

Xarifa Failing's Mother. Mary Elizabeth Barrett is anxious to be supported by her daughter Xarifa Jane Failing and to that ends asks the Superior Court to compel Xarifa to pay her $50 per month since and commencing on the 2d day of May, 1888, and there after during her natural life. In her petition to the Court, Mrs. Barrett says that she is now living in San Francisco, and is in actual want, and that fifteen long years ago Xarifa by "acts of ingratitude and law suits defrauded her of her property rights in a despicable, mean way leaving her destitute and inhumanly driving her in want from her home." Mrs. Barrett alleges that Xarifa is worth $40,000, and has a monthly income of $500. Mrs. Failing is the woman who recently killed her husband because of his infidelity.

That Highway of Nations. The broad Atlantic is ever a stormy thorough fare. Yet blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so loftily, seamen must man the good ships; tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit this center of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, seasickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital power.
