GENERAL NEWS.

Two Great Emperors Who Are Now Objects of Interest

ONE DEAD AND OTHER BETTER

Frederick of Germany Escapes Away—Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Recovering—Serious Situation in Russia.

The Emperor's Special Delegation

Berlin, June 15.—The emperor died at 11 o'clock this morning at Potsdam. A bulletin issued an hour before the emperor died said he had been lying for some time in a slight slumber, broken by wakened intervals, during which he showed distinct signs of consciousness. He gave no signs of suffering, and his pulse and breathing were very weak. There was no material change in his condition during the night. All the members of the imperial family remained at the castle during the night. The empress did not leave the castle, and at 4 o'clock resumed her watch at the bedside of the emperor.

The death of the emperor has caused intense excitement in Berlin. All members of the royal family and ministers of state were present in the death chamber at Frederick's palace. A ministerial council was held just before the emperor died. Prince Bismarck, who presided was much agitated. The prince is closed.

AT THE DEATH-BED.

Potsdam, June 15.—During the early evening the emperor's condition was comparatively good, and he sat for half an hour in a chair and took some nourishment. At 5 o'clock there was an alarming increase in his majesty's weakness and pulse. These who had been in the palace were telegraphed to return. At 4 o'clock he became restless, and soon after the family were assembled in the room adjacent to that in which the emperor died. At 10 o'clock this morning access to the palace was stopped. Count von Stieberg, Wernigerode and Count Chamberlain were the only ministers present at that time. Chaplains Persius and Hoffmann were also in attendance. The prince's body was now assembled at Frederick's castle. They are now waiting an audience with the new emperor and empress, who are now at the castle.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Berlin, June 15.—The Reichsanzeiger (official paper) publishes the following announcement: "The royal sufferer has ended his earthly career. By God's decree the emperor king, our most gracious master, passed to his eternal rest shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, after long and grievous sufferings, which were borne with admirable fortitude and submission to God's will. The royal house and German people have twice been bereaved within a short time. They deeply mourn the decease of our much-beloved ruler. [Signed] Minister of state."

THE NEWS IN LONDON.

London, June 15.—Much sorrow is expressed at the death of the emperor of Germany, who was very popular here. Flags are flying at half-mast and the blinds of many houses are lowered. Immediately upon receipt of the intelligence Queen Victoria telegraphed a message of sympathy and sorrow to Empress Victoria, her daughter.

The Prince of Wales has returned from Ascot Heath, and will probably start for Berlin to-night.

The stock market is inactive. Foreign securities are a shade firmer, the impression of operators being that the death of the emperor will cause no weakening of Prince Bismarck's power, and that the peace policy will continue to predominate in Germany.

IN ROME.

Rome, June 15.—Signor Crispien minister, announced the death of Emperor Frederick to the chamber of deputies to-day. He made pathetic allusions to the dead ruler. By a unanimous vote the chamber adjourned until Monday out of respect for the late ruler.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

London, June 15.—M. P. Smith, leader of the government, announced this afternoon in the house of commons the death of Emperor Frederick. He will deliver an address on Monday expressing the sorrow of the English nation.

ROYAL THEATRE CLOSED.

VIENNA, June 15.—An order has been issued closing the Royal Theatre on account of the death of Emperor Frederick.

GREAT STORM.

Northern Minnesota and Dakota suffer.

St. Paul, June 15.—Advice from Northern Dakota and Indiana, state the storm of yesterday and Wednesday was very destructive. At Fortman, Dakota, several buildings were blown down. At Fergus Falls, H. S. Cole's building was demolished, and the Grand hotel seriously damaged. At Ennsfork, Minn., it has been raining for thirty hours, and the streams are rising rapidly. At Aitkin, Minn., the Mississippi is rising rapidly and hundreds of families have been driven from their homes. The water is higher than for fourteen years.

Disturbances in Kansas.

Wichita (Kansas) June 15.—Reports from Stevens county are to the effect that the entire population of the towns of Hometown and Woodstall are under arms. Squads of citizens are patrolling the country night and day, and show but little respect for the property of others. Two of these patrols met Monday and a lively fusillade ensued. Their horses were left back on the field, and it is not known whether anybody was killed or not. The situation is very serious.

Shedden still improving.

Washington, June 15.—There is no change in the condition of General Sheridan. He rested well during the night and coughed very little. His pulse is good and respiration improving. He continues to take nourishment.

Mullen Tunnel Open.

Helena (Montana) June 15.—Trains on the Northern Pacific will again be running through Mullen tunnel Monday.

Emperor Recovered.

Aux Les Bains, June 15.—The emperor of Brazil has completely recovered from his recent illness.

Wasp Stings.

It is a fact not generally known, that if one holds his breath wasps, bees and hornets can be handled with impunity. The skin becomes sting-proof, and holding the insect by the feet, and giving her full liberty of action, you can see her drive her weapon against the impregnable surface with a force that lifts her body at every stroke; but lets the smallest quantity of air escape from the lungs and the sting will penetrate at once. I have never seen an exception to this in twenty-five years' observation. I have taught young ladies with very delicate hands to astonish their friends by the performance of this feat, and I saw one so expertly sting a wasp to the service of a physician, through laughing at a witty remark of her sister, that laughing required restraint. For a theory in explanation I am led to believe that holding the breath partially closes the pores of the skin. My experiments in that direction have been exact enough to be of any scientific value, but I am satisfied that very sensibly affects the amount of insensible perspiration.—From Science Correspondent.

How the Egyptian Cool Water.

Carrier Harrison's Luxur Letter.

I need state only three facts to show the rapidity of evaporation in Upper Egypt. Water too warm to drink is put into a porous ear and placed in the wind, though in the sun; in a half hour it is as cool as good spring water. At night, exposed to a breeze, even when the breeze is rather warm, before morning it becomes almost ice-cold. The night of my arrival here I took a ponding bath, on a balcony. The wind was balmy, but fresh. The rapid evaporation so chilled me that I could not stay out long enough for my bath. At the foot of the cataract we took a swim in the Nile. We wore our underclothes for bathing-suits. We hung them up before our scaterons to dry. In ten minutes they were dry enough to be worn. We have all heard of the universal habit of all Africans to anoint themselves with oil, and travelers speak of it as a nasty habit. It is, however, necessary in very hot and very dry climates to prevent the cracking of the skin. An English officer told me that during the hot winds on the Upper Nile his hands and face chapped worse than they ever did in a cold climate—chapped even to bleeding badly. I have found fresh, white butter quite as pleasant on my hands as on my waist. The boys have felt no inconvenience from the winds. My hands are very sensitive to the effect of a dry, dusty atmosphere. At Assouan we were in the sun during two days. We did not use our umbrellas, our pith hats being quite comfortable, and yet we were just on the edge of the troubles.

We are just in receipt of the best line of corsets ever brought to Albany and remember we will give away a fine piece of instrumental or vocal music with each corset while they last. Something new.
