The only excruciating humorous paper in Denton county is the Newport News. It informs its readers that when steamships enter the harbor the pilot does not jump overboard with the hawser in his teeth and tow the ship to her dock, but that there are two good tugs there for the purpose of assisting vessels in.

School Registers.

Superintendent McElroy has prepared, arranged, and completed the general register for the use of the public schools of the state. This is done in accordance with the amendments made to the public school laws by the last legislative assembly, which makes it obligatory upon the superintendent of public instruction to prepare a uniform series of suitable registers, etc., for conducting all needed business under the school laws of the state.

This register is very complete and comprehensive, embracing within one book blanks and forms for registration of pupils, teacher's daily register, pupils' roll of honor, visitors' register and summary and blank forms for teacher's orders, with a general summary for the school term or year.

The register is prepared with especial care to comply with the requirements of the Oregon law, and to secure accurate, convenient, uniform and permanent school records. The book is adapted to the needs of city, town, village, or rural public schools, whether graded or ungraded, and will do more to secure uniform advancement and development of public school work than anything heretofore attempted.

These registry books will be forwarded to the several county school superintendents as rapidly as possible, from whom school clerks may obtain them for their districts. Sufficient numbers will be sent out to the various counties to supply each and every school room in the state, and are supplied free of charge.

While the book has been arranged in a most economical way, the work of the state printer and the bookbinder is excellent and elegant and highly creditable to all concerned. The public schools of Salem are the very first in the state to use the book, the board of directors having been supplied with sufficient copies yesterday.

R. Kirkpatrick, Lebanon.

About Albany.

The following item is clipped from the Republican published at Marysville, Kansas: Charles Hamelin, who has been through the different western states and territories recently, thinks that in the vicinity of Albany, Oregon, where L. W. Guiss is located, is the garden spot of the world. He says that Luhrs & Barks, Dorfner, and others formerly from this place, are doing well, and satisfied with the country. Mr. Hamelin brought samples of wheat back with him that averaged 60 bushels per acre, oats that yielded 120 bushels per acre, and several samples of apples, hops, &c. He thinks the country is almost a paradise.

At an early hour yesterday morning Thomas Wallace heard some one trying to effect an entrance into his residence on Elsworth street. The fellow was trying to get into the kitchen. Mr. Wallace pointed his revolver out of the window, and fired two shots at the would-be burglar, who fled.

Ladies.

I have received my full stock of fall and winter millinery, have secured the service of Miss Smith, of Portland, trimmer. Will be pleased to show goods at any time. Ida M. Brush, successor to Mrs. E. J. O'Connor.

Too Late.

The Democrat says the case of G. W. Belt against Linn county for deputy district attorney fees in favor of Deputy L. H. Montanye, will be appealed. Just how this can be done after the money has been paid on the judgment, seems difficult to explain.

Probably the End of It.

It is said that the contest case of J. J. Whitney for the county judgeship will be appealed. The case was dismissed with such a decision by Judge Boise as would leave little grounds for taking the case up. This will probably be the end of the case, as the mode of contest was declared illegal.
