STATE DISPATCHES.

Serious Accident at Salem—A Writer of the Portland News Arrested for Blackmail.

Special to the Herald. SALEM, July 28.—This morning about 9 o'clock Ed. Laws, lately from Kansas, while operating one of the swinging slab saws at the saw-mill, cut his left leg so severely that amputation may be necessary. In sawing the slabs Laws placed his knee upon the slabs to hold them together, and in some way his limb was thrown against the flying saw, which cut a terrible gash diagonally just below the patella, exposing ends of both the femur and tibia and severing the patella ligament. He was removed to his home near the asylum, where he is resting as easy as could be expected. Laws had worked at the mill but a few days, and is in poor circumstances.

FIRE NEAR PORTLAND. PORTLAND, July 28.—Jonathan Tice's Excelsior factory on the White house road burned this morning. Loss, $15,000.

ARRESTED FOR BLACKMAIL. PORTLAND, July 28.—Harry McIsaacson was arrested here this evening, charged with attempting to blackmail Mrs. Doctor Murray. She states that he demanded $1500 to keep an article reflecting on her out of the Daily News. The News some time since charged that Mrs. Dr. Murray caused the death of Mary Scheller, by procuring abortion, and McIsaacson claimed that they had evidence of the facts.

MCHINVILLE WINS.

Judge Boise Decides in Favor of the New Yamhill County Seat.

Friday afternoon Judge Boise denied the motion of plaintiff for a preliminary injunction in the case of Bird vs. the County Court of Yamhill county. The effect of the decision is to allow the work on the new county house at McMinnville to proceed.

The learned judge held that the provision of the removal act limiting the cost of the new county buildings to $45,000 is valid, but that the limitation of the taxing power for building purposes to two mills per annum is void. Substantially, his reason was that the general intent of the enabling act of the legislature was to move the county seat, if the people, by a vote on that question, so decided; that in that event, it became the imperative duty of the county court to provide suitable county buildings at the new seat of government; and that the general intent of the act could not be defeated by the particular two mill per annum limitation, which would prevent carrying out the spirit of the law.

At Yaquina Bay.

The Corvallis Times says: Mr. Allen Parker is in this city, on his way to Portland, to make arrangements preparatory to opening the cannery at Yaquina Bay about the first of next month. Mr. Parker expects a big run of salmon this season and has the machinery for packing 500 cases per day and will employ about sixty men. There will be two other canneries in operation this season at Yaquina, and if the run is half what is expected, they will pack thousands of cases of fish. He also informs us that the two steam schooners being built at his mill are progressing finely. One is built for Mr. John Schwader and the other for Messrs. Bader and McKinnon and will each be of 100 tons burden.

Excellent Books.

Andrew Hale is out with the Daughters of America and his primrose album. Look out for him in Mrs. F. E. Robins, as they are going to canvass this city in behalf of the Daughters of America. A nicely gotten up, and very interesting book telling us all about what our great women of America have done, and still doing. Published by True & Co., Augusta, Me., and their fine primrose album, from the same house. They will sell like hot cakes. Subscribe for a copy of each.

Claimed He Was Robbed.

A man named Goforth, who is stopping in town with his wife, at an early hour yesterday morning emerged from the house of ill fame of Mrs. L. Bush on Second street and claimed he had been robbed of $60. He was somewhat intoxicated, and little credence is placed in his story by the officers. He is a gambler of unsavory reputation and between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning his wife went to the house mentioned and led her husband home. Both seemed to be very angry and swore like troopers, several citizens being awakened by the racket. Goforth obtained some notoriety some years ago by an attempt to blackmail I. C. Dickey, of this city.

Death of a Stranger.

S. W. Ryerson, of Downeyville, Cal., who came to this city about a week ago, died at 1:30 yesterday of consumption. He had $300 in his possession, which has been placed in the bank. His funeral will occur to-day at 10 a. m. and will be conducted by citizens. He was a total stranger, but is said to have possessed considerable property in California and at Deer Lodge, Montana, where he had recently resided. His wife is dead, and he leaves five children, one at Pendleton, Oregon, and the others at Deer Lodge.

An Incipient Blaze.

Fire broke out yesterday afternoon on the roof of the residence of C. P. Rader in the third ward. It caught from sparks in moss on the roof and was extinguished by a few buckets of water without an alarm being sounded or any material damage being done.

IMMIGRATION MATTERS.

Many of the California Boomers Will Come to Oregon to Invest.

M. D. Goldstein, who has been acting as agent of the Oregon Immigration Board in California since the 26th of April last has returned home.

He reports that the good people of boomland were in a benighted condition, as far as the advantages of Oregon were concerned when he first went among them as a missionary. But it is not so now. From the snow-capped peaks of the Siskiyou to where the waters of the Pacific lave and cool the glistening sands of the beach at San Diego, the many advantages of Oregon have been heralded.

On every possible occasion Mr. Goldstein's voice was effectively used in chanting to all who would listen loud praises of the beauty and fertility and great resources of Oregon. Pamphlets, folders and other literature were distributed, and the result shows that the seed sown by Mr. Goldstein has already borne good fruit.

San Francisco, Sacramento, Los Angeles, Stockton and San Diego and many other places were visited in turn, and all that one man could do for the benefit of Oregon was done in each.

At San Diego the resident boomers became angered at Mr. Goldstein's effective work and threatened to throw him in the bay. The representative of the great commonwealth told them to throw away and take the consequences, but cautioned them that Oregon would at once declare war on California if such an indignity was put on the Webfoot emissary. This awful threat quieted the gathering storm and restored harmony.

He told those looking for land that better soil could be purchased in this State for from $25 to $50 an acre than could be purchased in Southern California for from $500 to $1500. Oregon he said, was the best poor man's country, while Southern California suited the very wealthy.

Mr. Goldstein says that if the State of Oregon spent as much money in advertising as San Diego county alone has, the benefit would be returned 100 fold. The boom down there has collapsed, and is working its way northward.

At the Teacher's National Convention in San Francisco, Professor E. B. McEroy did yeoman service for Oregon, and induced a large number to visit Oregon. Mr. Goldstein says the Professor is worth a dozen ordinary men.

IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS.

The Mammoth New Store of S. E. Young—Its Elegant Arrangements.

The new store building of S. E. Young on the corner of First and Broadalbin streets, in this city, into which the mammoth stock of general merchandise has just been removed, is perhaps one of the most elegantly arranged stores in Oregon. The building was planned by Messrs. Williams & Smith, the well known architects of Portland, and was built by Mr. I. F. Conn, of this city, at a cost of about $12,000. It has a frontage of 48 feet on First street, and 102 feet on Broadalbin street. On either side of the broad First street entrance are two immense plate glass show windows, occupying the full front of the store. The Broadalbin street entrance is also provided with large plate glass show windows.

The interior of the store is a model of elegance and convenience, having been planned and built expressly for adaptability to the business by which it is occupied. The main front portion of the store is divided into two departments, and is occupied by the dry goods and ladies' dress goods department on one side, and an immense boot and shoe department and mens' furnishing goods on the other side. The rear is occupied by a complete line of groceries, crockery, glassware, etc. The long rows of elegant counters, show-cases and shelving are so arranged that every inch of space is utilized.

The office is supplied with speaking tubes communicating with all parts of the store, both upstairs and down. From the basement the building will be heated by two large furnaces. The store is provided with a substantial elevator, by which goods can be taken to the second story or the basement, at pleasure.

On the second floor is a large and complete stocked carpet room, a ladies' toilet room, and the remainder is given over to surplus stock and the immense line of cloaks, wall-paper, curtains, window shades, house-furnishing goods, etc.

The store is lighted by means of three of Allen & Goff's large, electric arc lights, and is provided with every modern improvement. Mr. Young, during the many years that he has been engaged in business in Albany, has gained and maintained public favor by keeping a stock large enough to supply any want, and by making a specialty of selecting such goods as will give satisfaction both in quality and prices and with the increased facilities afforded in his elegant, new quarters, he will be better than ever prepared to serve the public.

Disobeyed the Chief.

The Astoria fire department was called out to a fire in upper Astoria a few days ago and as the conflagration was a little out of the city the chief engineer ordered the boys to turn back. But they refused to obey him and went on and succeeded in saving considerable property. This action on the part of the firemen was commended by the press.

Well Boring.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system; and these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous; and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous; you may lose your young life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs, or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Bosche's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.
