GENERAL NEWS.

The Iowa Prohibitory Law Declared Constitutional.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.
Miss Frances E. Willard Re-Elected President—Eastern and Foreign News.

THE HERALD'S Special Dispatches.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The supreme court to-day sustained the constitutionality of the prohibitory law of Iowa. The point at issue was the right to manufacture intoxicating liquors solely for exportation to other states despite the state law, and it was pleaded that the prohibitory measure, in so far as the manufacture for exportation was concerned, was in conflict with the constitutional provisions, giving congress the sole right to regulate interstate commerce. The court holds that the state law is prohibitory both as to manufacture and sale, except for mechanical, medicinal and sacramental purposes. It is not in conflict with the interstate commercial provision, and the decision of the Iowa court is sustained by the supreme court. A decision rendered this afternoon affirms the right of the state to prescribe a test for color blindness among employees of railroads.

The Will Sustained.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Justice Lawrence, of the supreme court, to-day handed down a decision sustaining the will of Samuel J. Tilden.

A Warning.
The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue, their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boscchia's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

OREGONIANS IN THE EAST.

Massachusetts State Fair and Grange Matters in New England States.
Simsbury, Conn., Oct. 15.

To the Editor of the Herald:
We enjoyed the privilege of attending the Massachusetts State Fair held at Springfield last week. There was a fine exhibit of cattle, horses, sheep, hogs, poultry, vegetables and fruits, also farm machinery while the pavilion was filled with exhibitions of art and beauty.

Near the center of the grounds was the large grange tent, capable of containing several hundred people. The tent was decorated with appropriate mottoes in various colors, while fruits and flowers were abundant. Congratulations, introductions and greetings by brother and sister patrons were the order of the day, and all seemed to feel at home in the tent and apart for their pleasure and convenience. During the afternoon a public meeting was held, consisting of short addresses and music conducted by Arthur A. Brigham, Master of the Massachusetts State Grange.

In the evening a public grange meeting was held in the city hall, at which addresses were delivered by prominent men in the New England states. Oregon was also well represented.

During the week we visited the Connecticut Experiment station by invitation of Secretary T. S. Gole at New Haven. We were much interested in the explanation of its work made by Prof. S. W. Johnson, also in remarks made by leading agriculturists of this state, and Prof. Collier of New York.

We find that many farmers complain of the oppressions placed upon them, but thus far have been induced to organize.

Your Worthy State Master, never fails to lift his voice in behalf of the grange, when an opportunity is presented, and all give your Oregon representatives a hearty greeting.

Bro. Hayes will address several grange meetings this week in this state, as invitations are extended on every hand, many of which our limited time will not permit him to accept.

Fraternally,
Mrs. H. E. Hayes.

AT WASHINGTON.

Allison Corrects Mistake About Senate Substitute Bill.

BARNUM AFTER THE CLERKS.
SIOUX INDIANS—Naval Service Pension—Mr. Thurman Very Peckish—Secretary's Stamp Speaking.

Special Correspondence.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Senator Allison has settled a disputed point, which was caused by an error in the senate tariff bill, that made it appear that coal was to be on the free list. Mr. Allison says that it is the intention of the republican members of the Senate committee on finance, to put all coal upon the dutiable list, as now provided; the tariff upon coal to be made 75 cents a ton, and upon coal slack 30 cents a ton.

Chairman Barnum, of the democratic national committee, spent Friday and Saturday in this city, engaged in what, to me, appears no whit better than highway robbery. The day before his arrival he mailed circular letters to all Government employees here, telling them that he wished them to call upon him at his hotel; on Friday and Saturday for the purpose of making campaign contributions. Those who called upon him were plainly informed that he wanted 5 per cent of their annual salary for the democratic national committee; they were further informed that those who did not come up with the money asked for, need not expect to retain their positions under a democratic administration. To leave no doubt in the minds of the clerks as to the authority which Mr. Barnum has to carry out his threats in case of their refusal to contribute, they have been informed by their superior officers that they must contribute or go. The democratic party must be separate indeed when it resorts to such means as this for the sake of raising a few dollars.

The show of the city just at present is sixty Sioux Indian chiefs, who are engaged in a grand pow-wow, the proposed treaty by which they are to sell the Government 11,000,000 acres of their present reservation.

Mr. Cleveland has pardoned J. H. Wilcox, formerly Second Lieutenant Seventh Cavalry, who was undergoing a sentence in the penitentiary for duplicating his pay accounts.

Senator Hoar introduced a bill before the adjournment providing that the rate of pension for total disability incurred in the naval service of the United States during the late war, shall be $50 per month, whenever it shall appear that the pensioner was on board any war vessel of the United States during an engagement with the enemy, for which the officers and crew received the thanks of the Secretary of the Navy for gallantry and endurance.

Mr. Thurman was so feeble during during his visit here last week, that he could not stand the fatigue of a public reception which was tendered him by the local democrats. He promised to attend, but suddenly, left the city and sent his apologies. His son, who accompanies him everywhere, was afraid the old gentleman would break down.

It is a difficult matter for those having business before the departments here, to find a Secretary in his office these days. They spend about four-fifths of their time making stump speeches for free trade, and the other one-fifth in preparing the speeches.

There is a rumor that no successor to Bishop Obery will be appointed on the Civil Service Commission, Mr. Cleveland having decided that the commission was a useless body owing to the practical suspension of the civil service law by the officials of the present administration, from the President down.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S HEAD.
An Interesting Scrap of History Connected With the Court House.

The Oregonian speaking of the Portland Court House says: In the arched entrance of the court house in a keystone with the head of Abraham Lincoln carved on it. In these times of peace very few of the thousands who annually climb the stony steps and pass into the great building ever look up at the stony face of the martyr president above them, and not one in a hundred of those who do have the least idea that there is a scrap of local history connected with it.

When the building was built nearly a quarter of a century ago, and when it was announced that Lincoln's head would adorn the keystone, quite a number of democratic lawyers and orators, who were in sympathy, with the secession movement, openly declared that they would never pass into the court house under the stony glare of the face of the liberator of the negro slaves, and it is said that some, true to their word, used Fifth street entrance for quite a period. Several insisted that the obnoxious be pulled down, but no effort was made to remove it.

Times have changed since then. The court house, the new and imposing, has grown old and weatherbeaten and its dull drab walls have sunk into insignificance compared with many stately buildings that have been put up within sight of it; the federal sprigs in the court have grown to tall shade trees and the stony steps and brick pavement have been worn down by the tread of thousands, but honest old Abe's head still graces the keystone of the arch; it was put there to stay and will remain as long as the building stands.
