Recorders Davis is sick with typhoid fever. Wheat has advanced to 75 cents per bushel in this city.

Oregon grapes at Hyde's market at 75 cents per bushel. New and second hand heating stoves cheap at L. Gottlieb's.

Dr. E. A. McAlister has moved into Judge Strahm's residence. Rev. S. P. Wilbur, presiding elder of the M. E. church is in the city.

Ex-Gov. Chadwick and Dr. E. L. Leime, of Salem, were in the city yesterday. Dr. Maston was called to Halsey yesterday to attend upon a son of Hon. T. J. Black.

Wanted—A boy to work in a shop. Inquire of C. L. Brush, foot of Lyon street. Do not miss the great $10,000 sensation, "His Natural Life," at the opera house next Saturday.

Miss Carrie Pfeiffer has returned from Southern Oregon, where she went for the benefit of her health. She returned much improved. Girls and boys wanted to pick fruit by the Willamette Packing Co. Apply at the cannery or at the company's store on Second street.

Mrs. L. G. Edleman, who has been very ill for several weeks was able to be moved to Turner yesterday, to the home of relatives near that place. The state supreme court has convened at Salem for the October term, and one of the first duties will be the examination of the annual class of law students.

Messrs. Burkhart & Miller sold yesterday to Mr. Frederick Freese, of Lincoln, Nebraska, 267 acres of land belonging to Mr. Frank Smith, the consideration being $1500. A Spokane Falls dispatch to the Post Intelligencer says: "The Oregonian has purchased a controlling interest in the Review, from Monaghan & King, and will assume charge of the paper on Monday."

Julius Gradwohl writes from San Francisco that he has made arrangements to buy goods direct from England. He also shipped on the last steamer which left for Yaquina City to Albany 100 dozen each of cups and saucers, the very latest style, which he will sell for 75 cents per dozen, for net cash until further notice.

THAT COW. If the owner of that brindle cow that makes regular nocturnal visits to the yards of the inhabitants of Second and Third streets will kindly induce said festive bovine to remain at home during the quiet hours of the night, he will confer a lasting favor on a worn-out community. While the writer has no particular objection to getting up two or three times through the night to run out a town cow, still some of the neighbors are getting tired, and think they could cheerfully hit a lasting farewell to the troublesome visitor.

THIRD WARDER. Sunday evening police officer Wm. Miller was attempting to arrest a disorderly tramp, when his pal interfered. Mr. Miller attempted to put the "grippers" on the offender, when the other tramp caught hold of him and threw him backward so violently that he fell and broke his left arm.

The tramp was secured by the aid of other officers, and was arraigned in Justice Humphrey's court yesterday morning where he was bound over in $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. In default of bail he was incarcerated in the county jail.

There are twenty-five miles of the O. P. railroad now under construction by contract, and the work is progressing nicely, although there is somewhat of a scarcity of men. Wages are $2.25 a day. The track is laid part way past Kiphart's barn, where Weisner had his contract last year. As soon as the rock cut at that point is finished, which will be in a short time, the track will be laid in a couple of weeks into Mill City, at the crossing of the Santiam, where the bridge is almost completed. From this point there are two or three miles of grading to be completed to Gatsville, where a station of that name is promised. Mr. Gates feels highly honored by the company's action in naming it after him. From here the track can be laid without interruption several miles into the mountains, which will doubtless be done during the two months yet remaining for work, and rock work will probably be continued all winter.

Nearly a Serious Accident. Last week Messrs. Frank Crabtree and Henry Cyrus were in the mountains twenty miles above their places on Crabtree creek hunting, and had killed a bear and two cubs. The sight of the bear caused one of their horses to become almost unmanageable, and rearing around it kicked Mr. Crabtree on the right leg so severely that it laid him up for a time. On returning home the horse was still fractious, and Mr. Crabtree's father was assisting in unloading it in the barn, when the animal reared and struck the elder Mr. Crabtree on the arm and on the top of the head, rendering him insensible for several hours. It was at first thought he was dead, but restoratives finally resuscitated him, but the escape was almost miraculous, and a little further back on the head would have caused instant death.

DOUBLE WEDDING. Tomorrow morning near Halsey and in the evening near that city will occur the marriage of two couples, so intimately connected that it may be termed a double wedding, which will take place as follows: At the residence of the bride's parents near Halsey, Or., Wednesday evening, Oct. 3, Mr. Fred C. Godley, of Portland, and Miss Belle McCoy, of Halsey. At the residence of the bride's parents, near Rowland, Or., Wednesday morning, Oct. 3, Mr. Clyde McCoy, of Halsey, and Miss Clara Davidson, of Rowland. The young people are widely known throughout the county, and will receive the hearty best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

Death of An Old Pioneer. On Sunday another of the brave old pioneers, who endured the toils, hardships and dangers of the long tedious journey across the plains and mountains to come to Oregon, died at his place near Tangent. We refer to Martin Werts. His funeral will be attended to-day, and the remains will be deposited in the Albany city cemetery, followed by many who have known him during his long and useful life. Mr. Werts by frugal economy had accumulated a competence, and was widely known and highly respected.

That exquisite line of satins in our show window will be run close this week. Have no excuse for not getting in on them. Montieith & Scitenbach.

A Tramp Who Broke Officer Miller's Arm Bound Over on $500 Bonds.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

Busy at the Pavilion—The Goddess of Liberty for the Idaho Building.

The mechanics' pavilion was a scene of activity yesterday, a number of carpenters being busy at work preparing booths and stands of various kinds.

The statue of the goddess of liberty, which is to stand on the central and highest point of the industrial fair building, was being unpacked and put in place for exhibition. It is sixteen feet in height and is a very handsome piece of work. The right arm is extended above the head and in the left is the American shield. It will be a fitting ornament for the magnificent building the industrial fair association is erecting and when a 16,000 candle power electric light is placed in that right hand the statue will be a thing of beauty and a beacon for the wanderer in the dark and rainy nights.

Col. F. J. Parker was also at the mechanics' pavilion busy at work arranging his extensive and magnificent cabinet ores, minerals, crystals, etc. It makes a fine appearance and there are many specimens which are not only beautiful, but valuable. Col. Parker has expended much time and money in making his valuable collection of which he is justly proud, and it will be one of the most interesting features of the fair to many.

Workmen are also engaged in the horticultural department, which is in a forward state of preparation. The prospects for the fair being in readiness on opening day seem better this year than usual, but of course some will be behind as usual.

Burglar's Tap a Toll. Some bold person entered the store of M. J. Monteith Saturday night just before closing time and robbed the till of $13 in silver. There was $90 in gold in the drawer which they did not take. It is probable that Mr. Monteith, who had been in the warehouse in the rear, coming into the store frightened the rascal away before he had time to completely rifle the money drawer. A number of suspicious appearing and tough looking citizens have been in the city for several days, and it behooves the public to keep a sharp lookout, and night policemen should also keep their weather eye peered.

Runaway. Yesterday afternoon a horse being driven by its owner to a single buggy, took flight at an engine on second street, below Schaefer's stable, and ran away, turning the buggy over and badly demolishing it, and dragging its owner in the dust. The animal was secured without doing any further damage, but will hereafter make a regular business of running away from engines.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Two Suicides—An Insane of the Insane Asylum Cuts His Throat.

SALEM, Oct. 1.—Yesterday morning about 6 o'clock F. Metcalf, a patient at the insane asylum, entered the room of an attendant and asked for a sheet of paper. While the attendant's back was turned McCormac stole a razor hanging in a case on the wall. Two hours later he entered the water closet, saying as he opened the door: "Send for a doctor. He closed the door and sat down in the closet and cut his throat from ear to ear. He made four or five slashes. Another patient was within three feet of him when the deed was committed. McCormac had been in the asylum three years. He was formerly a lawyer of Portland. His remains will be shipped to Eugene Wednesday for burial. The suicide's father is Rev. Mr. McCormac, of Astoria.

SHOOT HIMSELF. Yesterday at Silverton R. L. Milster, an old resident of Marion county, was found dead in the barn, having committed suicide under the following circumstances: Milster's family went to the country in the morning and Milster stayed at home. After they left he got his rifle, cleaned and tested it, and then fastened it to the railing in the barn. Lying down he touched the trigger with a stick and the ball entered his head on the right side near the ear, killing him instantly. The body was discovered by his daughter about noon when the family returned. The coroner's jury found a verdict according to the above fact. Milster was probably crazy.
