Reads wraps at cost at Monteith & Seitenbach's.

Minor Jackson, Brownsville's tenor artist, is in the city.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Messrs. Cyrus & Crabtree have completed a new saw-mill on Crabtree creek.

Miss O. S. Pollock, of the Albany college, is spending her vacation in Jacksonville.

Dist. Attorney Belt and Tilman Ford of Salem came up yesterday to attend court.

Miss Vesta Mason is attending the commencement exercises at the state university.

Work on the S. rahan and Pearce block has been suspended for the present for want of brick.

Ladies are invited to call and see the new style scissors at Will Bros. They are the latest and best thing out.

Patronize home industry and try some of J. Joseph's Havana filled cigars, the first of his own manufacture.

Wm. Kilpatrick, son of Mrs. Maj. Cassell, is very low with typhoid fever, contracted in Portland. He came here about ten days ago.

The many friends of Wm. Mack, Tomway Jones' popular barber, will be sorry to learn that he is quite ill and confined to his bed in this city.

G. W. Hunt returned to this city last night from Wallula, for the purpose of removing the remainder of his supplies from his old camp on the Oregon Pacific.

Rev. C. A. Woody of Amity was in the city yesterday on his way to Eugene to attend the commencement exercises of the state university, of which he is an alumnus.

Keep on the flies by using screen doors and windows, manufactured and put in your house complete at a reasonable price, by R. B. Vunk. Shop on corner of Second and Ellsworth streets.

Messrs. Will & Stark have just received a large stock of new gold watches, diamond rings, diamond insid ladies' watches, elegant chains and other new jewelry. They have an immense stock.

E. & C. Howard are actually selling millinery cheaper than any one else in the city, especially flowers and white hats, which go at cost till all are sold. They never carry old goods, but keep a clean, fresh stock constantly on hand.

The stone pavement in front of E. Flinn's block is being torn up and will be rebuilt by Mr. John Hoffman, who has employed two experienced workmen to assist him. The pavement on the Odd Fellows corner will also be rebuilt.

Col. L. F. Copeland will lecture at the opera house on June 28th on "Snobs and Snobbery," and on June 29th on "The Future of the Republic." The price of reserved seats will be 50 cents and gallery 25 cents.

"I have no hesitation in saying that extensive travel, a liberal education and fine sense of humor, combined with a natural gift of oratory, render Mr. Copeland, as a lecturer, the peer of any American platform speaker of my acquaintance."—William Cullen Bryant.

Mr. George Rowell, proprietor of the sweet Home hotel, is in the city. He says the roads are again in good condition up that way. He has in connection with his hotel a feed stable, blacksmith shop and every facility for rendering tourists and pleasure seekers comfortable.

Sunday School Extension. An excursion under the auspices of the Congregational, Presbyterian and United Presbyterian Sabbath schools will be given next Friday, June 29, from Albany to Munkers' station on the O. P. R. R. depot at 9 A. M., returning in the afternoon. Round trip tickets 50 cents, children under 15 half fare. Children belonging to the above schools under 16 free. Tickets for sale at Blackburn's drug store.

Declared Not Insane. Eliza Harrington, the victim of the alleged Brownsville outrage, was taken before Justice Humphey and a board of examining physicians yesterday afternoon and examined as to her sanity. She was discharged, it being decided that she was not insane. The case of the state vs. Arthur Burton, charged with outraging the girl, will probably come up in circuit court this week.

THE VICTORIOUS FIREMEN.

The Winning Hose Team Tended a Reception—Speeches Etc.

The remainder of the hose team, who had not arrived Sunday evening, returned last night from Portland. They were met at the depot by a large crowd of citizens headed by the juvenile band. The hose cart was appropriately decorated and upon it were erected several brooms as a token of the brilliant victory of the team in the contest at Portland. The boys led C. W. Watts, manager of the team, to a seat upon the cart, and the procession marched to the hall of Linn Engine company No. 2, where a reception was tendered the team.

An address was delivered by Hon. J. K. Weatherford, who expressed on behalf of the people of Albany their congratulations and the proud esteem held for their fire boys.

C. W. Watts responded on behalf of the team, stating that a protest had been entered on each of the three races in which the prizes were won, and that he had not been permitted to bring the prizes home. A meeting of the board of delegates of the Portland fire department will be held Thursday to consider the protest. It is likely that they will award the honestly won prizes to the Albany team, to which they rightfully belong.

A short speech was also made by Chief Webster, who complimented the excellent record of the team. The races won by the Albany team are the speed race, the dry test race and the two foot races won by Edward Cameron, of Albany. The prizes amount to $300. The boys exhibited in the races that the Albany team was the fastest at the Portland tournament. They will leave next week for Seattle, where they will enter in good trim to sustain their well earned reputation for swiftness.

HARRISON'S NOMINATION.

How the News Was Received in This City Yesterday Morning.

The bulletin board on which news of the proceedings of the republican national convention at Chicago was announced was besieged by a large crowd yesterday morning. Early in the morning many Blaine men felt confident of the "Plumed Knights" nomination; when, however, the cablegram over his own signature, giving emphasis to his former declaration, was placed on the board it seemed the nominee must be some other man. Harrison was decidedly in the lead, and long before the eighth ballot was announced it was evident that Indiana's choice would succeed.

The news of Harrison's nomination spread rapidly, and within a few minutes, "Harrison is nominated," "Hurrah for Ben Harrison," was heard on all sides, while a good many democrats of course declared that he was the easiest man on the lot to beat, just as they would have said of Blaine, or any other man.

A brief sketch of Harrison's life is given in our editorial columns. He is a man dear to the hearts of the people of his own state, and will be found on the side of protection for American industries, and is a firm believer in "Home markets for American products."

A Wager Declared Off.

Two prominent citizens had made a wager yesterday morning on the nomination, one betting $300 that Blaine would be the nominee. The other had put up the money, and the Blaine man had written his check for $300 and was in the act of placing it in the hands of the stake holder, when a man stepped into the room with the cheerful news that Harrison was nominated. The alacrity with which the Blaine man tore up his check, and the somersault of the other as he saw $300 slip from his grasp by being about two seconds too late in closing the bet, was the subject of much merriment among the bystanders.

New Swindling Trick.

A fellow has been victimizing people in Southern Oregon with a new swindling scheme. He carried around a handsome plush-covered workbox, with which he works his little scheme. He solicits orders for boxes like the sample he shows and offers to supply them at such a low figure that nearly everybody orders one. Each person ordering is required to deposit 50 cents when the name is taken down, merely an evidence of good faith. The swindler, however, is not working in good faith and never comes around with the boxes. It is said that he reaped a harvest of four-bit pieces in Roseburg. It is to be hoped that some swindled community may get hold of the fellow and make an example of him.

Burglary at Jefferson.

Thursday night about 12 o'clock, James Carl, who was sleeping in the Jefferson livery stable, heard some one trying to enter the grocery store belonging to A. J. Herri. Mr. Carl woke up Al. Waters, who was sleeping with him, and together they went to investigate the matter. They found the lock of the front door picked open, and heard the burglar in the end of the store. The prowler escaped through the back door, and has not been discovered yet. He did not get much of anything.

Excursion to Albany.

On next Sunday, it is announced, Tiger Fire Engine Co., of Salem, will give an excursion to Albany. The commodious steamer Wm. M. Hoag has been engaged and doubtless a very large crowd will be on board.

A Suicide.

A lady recently committed suicide because her lover would not take her to Pfeiffer's to buy some of that delicious candy. Take your sweetheart to Pfeiffer's soda fountain and candy store.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Cases Disposed of Yesterday—The Suit Against Linn County.

On the convening of the circuit court in this city yesterday, the following grand jury was empaneled: Marion Cunningham, foreman, E. L. Bryan, Frank Crabtree, Wm. Rumbaugh, Samuel Porter, John Cyrus, D. T. Pitchford, J. S. Clark was appointed bailiff. The case of the state vs. Frank Mack, for larceny, was continued. The case of District Attorney Belt, vs. Linn county, for the fees in favor of L. H. Montanye, came up on a demurr to the complaint which was argued and submitted. The following cases were disposed of:

H. A. Holman et al. vs. Tempa Hunt et al. Partition; continued. L. J. Long et al. vs. Ella J. Ramsey et al. Action to sell real estate for partition; report confirmed.

T. J. Black vs. Nancy J. Sippy. Confirmation; confirmed. Martha Barnes vs. M. Berrigan et al. Confirmation; confirmed. G. H. Leggett vs. Sarah Hines and Thomas Hines. Confirmation; confirmed.

Ford vs. Jerry Hay et al. Confirmation; confirmed. T. Edgerton Hogg vs. Thomas Monteith. Action to recover possession of real property, etc.; continued.

Della Fields vs. W. H. Fields Divorce; continued. D. M. Osburn & Co. vs. T. L. Hargrove. Action to recover money; settled.

OBITUARY.

In the death of Emma V. Storey this community lost a most estimable young lady, and they feel her loss very keenly. She was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Storey, of Tallman, and only sixteen years old at the time of her demise. Nature gave her many fine traits of character, prominent among which was generosity; this, with many other fine qualities, made her loved by all. Her sickness lasted several months, and she endured suffering patiently. She felt perfectly resigned to make the change, and more than once expressed a wish see to the end. It came at last, and on the evening of the 21st of May she fell asleep just after the sun had kissed the world good night and sank into his bed of crimson and gold. Kind friends laid her to rest in the churchyard on the hill. They bore her gently along the road by which she had gone to church and heard the birds sing on many a quiet Sabbath morning. No finer spot could be found than this to take the last long and dreamless sleep. There

The mossy marble rests, On the lips that we have pressed In their bloom, And the names we loved to hear Have been carved for many a year On the tomb.

There the winds whisper plaintive monodies through the tall grass, and at sunset you hear the doves' sad song; now the sunflowers nod their graceful courtesies to the summer breezes, and around the tall white marble slabs the moonbeams flicker and the starlight plays.

"Since she went home— The evening shadows linger here, The winter days fill so much of the year, And even summer winds are chill and drear, Since she went home."

"Since she went home— The robin's note has struck a minor strain, The old glad songs breathe but a sad refrain, And laughter wails with hidden pain, Since she went home."

"Since she went home— How still the empty rooms her presence blessed; Untouched the pillow that her dear head pressed— Our lonely hearts hath nowhere for their rest, Since she went home."

"Since she went home— The long, long days have crept away like years, The sunlight has been dimmed with doubts and fears, And the long nights have rained in lonely tears, Since she went home."

With Emma Storey lies buried the hopes of future years, but in her mother's heart she will live forever. May God rest her soul. D. B. M. Lawson, June 8, 1888.

Noted Lecturer Coming.

Col. L. F. Copeland, who is said to be one of the most eloquent humorous and instructive lecturers before the public, will deliver a lecture on "Snobs and Snobbery" at the opera house in this city on Thursday evening, June 28. The price of general admission will be 25 cents and reserved seats 50 cents. The Fair Haven, Vt., Era says of this gifted speaker: "No more sturdy blows were ever dealt against social or moral shams than were dealt by L. F. Copeland, of Indiana, in his lecture on 'Snobs and Snobbery,' at Poughkeepsie, Western in manner, sharp and pointed in wit, fierce in invective, soberly earnest in pathos, for two hours he held an audience of people who are acquainted with the best talent on the lecture platform to-day, and yet they did not tire. Mr. Copeland deserves all the encomiums the press have ever given him, and more.

A Warning.

The modes of this approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the outset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.
