THE OLDEST FIREMAN.
Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.
Fire Marshal Wisbey is in receipt of a letter from Frank A. Hardy, Secretary of the Fire Department, Ohio, Fire Department, who claims to be the oldest living fireman in the United States or Canada. Mr. Hardy states that he joined the Fire Department of Hollis, N. H., March 17, 1837, and has been a member of some department continuously for fifty-one years. He is anxious that at the great parade of firemen during the Centennial exposition all the old firemen of the Ohio valley and central states should participate, and announces his intention of taking part should his life be spared. Fire Marshal Wisbey connected himself with the volunteer fire department of Cincinnati in 1842, and has served, therefore, as a fireman in continuous service for forty-five years. He says he is willing to give Mr. Hardy the credit of being the oldest fireman in the state, but thinks he can greatly assist him when it comes to the selection of fire companies as a fireman.
What a Jek and Is.
Quicksand is composed chiefly of small particles of mica mixed largely with water. The mica is so smooth that the fragments slip upon each other with the greatest facility, so that any heavy body which displaces them will sink and continue to sink until a solid bottom is reached. A large quantity of sand is jagged and one large weight pressing on them will crowd them together until they are compacted into a solid mass. A hard compound of mica or sandstone, when sufficiently mixed with water, seems impenetrable of such consolidation.

A KAWAIAU VOLCANO.

The Grandest Manifestation of the Kind in the World.
Cor Honolulu Advertiser.
Many of your readers will be interested in hearing of the great activity of Madame Pele at the present time, and if the same continues how well it would repay a visit to those who have leisure to spare of making a trip to one of the greatest wonders of the world. The following ladies and gentlemen left the Volcano House on Wednesday afternoon, May 9th, at 4 o'clock: Robert Hay, Miss Hay, Mrs. Pillet (from New Zealand), who are making a tour of the world, and T. M. Starkey. The party of course included a guide and one of the old Hawaiians of the islands. We made a quick traveling passing the Little Beggar tunnel or Dante's head, about 4:50 o'clock, and proceeded toward what we understand is called the New Lake, or Maby's Delight.
After leaving the main trail—if such a name is applicable—the fumes of sulphur were so intense that with the exception of two the remainder of the party beat a hasty retreat. After waiting a short time we made another attempt, and arrived at the edge of what is believed to be the largest active volcano in the world. Few people have been so favored as to see such activity in this lake or, perhaps, even in any of the others in the vicinity that are now extinct, though on our arrival many jets of fire were throwing out lava which we considered to be 20, 30 and 40 feet high, yet as time went on up to 7:30 o'clock after darkness set in the crater was in one continual boiling and surging mass. At one time over fifteen jets were throwing out the molten substance, not only against the banks and in the middle of the crater, but scattering large pieces of lava a distance of ten to twenty yards over the banks. One of the ladies who in former years had an opportunity of visiting Mount Vesuvius when the volcano was considerably very active thought that any one after seeing this scene would not care to visit the volcano of Italy.
It really was an extraordinary sight. At times one would think the lake was rebelling at being so heated up, and before the fire had completely burst forth the lava would be raised fully to ten to fifteen feet high and then be completely swept over and the red glare of the fire would shine so brightly as to illuminate the heavens, turning the night, which was a very dark one, into day.
We had what some people might consider a rather narrow escape, as while the interest of the party was concentrated to the middle of the crater a fresh outburst occurred at the north side where our party was standing and large pieces of lava were thrown up within a few yards from us, and we had, as the saying is, to make tracks. One piece of lava weighing about ten pounds, was thrown within four yards of our party.
After leaving the crater, shortly after 7:30 o'clock we proceeded, with our handkerchiefs over our mouths, to the usual track for home but the times of the sulphur were so strong that on arriving at the top of the bank it was some minutes before we could find our speech. We arrived at the Volcano House soon after 9 o'clock and did ample justice to an excellent supper which had been prepared by our host.

GENERAL NEWS.
Blaine Says Positively that He Will Not Accept.
SHERIDAN CONTAINS TO IMPROVE—THE INTER-STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION INVESTIGATING COMPLAINT.
THE HERALD'S SPECIAL DISPATCH.
CHICAGO, June 13.—A Pittsburg dispatch says that Chairman Jones of the republican national committee, has in his possession a third letter which he has just received from Blaine, from Scotland, and which is based upon the assembling of the national convention on next Tuesday. In it Blaine states most emphatically that he will not allow the use of his name in the convention, and that he would not accept the nomination even though it were tendered him unannounced. Jones arrived here this morning, but will neither deny or corroborate the report.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION.
He Is Much Improved and Has a Chance of Recovery.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—General Sheridan slept rather more than usual last night. Towards morning he had a period of general depression, following an attack of coughing. From this he quickly and easily recovered. At present his appetite is suffering. Pulse, 100 to 102; respiration, 28 and regular temperature normal. His appearance is better. General Sheridan's condition is so much better that the physicians have decided to omit the regular afternoon bulletin.

MILLERS' CONVENTION.
An Effort to Organize a Four Trust at Buffalo.
BUFFALO, June 13.—The second day of the millers' national convention opened with a large attendance. An effort was made at the morning session to form a four trust, but no definite action was taken. The subject was discussed at length, but the general sentiment of the convention was that it would be preferable to organize a central office, where all grievances and trouble arising from outside rates, etc., should be referred. This subject will come up at a later session.

BETTER FREIGHT RATES WANTED.
The Interstate Commission Investigating Charges.
NEW YORK, June 13.—The Interstate commission began today the investigation of the complaint made by the produce exchange against several railroads for discriminating in freight charges, more especially concerning export rates on grain. The committee will also consider the application of the Pennsylvania railway for modification of the order commission of March 8.

TEXAS FOR GRESHAM.
The Republican Delegates from the Lone Star State Prefer Him.
CHICAGO, June 13.—A dispatch from Empire, Kansas says: "The portion of the Texas delegation who passed through this city, were interviewed as to their preferences. H. C. and C. M. Ferguson, delegates at large, declared a warm preference for Gresham, and thought the whole delegation would vote for him."

DI 4 and Declared.
NEW YORK, June 13.—The Western Union telegraph directors today declared a dividend of 1 1/4 per cent. The statement for the current quarter estimates the gross earnings at $5,000,000, net earnings $1,350,000, fixed charges and dividends $1,220,000, leaving a surplus for the quarter of $150,000.

MILIONS OF LOCUSTS.
CHICAGO, June 13.—Dispatches from points in Iowa and Illinois state that millions of locusts are making their appearance. They are doing little damage yet beyond killing young and tender trees. Opinions differ about whether they are the seventeen year variety or not.

President's Appointment.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The president to-day appointed C. C. Farmed, postmaster at Santa Rosa, California, and Abraham H. Hawkins, postmaster at Watsonville, California.
College President Resigns.
GALESBURG (Ill.), June 13.—Dr. Newton Bateman, president of Knox college, after thirty years of service, has resigned, owing to ill health.
Given Away.
W. F. Read proposes to give away a fine gold watch with his gold and silver prize shirt, the very best fitting and best made white shirt in the market. The price is as low or lower than any equally as good shirt in the market.
We are just in receipt of the best line of coats ever brought to Albany and remember we will give away a fine piece of instrumental or vocal music with each coat while they last. Something new.

Found on the Dissecting Table.
Philadelphia Record.
Thomas H. Johnson of Wilmington, Del., whose wife had been missing for a few weeks, found her body in this city a few days ago under sad circumstances. Mrs. Johnson came to this city on a visit, but fell in a fit on the street. She was taken to the Jefferson Hospital, where she died, and no one claiming the body, it was given to the dissecting room of Jefferson College. When Mr. Johnson found the body it was on the dissecting table.
Just received by W. F. Read's a full line of ladies fine muslin underwear, also girls' white dresses and infants' slips. Call and see them.
A fine line of imported cigars received at Brownell & Standard's.

CAS OF GUNPOWDER.

A Scientist's Humane Invention for Wholesale Slaughter.
Boston Herald.
Should there be any debating societies yet in existence which prefer the discussion of abstract problems to vehement disputations on the burning questions of the hour, there might be propounded to them as an instructive subject for examination, whether Dr. Junemann, a more or less distinguished professor of chemistry in Austria, who has just made public what he thinks to be a wonderful discovery should be considered an implacable foe of his species or a philanthropist of a most beneficent order. The doctor, says the London Telegraph, claims to have invented a fluid of fearfully destructive properties. This fluid when brought into contact with the air after the explosion of a shell in which it has been contained, is transformed into a gas which, being heavier than the atmosphere air, falls by its own density to the ground, killing all man and animals within its reach, and moreover, destroying iron, bronze and other metals as well as setting all inflammable things on fire. The learned doctor states, in a letter to a Viennese newspaper, that so far back as 1848, he offered his inventions to the Austrian war office, which, however, both then and on a subsequent occasion, declined to experimentize with the Junemann homicidal vapors. It can well be imagined that in the fatal year '48, Prince Wladischgratz, Field Marshal Haynau and Jellichichne of Croatia, had quite enough to do in the way of shooting down and bayoneting insurgent mobs, without being troubled with Dr. Junemann and his pestiferous odors. Indeed, the doctor may think himself lucky if he escaped being shut up in his own laboratory by the uncompromising Haynau, and stifled with the noisome gases which he had himself prepared.

The Grant Memoirs.
New York Tribune.
I had a chat the other day with Colonel Frederick D. Grant concerning the result of the publication of General Grant's "Memoirs." The total amount received by Mrs. Grant up to the present time as her share in the profits has been $411,000, and $10,000 sets of the work have been sold. But for the rashness of a few agents and large purchasers, Mrs. Grant's share of the profits would have been $450,000. One man who bought $50,000 worth of the books failed in business and effected a settlement with his creditors at 10 cents on the dollar. Another purchaser of 20,000 sets has been dilatory in his payments, and great difficulty is experienced in bringing him to a settlement. The sale of the "Memoirs" continues steadily, but only a small income is derived from that source at present, as most of the sales accrue to the agents who took large numbers of the work, and still have copies on hand from which to supply purchasers. It will be a year or two before the sales again become large enough to make any considerable income to Mrs. Grant.

Russia's Canal Project.
Vienna Correspondence London Telegraph.
The project of uniting the Sea of Azov with the Black Sea is about to receive a practical solution. It is understood that a company, working with a French capital to the extent of $5,000,000 francs, is only waiting for the sanction of the Russian Government to commence operations. The canal will be 118 kilometres long, and will take four or five years to construct. The Duke of Leuchtenberg is at the head of the undertaking. It has been stipulated that for the construction, working, and administration of the canal only Russians shall be employed, though French engineers will direct the works. The canal will specially benefit the southeastern border districts, which produce again, salt, minerals, and fuel in abundance.

Killed by a Rattlesnake.
Glasgow Enquirer.
A few days ago A. A. Crumbley of Randolph county, Ga., was at work on his farm when he heard a dog which always followed him barking furiously in a skirt of woods near by. In a few minutes the dog howled and ran to him. Just below the dog's eyes were two drops of blood about three-fourths of an inch apart. He knew at once that the dog was bitten by a snake, and went to where he had heard him barking and found a large rattlesnake that had killed. The snake was over five feet long and carried ten rattles.
