IT HUNG MAJOR ANDRE.

The Very Remarkable Story of a Piece of Kope.

Coiled up in a window of a Broadway sugar store, among a lot of bad cigars and chewing tobacco lies a curiosity that has played a prominent part in American his tory. It is a bit of rope about three feet long, with nothing attractive about 15, and yet hundreds have asked its history. A reporter who did the same yesterday, received this intresting answer:

"Well, sir, that piece of hemp you see in my window is all that is left of the rope that hung Major Andre, the spy. The original piece some six or eight feet long I believe, has been cut up into little pieces and given away as mementoes, and the picce there is all that is le:t It came in o my possession somewhat curiousty. "Three of the pieces had been sent to England, one to Australia, another to an English officer in Constantinople and the rest were distributed among different persons in the United States. 'Some time I am going to try and collect them again and present them to some historical museum. It will be a curiosity anyway, if not a valuable relic. As it is, few know the strange rope's history. I think I shall have a little sign put in the window with the rope so that all who see it may know what they are looking at.

It has been the desired article could the driver be convinced of his mistake—Modwaich, so far, has been dug down. To the north of the lava flow, and lying in a country equally desolate and arid, the surveyors have come upon the ruins of Gran Guivera, known already to the early Spanish explorers, but which have been visited by white men less often even than the mysterious ruins of Palenque in Central America. Only a few people of Socorro and White Oaks have been at Gran Guivera, because it is at present forty miles from water. The survevors found the ruins to be of gigantic stone buildings made in the most substantial manner and of grand proportions. One of them was four acres in extent. All indications around the ruins point to the existence here at one time of dense population. No legend of any kind exists as to how this great city was destroyed or when it was abandoned. One of the engineers attached to the surveying expedition advances the theory that Gran Guivera was in existence and abundantly supplied with water at the time the terrific volcanic eruption took place.

The Romance of Two Students.

Willie-Stephens of Pittsburg is not only an industrious student, but an entirely ambitious one, and when the other day he set his mind on capturing the highest mark in B.rkersville Academy he meant to me successsful in the undertaking. The great barrier of his ambition was his fellow-student, Juliet Bennet, who was also in the race for board. I kept the trunk for six William. When the marks were years, and then not hearing from announced it was found that she had beaten him by on tenth of one per cent. Now William was resived that a little obstacle like that should not stand in his way se he got a marriage iteense, hired a minister and married Juliet immediately after the close of the commencement exercises. The girt had the highest mark, but he has the girl, and by the simplest law of logic he is consequently the possessor of both.

New Type Setting Machine. Boston Advertiser.

Au ingenious machine is being built at Ames Manufactoring Company's shops at Chicopee under the supervision of the inventor, George A. Goodson, which the inventor claims will revolutionize the present composition of a newspaper. It is called an electrio matrix machine, and intended to do away with newspaper type-setting as practiced at present. All that the operator has to look after is the lettering, which is done as on a type-writer, for the machine takes care of the alignment, which is perfect, and by a novel device for regulating the spacing the perfect justification of every line is secured. It is estimated that the machine will take the place of four compositors, besides saving the time of distribution. The card Don't they know what they want? comes from the machine a perfect Charity covers a multitude of matrix, and all ready for the metal sins. Then it should not begin at to be cast into it, producing the complete stereotype for the press. The machine is run by electricity.
