BOLD TRAMPS.

They Raid Last Night's Train and Carry Away Three Valises.

While the passengers and officers of last night's south bound train were taking supper at the Depot Hotel, a gang of tramps, who had been hanging about the depot, entered a passenger coach and stole three valises and started to run away with them. They were observed by two boys as they sped away in the darkness, who gave chase. The tramps dropped two of the valises, which were recovered. The other one, belonging to R. D. Samford, of Grants Pass, was carried away, and all efforts to capture the miscreants were fruitless.

The valise stolen contained a suit of clothes and other things of considerable value. Tramps have been numerous about the depot for some time, and have acted very bold and impudent. A dose of buckshot, if applied in season, might prevent a real train robbery; yet it would seem that it would require an excess of boldness to commit even this robbery in as large a crowd as is daily assembled on the arrival of the through trains.

SWINDLING FARMERS.

The Eugene Register says that Mr. G. R. Ward living near Harrisburg recently bought one of Whitney's champion harvesters and binders of A. A. Whitney, traveling agent, and received a guarantee signed by said Whitney that the machine should do good work or the money refunded. This guarantee provides, however, that there shall be no interlining or creasing in the contract signed by the purchaser. In said contract there was an erasure of the price and also interlining regarding the taking another machine, which they claim invalidates the guarantee. Mr. Ward claims that the machine is a failure and they claim the payment is a $95 balance. Look out for these traveling agents and be sure you are getting a safe end of the string if you trade.

ATTEMPTED INCENDIARISM.

A Fellow Tries to Burn the Oregon Iron and Steel Company's Works.

Last Tuesday night a man was observed making his way among the buildings of the Oregon Iron and Steel Company at Oswego. The watchman caught sight of the fellow and watched his every movement, and saw him apply a match to some material. He started after the man, who took to his heels. The watchman called to him to halt, and as he refused to be fired at him, a bullet passing through his hand. The would-be incendiary escaped.

The New Steamer.

The new steamer of Albany Engine Co. No. 1 was tested on First street yesterday afternoon, in the presence of Mayor Cowan, the city council and chief engineer, Joseph Webber. On account of the high wind prevailing and the fact that the hose burst three times, no accurate measurement as to the distance of the steam could be obtained, but the steamer worked admirably. It is safe to say that it will come up to the requirements. It will under favorable conditions easily throw a single stream 105 or 170 feet. The chief engineer and the committee on fire and water will make a report of the test to the city council, when action will be taken as to accepting the steamer. In the test steam was gotten up and water thrown in 7 minutes and 20 seconds.

Forger in the Tolls.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Matthews of Salem, Marion county, Ill., left for the East, having in charge a prisoner named John Ellsworth, who is wanted in Illinois for a forgery committed three years ago. The following is a brief history of the crime, as related by Sheriff Matthews. In 1885 Ellsworth, with the connivance of one Thomas Durand, a Chicago notary public, forged a deed to a farm valued at $4000. The property was then mortgaged for $1500, with which sum the forgers fled the country. About seven months ago Sheriff Matthews learned that Ellsworth was lurking somewhere on this coast. From that intelligence he traced him to Astoria, at which place he was arrested last Friday. Sheriff Matthews received a dispatch stating that Durand had also been caught.

Came to Court.

Dr. G. Biggers, who recently made a spectacle of himself in this city by marching up and down the streets, offering to bet on Cleveland, has come to grief in Portland. The Oregonian says of him, "A very drunken man, who gave his name as G. W. Biggers, was arrested at the Gillman house by Policeman Hart yesterday afternoon. Biggers had been annoying the guests at the hotel the past few days by offering to bet $10,000 that Cleveland will be elected and threatening to shoot some persons. When searched at the station it was found that he was not armed and that his betting pile consisted of $5.30."

The Wheat Crop.

A trip through Linn county, made by a representative of the Herald, reveals the fact that the past two weeks of fine weather has been utilized by the farmers. By the end of this week fully three-fourths of the wheat crop will have been threshed, and very few fields will remain uncut. The crop is an unusually large one, and farmers are in good spirits.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

The jury in the case of N. A. Bland, charged by D. V. S. with the use of abusive language, before Recorder Denton, returned a verdict yesterday of not guilty.

A GREAT SHOW.

Sell Bros. Circus One of the Best that ever Visited Oregon.

If we can believe those who have recently seen the exhibitions of this justly renowned circus and menagerie, it must be admitted that among the peripatetic exhibitions of the day, there are none that have received a prominence more signal and pronounced than that of the Sell Brothers; nor are we able to record an instance of any tented exhibition giving more general and merited satisfaction. Its every act and feature is remarkable, and the majority can well be characterized as "phenomenal." As an adroit, sensational and entirely original act, that of riding, reining and driving twenty-three bareback horses, by Mr. William O'Dell, will commend itself to all lovers of the difficult and dashing in equestrianism. Of Mr. Showles' elegant and artistic bareback riding and of Mr. William Sells' "hurricane hurdle riding," we have had occasion to speak in former seasons, and further commendation is now superfluous. So it is with the graceful, poetic and perfected bareback riding of Seno in Caroni. Of gymnastic and athletic exploits by a large company of acrobats and athletes, there is such a bewildering and sense-astounding multiplicity that comment is non-plussed, and to speak of the unqualified merits of each in detail would far transcend our limit. We can not close this article, however, without a brief mention of the champion wing, fancy and rifle shots of the world, Capt. A. H. Bogardus. The Man who Shoots to Kill, and his four remarkable sons, each of whom exemplify all the possibilities of the gun. The show will exhibit here, Monday, August 27.

A Pioneer Dead.

One of Linn county's respected pioneers, Mr. Charles Roth, died at his residence near Harrisburg, on Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. The funeral will occur to-day at the Odd Fellows cemetery, three miles below Harrisburg. Mr. Roth was one of the early settlers of Linn county, and located on the farm where he has lived and died. He has always been an industrious, careful business manager, and was noted with his estimable lady, for liberal hospitality and numbered a wide circle of friends, who will be pained to learn of his death. He was an active worker in the Christian church, a man of deep thinking, and always conscientiously true to his religious convictions and theoretical reasonings.

Still to the Front.

G. W. Simpson, who has been offering great bargains to the people of Linn county, is determined to continue his offers of first-class goods at way down prices. He has now bought and added to his store the stock of clothing, gent's furnishing goods, boots, shoes, etc., of C. B. Roland & Co., which he proposes to sell still out at cost. His place of business has become the synonym for big bargains, and with this additional stock customers will find a complete line of general merchandise to select from. It is needless to say that these bargains are something that the public are not slow in availing themselves of. Look out for his adv. in these columns.

THE JAWWAY CASES.

The Spicer Mail Robber Reported to be Hiding in Texas.

It is ascertained that young Jane-way, who robbed the post-office at Spicer, Linn county, several months ago, is at present in Texas, where he went immediately after his disappearance from this state. A stranger answering to Jane-way's description was seen in the neighborhood of Eugene City a short time since, but it is thought he can not be the missing culprit. Jane-way's offense consisted of abstracting some $40 from a registered package, and owing to the small sum stolen, it is probable that he will be undisturbed as long as he remains in his present quarters. He will probably not soon reappear.

Look Him to Pieces.

While H. W. Cottle, secretary of the State insurance company, was camping with a Salem party at Rock creek, not far from Me-hama, a few days ago, he and Major George Williams took a pony each, loaded with provisions, and went back into the mountains on a hunt. While they were passing through a very rough district Major Williams' pony fell down and rolled up against a log. There he lay, holding the major fast. Mr. Williams has a cork leg, and the only way to get him extricated from the pony and the saddle and the brush, etcetera, was to take off his leg. So Mr. Cottle went to work and took the major to pieces. Then, after he had got him out of the predicament, he went to work and put him together again. No damage was done.—Salem Statesman.
