THE WORLD'S FAIR

The American Exhibit to be Made at Paris Next Year.

UNIVERSAL EXPOSITION OF 1889.
Details of the Project Which Has Been Endorsed by Congress—Its Magnitude.

Special Correspondence.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris promises to be one of the largest and most successful of the world's fairs held in recent years. Elaborate arrangements for the reception and display of the exhibits are under way, and unusual facilities both for the transportation of goods from this country and their care are assured. The French government extended a formal invitation to the United States to take part in the exposition. The invitation was accepted by a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, and the Governors of the several states and territories were requested to invite the people to assist in the proper representation of the products of American industry and of the natural resources of the country. The President was directed to appoint a commissioner-general to make all of the arrangements for exhibits and represent the government at the exposition. He was directed to appoint nine scientific experts as assistants to the commission, each to be assigned to one of the nine groups into which the exhibits will be divided. Provisions were made for the salaries of commissioners and the necessary assistants, and the sum of $250,000 was appropriated to be used under the direction of the Secretary of State to defray all expenses. The action of Congress was approved May 10, and the President has appointed General William B. Franklin, Commissioner General and Mr. Somerville P. Tuck, Assistant Commissioner General.

WHO THE COMMISSIONERS ARE.
The commissioners have established headquarters in Mills Building this city, and are busily engaged receiving applications and perfecting the details for a complete representation. The exposition will open May 5 and close October 31, 1889, and there will be no charge for space occupied by exhibitors. The commission will forward and return all articles received free of freight charges.

Goods of exhibitors who are unable to go to Paris or send representatives, will be cared for free of expense, except that of unpacking and repacking. There will be no duties to pay except on goods that are sold or consumed. The French regulations state that all objects exhibited will be protected against piracy of inventions or designs.

DIVISION OF EXHIBITS.
The exhibition is to be divided into line groups or departments, as follows:

1. Works of art.
2. Education, and processes used therein.
3. Plain and decorative house furniture.
4. Textile fabrics.
5. The raw and manufactured products of mining, forestry, chemistry, etc.
6. Apparatus and methods of mechanical industries.
7. Food products.
8. Agriculture, vine culture and fish culture.
9. Horticulture.

The French government has appropriated 43,000,000 francs to ward the expenses of the exposition. An advisory commission consisting of 300 members and styled the "Grand Council of the World's Exhibition of 1889," has been appointed. The Minister of Commerce and Manufactures acts as president of this council and also as commissioner-general of exhibition. The grand council is divided into twenty-two advisory committees, who have charge of the different departments and the management of the exposition.

The buildings for the exposition are now nearly completed. They occupy the Champ de Mars and the Trocadero Palace and park on the banks of the Seine. In the park at the entrance to the exhibition on the Champ de Mars the wonderful Eiffel Tower is now in course of erection. It is to be entirely of iron and 1,000 feet in height. Its object is to show the triumph of modern engineering skill. It will be furnished with an elevator of American manufacture. On the right of the tower is the Palace of Liberal Arts, and on the left the fine Palace of Fine Arts. Large gardens occupy the centre of the square, and at the back of the main building, or the gallery of machines as it is called, the Esplanade of Invalides is reserved for the products of the French colonies. The buildings are magnificent structures of glass and iron, lighted by electricity and fitted with every modern convenience.

THE FAIR'S MAGNITUDE.
It is expected that the total number of exhibitors from all countries will reach 30,000; it is estimated that 12,000,000 persons will enter the grounds and buildings. Some idea of the magnitude of the exhibition may be gained from the fact that the total area of buildings and enclosed grounds, which is to be lighted by electricity, is 3,000,000 square feet. An exhibit from this country fully equal to that of 1875 is expected and it is hoped it will be much larger. There are numerous lines of industry that need new markets for their goods, and this exhibition will afford them an opportunity for foreign display.

All of the countries except Germany, take an interest in the exposition, and will make displays. The South American republics and Mexico will also take a particularly active part as well as Japan.

The usual awards of medals and diplomas will be made, but the details as to this have not been determined.

National Surgical Institute.
Two or more surgeons representing this institute will be at the Revere House, Albany Nov. 6th, or at the St. Charles hotel Lebanon Nov. 7th, 1888. They come fully prepared with all the apparatus necessary for the successful treatment of their specialties: curvature of the spine, disease of the hip and knee joint, crooked limbs, club feet and all bodily deformities. Their success in treating these troubles as well as all chronic and sexual diseases has made for the institute a national reputation. Upon application, references will be furnished from patients in all parts of the United States. All persons who are suffering from any of these complaints, should not fail to take advantage of this opportunity for relief.
