NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON,

> FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, LEVI P. MORTON, OF NEW YORK.

OF INDIANA.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS WM. KAPUS ROBERT M'LEAN,

THE FARMER'S BENEFIT.

The question for the tiller of the soil, the producers of this country, to consider in connection with the tariff discussion is whether it is preferable to have a home market for products, or reach out for foreign markets to the detriment of home markets. Ninety-two per cent of our products are now consumed at home, which is the direct outcome of our large manufacturing growth. Can any one be so blind as not to be able to compr hend the advantages of a market for his products at his own door? Can any one be so biased by party last three years ending with June prejudices as to close his eyes to 30 1887, fails to reveal a single his own personal interests?

who has just returned from England, says: "The farmers here, if they do not see the advantages of protection, are surely misinformed. Is it not better for them to sell their produce in markets like how much fence wire was imported, Chicago and other cities in the Union than to ship it to Liverpool? They get more for it at home, because there is an active demand; but once free trade obtains a hold, no matter who first told it, and it the maket is destroyed and the Liverpool merchants have us at he only parrots over statements their mercy."

factory transplanted to a foreign for our products, sends the money out of the country for manufactured articles, and consequently removes the money entirely from circulation, making hard times. These are facts for the tillers of the soil to take into consideration when deciding what policy the government shall be run under for the next four years, when they cast their votes the 6th of next month. Practically it matters very little whether the presidents name is Harrison or Cleveland, but to the welfare of the country it does matter very materially whether we continue to improve our home markets and home manufactures, or whether we adopt a system that goes searching after a mythical foreign market that hard experience has already taught us cannot be found, for the increase of importawished for increase of exportations, I DIERINGER WILL PAY THE HIGH-Wished for increase of exportations, Apply to him at the Albany Market, Albany.

Fillmore, in his message in 1851, when the free trade tariff was in operation, says: "It was hoped that our low tariff with heavy importations of foreign goods wen d have increased the foreign demand for our provisions and sarplus farm products, but instead of doing so our exports have fallen from $68,-701,921 in 1847 to $26,051 373 in 1850 and to $21,848,653 in 1851, with every prospect of falling lower during 1872; and while it was believed that a low duty would increase the foreign demand and raise the price of our surplus preducts, the result proves that a low duty did not produce any such effect." If a vote for Mr. Cleveland means a change in the policy of the government to bring about there results, and Mr. Cleveland has plainly put himself in the position that means that alone, then the tillers of the soil should very carefully consider the question, for easting a vote for him is most certainly voting against their best interests and for a course that will eventually result in their great harm.

The Evening Democrat fulminates the following: "By the senate tariff bill the tax on lumber is retained, and that on wire for fencing is increased. These are articles of prime need to our farmers. How can western congressmen stand before their constituents and advocate, or defend, such measures? There is no sentiment involved. It is a matter of dollars and the bill, in these particulars, is in direct conflict with the interests of our farmers." A thorough search of the treasury department report upon imported goods for the pound of barbed wire fence ma-Nathaniel Paige of Washington, terial imported into this country. We mention this fact to show the entirely dishonest and specious arguments of the Democrat editor, and not establish the fact as an argument in the case, for no matter as has already been repeatedly shown, the claim that the tariff is added to the price of the article as sold here is a bare faced falsehood, was not the Democrat editor for that are stale, and knows them to The factory at our own doors be false in this instance for he and by our own countrymen creates knows that barbed wire for fencing the home market for our products, is an American invention and keeps the money in our own manufactured in this country. The country and also keeps that money inferences of the above quotation, in constant circulation, while the if carried out, would transplant all manufactures into foreign countries. country destroys the home market Democrats nor no other American citizens are blind enough to want any such act accomplished, but fine Tea and Dinner sets these would be Democratic leader are willing to talk anythingeven to ac mplish any act-to establish the prospects of party
