide, but was prevented by the boy; his escape across the bridge and his capture. "When I done that deed if I could have thought what would become of me, I would surely not done it for all the money in the world." He then says he never believed to be crazy, and closes by asking all who have been wronged to forgive him.

Landreth obtained from the reporter a promise to publish his confession and then retired to his cell.

Landreth was much disturbed about his date of execution. He apparently labors under the impression that he would be told when he is to be hung, but will some day be led without warning from his cell and strung up.

Glass Lamp Wicks.

Parker Bros. have just received a new kind of lamp wick which promises to supercede the old ones entirely. They are made of glass so finely woven as to closely resemble the ordinary wicks, but with them the lamp will not smoke, needs no trimming and will burn much brighter than by the old way. The wicks will not burn out, requiring no change of wicks. Call and see them.

North Pacific Dairy Association.

The quarterly meeting of this association will be held in Portland, at the council chamber on Friday next at 11 o'clock A. M. A good attendance is expected as matters of importance will come up for consideration. The last annual exhibition of dairy products under the auspices of the society, though quite interesting and instructive, was not as large as the dairymen could easily have made it, and it is to be hoped that if the society desires to hold an exhibition this fall, that an exhibit will be made that will be a credit to the dairy interest.

They are sold at $1 per package, or three for $2.50 and are recommended and used by the leading physicians of the Pacific Coast. No secret compounds. Guaranteed by Foshay & Mason.

Who Is Your Best Friend?

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until fast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will harm you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right—if you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Billiousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

Mothers, Read.

The proprietors of Santa Abbe have authorized Foshay & Mason to refund your money if, after giving this California King of Cough Cures a fair trial as directed, it fails to give satisfaction for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Croup, Throat and Lung troubles. When the disease affects the head, and assumes the form of Catarrh, nothing is so effective as California Cat-R-Cure. These preparations are without equals as household remedies. Sold at $1.00 a package. Three for $2.50.
