Jeff Myers, of Scio, is in the city. Bruce McKnight is seriously ill at his home near this city.

W. E. Turrell and wife have returned from a trip to Seattle. Weather indications are or fair weather, a most desirable thing for the farmers.

J. F. Stubblefield and wife, of Lebonon, have returned from Walla Walla. A pension has been granted to Mexican survivor George W. Boone, Yaquina.

H. J. Workman, of Shedd, recently of Morrow county, was in the city yesterday. Henry McIlwain has purchased the residence of Fred Graff on Second street, paying for the same $2000.

W. G. Brown, of Lebonon, is on trial in Justice Chase's court in Salem for selling a mortgaged wagon. Any one knowing themselves indebted to Mrs. E. J. O'Connor will please call and settle the same at once.

Patronize home industry and try some of J. Joseph's Havana filled 5c cigars, the first of his own manufacture. Rev. B. F. Fuller, of Nebraska, will preach at the Christian church in this city to-day at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

Major W. C. Cassell had the misfortune yesterday while working on the Strahn block to severely crush one of his fingers. As this is a year of activity in building, it would be in order for the Oregon Pacific Co. to commence the erection of their machine and car shops in this city.

F. L. Kenton continues to receive subscriptions for all leading periodicals, saving the subscriber the trouble and expense of sending direct to publishers. Keep out the flies by using screen doors and windows, manufactured and put in your house complete at a reasonable price, by R. B. Vunk. Shop on corner of Second and Ellsworth streets.

Messrs. Will & Stark have received a fine lot of gold-headed canes, fine silverware, gold watches and chains, etc., which they are offering at very low prices. Call and see them. Blackberries, peaches, nectarines, grapes, bananas, figs, dates, lemons, etc., at F. L. Kenton's. By the way he also keeps a full stock of first-class groceries, which he sells at the lowest cash prices.

Eugene LaForrest's trotting horse, Dick Flarr, is now in training at McMinville for the Walla Walla and state fair races. He promises to be one of the best steppers on the list. Mr. John Smith, Albany's aged citizen, who cast his vote for William Henry Harrison in 1840, made our sanctum a call yesterday. He will be on hand to vote for Benjamin Harrison next November.

Geo. C. Mason, of Jonesburg, Mo., and T. P. Dyer, of St. Louis, brother and cousin of D. P. Mason, are in the city. Mr. Dyer will go to Seattle to locate and Mr. Mason will spend the summer in Albany. Table Talk for July has found our sanctum, and brightened it with its clear, crisp appearance and excellent list of contents useful and agreeable. It is a veritable treasure. Published monthly in Philadelphia, Penn., at $1 per year.

Corvallis Times: John Vinyard found a nest of coveys last week near Tampico, and was fortunate enough in capturing every one of them—eight in all—two old ones and six pups. A very valuable find as their scalps bring $10 apiece to city. At the Congregational church this morning the subject of the sermon will be "The Good Shepherd." Holy communion and reception of members at the close of the sermon. Y. P. S. C. E. meets at 8:30 p. m. Subject of the evening sermon, "Spirituality in the church." All are cordially invited.

E. & C. Howard are actually selling millinery cheaper than any one else in the city, especially flowers and white hats, which go at cost till all are sold. They never carry old goods, but keep a clean, fresh stock constantly on hand. J. G. Crawford, of the firm of Paxton & Crawford will reopen the gallery in Harrisburg the 10th for two weeks. We will be prepared to make all styles of pictures, such as portraits, views of residences, enlarging pictures in the latest styles, family groups at home, etc. If you want first-class work done come and see us. Paxton & Crawford. Magic guest at Brownell & Standard's.

HERE ABOUT ALBANY.

The West Shore Considers It the Chief Business City of the Willamette Valley.

Of all the cities of the Willamette valley, none are exhibiting so much push and energy, or making so much substantial progress, as Albany, the county seat of Linn county; and this is due, not only to its many natural advantages of location and resources, but also to the enterprising and liberal nature of its citizens. No matter what may be the natural advantages of a place, unless a disposition is displayed to utilize them to their fullest extent, but little profit will be derived from them. The history of the west is full of instances where towns have grown apace and developed into cities of wealth and commercial importance, though possessing less natural advantages than some one or more of its unsuccessful rivals, simply through the energy, enterprise and united action of its citizens. In a still more marked degree has been the progress of cities in which both these elements are found in combination, as they are in Albany. In the matter of transportation facilities it surpasses any other city in the valley, or, in fact, in the state, save Portland. It has always possessed an outlet by way of the Willamette river, and for fifty years has had the main line of the Oregon & California road passing through it. This road now belongs to the Southern Pacific, and constitutes a portion of the great overland route between Portland and San Francisco, the link by which the great southern and northern transcontinental lines are connected on the Pacific coast.

Albany also has the Oregon Pacific, which gives it an independent outlet to the sea at Yaquina bay, connecting there with a regular steamer line to San Francisco. This gives the city railroad connection with two ocean ports in Oregon—Portland and Yaquina. This road is being extended eastward across the Cascade mountains, the interior plateau of Oregon, the Blue mountains and the Snake river basin, to Boise City, there to connect with the westward extension of the Chicago & North-western within a very few years, possibly two. Albany also possesses a branch line to Lebonon, a thriving interior town of Linn county, where it connects with the narrow gauge line extending up the valley from Portland. It will thus be seen that its transportation facilities are of the first order, and that, in so far as these are important, it is especially qualified to become an important manufacturing and distributing point.

In addition to its shipping advantages, which enable it to secure raw materials and market the manufacturing products quickly and cheaply, it possesses other qualifications as a manufacturing point, chief of which is its abundant water power, brought in a large canal from the Santiam river, and rendered available in two localities, both convenient to the railroads and river. This is now being utilized by several industries, all of which are prospering and growing, and there is a large surplus of power available for still other forms of manufacture which might undertake to handle the large quantity of natural and cultivated products of that region. Not a small factor in the probable success of such new industries as may seek a location there, is the disposition shown by the citizens to foster and encourage all new enterprises seeking to establish themselves. The hearty good will and cheerful aid of the business men of the city may be relied upon. They are desirous of building up the city in every possible legitimate manner, and to this end are exhibiting the liberal and enterprising spirit previously spoken of as being one of the essential factors to a rapid, but at the same time substantial and permanent, growth.

Other features of a live and progressive city, which the careful manufacturer considers before selecting a location in which to invest his means, such as substantial banks and commercial houses, a good school, good city government, a superior class of business structures and public buildings, and a class of residences bearing evidence of the culture and refinement of the people, Albany possesses in a full measure. No man need hesitate to select that city for a residence for fear that he will not find ample facilities for transacting his business, good schools in which to educate his children, or refined society for his family. Surrounding the city is one of the largest and most productive agricultural sections of the famous Willamette valley, not only in Linn county, but in that portion of the valley lying on the west side of the river. The bridge offers a splendid means of communication with the west side, which is supplemented by a ferry on the river. Farmers from an extended region go to Albany to trade, and send the product of their farms there for shipment. There is scarcely an advantage of location possessed by any other city which this thriving place does not enjoy, while at the same time, it has other advantages peculiar to itself. There is little that one could look for or desire in a thriving interior city, that may not be found in ample proportions in this prosperous and most beautiful place.—West Shore.

The First Pay Train. One of the results of the Southern Pacific company assuming complete control of the Oregon & California road is that the employees are hereafter to receive their pay from San Francisco. The first pay train passed through this city yesterday to pay for the month of June. It crossed over from Albany on the Oregon Pacific road to Corvallis and went down on the west side road.

New Music Teacher. Miss Annie Godley, formerly of Albany, has been at the Indian school at Chemawa during the past week, and will in all probability be appointed music teacher in the training school, vice Miss Willis, resigned. Miss Godley is in every way qualified to fill the position, and her appointment would be a source of great satisfaction to her many friends. Six shaves for a dollar at Vietek's.

OF INTEREST TO IMMIGRANTS.

The Cost of Living in Oregon—Wages—Price of Products Etc.

The following interesting information has been published by the state board of immigration. "What is the expense of living compared with that in the East?" Answering in a general way, the necessary living expenses in cities and towns, including servant hire, are about ten per cent greater than in the east. Of course those productions of Oregon which are consumed at home are as cheap as elsewhere. Hotel rates in the town of the interior average $1 per day for transient customers. Board and lodging for the week, about $5 at the hotels, and about $4 at private houses. House rent in small towns are very reasonable. Good five room houses with ample yard attached can be had for from $5 to $12 per month. Farm hands command about $25 per month, by the year's hire; harvest hands, $1.75 or $2.50 per day; house servants about $20 per month. For mechanics, carpenters and shop hands, the average is probably $3 per day; masons $5. Milch cows are worth $30 each, horses $200 per span.

As to the yield of Oregon productions, we take the report of the government, actual figures furnished by the growers and the estimates made by the farmers generally. Out of a dozen farmers interviewed two had less than 24 bushels of wheat to the acre. It is a common thing to have 38 and 40 and even 50 bushels of wheat to the acre. The government makes the average nearly twenty three; oats, 45 to 85 bushels to the acre. It is not an uncommon thing to have a yield of 75 to 100 bushels of oats to the acre in eastern Oregon. Oats from 5 to 8 feet high are frequent in this section of the state. A good deal of this grain weighs 50 pounds to the bushel.

Wheat raised in this state weighs 64 pounds on the average; barley yields on the average 26 to 38 bushels to the acre; rye 20 to 30 bushels. Potatoes about 250 and often over 350 bushels to the acre. The growth of such things as squashes, pumpkins, sweet potatoes and the like is simply astonishing.

The Experiments on Mt. Hood. A great deal of interest was taken by the eastern press in the ascent of Mt. Hood on the Fourth of July. All the principal journals had telegraphic specials about it. The New York Herald published the following editorial: The illumination of Mt. Hood on Wednesday night is reported to have been a perfect success. Although the experiments of signaling from the mountain to Portland by heliograph have been interfered with by cloudy skies, it is to be hoped they will be continued until some definite results are obtained. For military purposes visual signals are obtained by reflecting the sun's rays or the calcium light from a combination of mirrors has great advantages. The flash even from an ordinary field heliograph can be seen with the naked eye forty miles or more, and communication thus quickly established between bodies of troops in regions where cavalry could scarcely operate at all. The portability of the instruments for this kind of signaling and the accuracy with which the messages can be read at long distances lend peculiar interest to the experiments now being made at Mt. Hood.

They Want Another Train. Oregon City is not satisfied with its present passenger facilities on the O. & C. At the last meeting of its board of trade, the advisability of asking the Southern Pacific railroad company to put on local trains from Salem or Albany to Portland so as to accommodate the Oregon City passenger traffic was discussed at length.

Deep Sea Fishing Excursions. The steamer Mischief is prepared to take parties out to sea from Newport fishing, and will make frequent trips when the weather is pleasant. Parties desiring to go on some particular day will please send notice ahead. Tickets $1, not including meals. Address J. J. Winant, master of steamer Mischief, Newport.

Fine Appearance. The Monmouth normal school comes out with a very fine appearing catalogue, and on examination shows that it depicts solid work and improvement, with large attendance and a large graduating class. May success attend it.

Chief Engineer Eckelson. Chief Engineer A. O. Eckelson, of the Oregon Pacific railroad was in the city yesterday. He stated there was nothing which he was at liberty to say at present concerning the work eastward. He was accompanied by his wife. Mexican Cactus Bitters is the best remedy in the world for liver and kidney diseases, indigestion, etc. For sale at M. Baumgart's. A full line of ladies' slippers at cost. STATE DISPATCHES.

Railway Accident Near McCoy—Oregon Press Association—Newby Notes.

SALEM, Oregon, July 14.—William S. Glandon and a hired man started from his farm near McCoy for town this morning, and in crossing the west side railroad track were run into by the up bound passenger train whose approach they had not noticed. Glandon's man managed to jump from harm's way, but both of the horses were instantly killed, and the wagon was completely demolished. The team was a valuable one.

OFF FOR SAN FRANCISCO. W. F. Gray and wife, George B. Gray and wife, Miss Jennie Gray and Miss Reta Lowndale left tonight for San Francisco. The latter will enter Mills Seminary.

CHURCH INCORPORATION. The Ocean Park camp meeting of the M. E. church, to-day filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, empowering the association to sell and convey lands belonging to it in fee simple. Also declaring a majority of trustees, who shall be ten, a quorum, to transact business.

OREGON PRESS ASSOCIATION. The committee on arrangements for the next meeting of the Oregon Press Association met at the Viedette office this evening and organized by electing Frank C. Baker president and Frank Davey secretary. A committee of three was appointed to procure a hall in which to hold the meeting. It was decided to recommend to the standing committee on programme that Mayor Van B. DeLamunt, of Portland, be invited to deliver an oration on the occasion. They then adjourned till Tuesday evening. The Press Association will meet in Salem in August.

ALWAYS HUNGRY. A Frenchman With an Insatiable Appetite. London Standard.

In the Dictionnaire des Science Medicales Dr. Percy tells of a soldier named Tarare. This man was born near Lyons, and came up to Paris, where his first exploit was to eat a basket of apples at a friend's expense. On various occasions he swallowed a series of corks and other indigestible materials, which produced such violent colic that he was obliged to attend the Hotel Dieu, and while being examined almost managed to swallow the watch-chain and seals of the surgeon in attendance, M. Giraud.

On the occasion of one of these attacks of colic it was tried to frighten him out of his gross habits by declaring that it would be necessary to open his stomach, and the doctor proceeded to arrange his instruments accordingly. Tarare, however, found an opportunity to run away, and relieved himself by taking copious draughts of warm water. Soon after he found that his appetite had really increased to an excessive amount probably owing to the irritation produced by these absurd tricks. At 17 years of age, when only weighing 100 pounds, he could eat twenty-four pounds of beef in as many hours. He now entered the army, and being recognized by the surgeon-major, M. Courville of the Ninth Regiment of Hussars, was detailed for the sake of curiosity.

From the day of his admission he was ordered quadruple rations, with pickings and waste meat, but often slipped into the dispensary and laid hands on anything eatable. One day he was observed to seize a large cat, and, after sucking his blood, left in a very short time only cleanly picked bones, the hair being rejected in the course of half an hour like that of other carnivora. He was fond of serpents and eels, swallowing the m whole.

EYE AND EAR DEFORMITIES.

Dr. T. J. Eaton, Formerly of the Surgical Infirmary of Indianapolis, will visit Albany Friday to Wednesday noon, July 13th to 15th rooms at the Revere House, Corvallis Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 19th, 20th, and 21st, at Hotel.

Dr. Eaton has for the past twenty-five years made a specialty of the eye, ear and deformities, and has straightened more than one thousand cross eyes. All inflamed and sore eyes can be cured unless disorganization has taken place. Artificial eyes inserted and the most efficient braces for the cure of crooked limbs, club feet, spinal diseases, etc., furnished.

CROSS EYES CURED. The following reference to Dr. Eaton is taken from the Merced Argus of the 21st inst: "On Saturday last we witnessed an operation upon a cross-eye by Dr. Eaton at his rooms in the El Capitan Hotel. The subject was a twelve-year old daughter of Mr. Hunsaker, a resident of this town who has been from her birth afflicted with cross eyes. It was done without pain to the little girl, who during the operation on the eyes, smilingly answered several questions asked her by the Doctor and ourselves. Minnie Hunsaker, the subject in this case, after the operation, appeared a bright pretty little girl and smiled gratefully while thanking the Doctor for treating her so tenderly and subjecting her to so little pain."

The following account of a remarkable surgical operation performed by Dr. Eaton is taken from the El Paso Times of the 10th ultimo: "In company with Captain S. D. Slocum we called to see Miss Jennie Slocum the youngest daughter of the Captain, who has been in El Paso under the treatment of Dr. Eaton. We remember to have seen this young lady months ago at the ranch, with her foot twisted until it was at right angles with the other foot. To-day the left foot is as straight and natural as the right. We congratulate the young lady and rejoice with her father in this successful performance of Dr. Eaton. We were skeptical until we witnessed the result. We are now satisfied of the promises of the doctor. In these instances they were verified."

A remarkable case was brought to our notice yesterday, being that of a 15-year old daughter of Mr. E. P. Gilpin, a substantial farmer, formerly of Columbia, Missouri, now living near Collierville, in this county, who had been totally blind from scrofula in the eye for fifteen months. She was treated by Dr. Eaton, who is now in this city, after one personal examination, by mail with the gratifying result of restoring sight completely. The Doctor and his young patient are both receiving congratulations.—Gainsville Hesperian.
