California, the Land of Discoveries

EUREKA

The motto of California means "I have found it." Only in that land of sunshine, where the orange and grape bloom and ripen attain their highest perfection in midwinter, are the herbs and gums found that are used in that pleasant remedy for all throat and lung troubles, SANTA ABIE, the ruler of coughs, asthma, and consumption. Foshay & Mason, of Albany, Oregon, have been appointed dispensers for this valuable catarrh remedy, and sell it under a guarantee at $1 per bottle for $2.00.

HARRISON ELECTED.

He Carries New York State by Over Eleven Thousand.

THE VOTE IN THIS STATE.

Oregon Will Give a Republican Majority Exceeding that of June.

HARRISON'S ELECTION CONCEDED.

Indiana Gives Harrison About 10,000—A Close Vote in Connecticut, Missouri and West Virginia.

PRESIDENT HARRISON.

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—Great enthusiasm is manifested in this city over the victory for Harrison and Morton. The democrats concede the election to Harrison, and the returns received in this city show that there is a sweeping republican victory in the United States.

The returns from the state are slowly coming in. 167 precincts, including Portland, give Harrison 20,012; Cleveland, 16,734; Fiske, 14,347. The same precincts in 1884 gave Blaine 16,495; Cleveland, 14,347. In June, 1884, Hermann, 20,367; Geary, 16,470.

Benton county shows a republican plurality of 200. Marion county exceeds its usual republican majority. From the returns it is estimated that the majority for Harrison will somewhat exceed the republican majority in June.

NEW YORK GIVES HARRISON 11,191.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The vote of all the counties in the state, including New York and King counties, shows a plurality for Cleveland of 78,956, and for Harrison of 90,470, making Harrison's plurality in the state 11,514.

CONNECTICUT.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 7.—The returns are complete and give Cleveland a plurality of 450 in the state. The republicans elect the state ticket. The legislature will be strongly republican.

IOWA.

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—The republican majorities average 30,000 and elect every congressman except in the Second district.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—The republicans will elect 10 of the 11 congressmen. The latest returns give the state to Harrison by 15,000 to 18,000 majority. The legislature will be heavily republican.

MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 7.—There is nothing new to report from Minnesota. The state is safely republican.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The vote of 84 counties in Illinois, including Cook county, shows a majority for Harrison of 38,943; Cleveland, 19,373. The remaining 18 counties in 1884 gave Blaine 5884 and Cleveland 6542. Assuming that the 18 counties not yet heard from give the same results as in 1884, the state will give a plurality for Harrison of 18,912. It is safe to say, therefore, that Harrison's plurality will be about 19,000.

NEVADA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—In Nevada there are 172 precincts. Of these the complete returns from 61 precincts give Harrison, 4905; Cleveland, 2887.

OTHER STATES.

NEW JERSEY, Nov. 7.—New Jersey is conceded to the democrats. Connecticut and West Virginia are claimed by both parties.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—Indiana has gone republican by 19,000.

IOWA.

IOWA, Nov. 7.—All the precincts in Iowa county give Harrison 17,222; Cleveland, 1883; Fiske, 33; Curtis, 7; Beattie, 1759; Works, 1770; Searies, 1482; Sullivan, 1497. In 1884 Iowa county gave Cleveland 1395; Blaine, 1395.

For congress, DeHaven, 1756; Thompson, 1490.

Complete returns from Sacramento county, except Elk Grove precinct, which gave Blaine in 1884 a majority of 50, give Harrison 4620; Cleveland, 3357; Curtis, 74; Fiske, 82; McKinnin (rep.), for congress, 4704; Morgan (dem.), 3285.

Out of 1500 precincts in California 612 precincts outside of San Francisco give Harrison 47,004; Cleveland, 41,215.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The count is proceeding slowly. The democrats claim the city by 8000 to 9000. The republicans concede 4600.

UNDER LAVA AND ASHES.

Destructive Earthquakes in the Malay Archipelago.

Late last Spring the two cables lines that connect Australia with Northern Hemisphere suddenly and simultaneously ceased to work, and the island continent was for a time cut off from instantaneous communication with the outer world. The fact that both cables on the same day failed to render their usual service was regarded as a remarkable coincidence, and excited alarm. Letters from Melbourne say the opinion was general that this strange coincidence was either the result of a great convulsion at the bottom of the ocean or was the work of an enemy; and every Australian Government lost no time in putting its defenses in the best possible condition. It was not long, however, before placidity of mind was restored by the discovery that nature, and not man, was responsible. In the great volcanic belt south of Java, where the cables lie within forty miles of each other, they had been simultaneously fractured, it is supposed by some tremendous submarine disturbance.

A few weeks ago one of the hundred of little islands that dot that part of the world was racked by the eruptive throes of the volcano which forms its conspicuous feature. The cables had brought us meagre details of the burial of villages under layers of lava and ashes and the wretched deaths of many natives. Prof. Wallace, in "The Malay Archipelago," has given a most graphic picture of the destructive energy often displayed by this vast and tortuous line of volcanoes. He tells of thirty villages destroyed by a single eruption on Java, of 12,000 people killed in the great eruption of Sumbawa, and of the great eruption of Mount Merapi in 1860, when he visited the island. He found twelve Malay villages there and its big mountain was clad with verdure to its summit. When two years later, he saw the island again, most of the mountain had been blown into the sea and the greater part of the populace had been killed. Earthquakes and volcanic outbursts are chronic there, and often we do not hear for many months of great calamities that have overwhelmed some small islands in those waters.

Since the awful explosion that blew the island of Krakatoa into the sea, and destroyed many thousands of lives, no volcanic eruption has equaled in magnitude and direful results the disaster that overwhelmed a number of Japanese villages about 200 miles of Tokio early in July. There was no fire or lava, and the tragedy seems to have been caused by immense volumes of steam which, without a moment's warning, blew one of the three peaks of the Bandai-san volcano into the air and scattered the debris for many miles around, burying five hamlets under twenty feet of liquid mud. It was like a boiler explosion of indescribable violence. Bombers weighing many tons were shot five miles into the air. A little river was buried out of sight. The country for five miles on one side of the volcano was overwhelmed by the torrent of falling earth. An abyss about 1000 feet deep now marks the spot where the peak rose high above the surrounding country. All landmarks were obliterated, and above the rice fields here and there the impeded streams have formed great lakes. Nearly a thousand people were killed in this deluge, which for a time turned day into night, and most of their bodies were buried where they stood, under the new table-land formed by the rain of red-hot earth.

No wonder the Japanese have a mortal terror of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, when they are treated to such prodigious displays of the subterranean forces.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Mob of Negroes Attack a Supervisor in Kentucky.

TWO OF THEM ARE KILLED.

A Citizen Shot Down in Cold Blood at the Polls in New York—Chamberlain Coming to America.

THE HERALD'S SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 7.—In an election riot at Bowling Green a mob of negroes attacked Supervisor Wilkerson. He defended himself with his revolver, and one of the negroes was killed and one fatally wounded. A white man was shot through the arm.

Another Election Tragedy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—At the close of the polls yesterday afternoon Dan Harrington fatally shot Win. Peers. It appears that Peers was walking along minding his own business, and was knocked down and shot maliciously without any provocation whatever.

En Route to America.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 7.—It is announced that Mr. Chamberlain is en route to America, and that he will marry Miss Wendell on his arrival. He will spend a few weeks in visiting friends in America, and will return to England about Christmas.

The Productiveness of Oregon.

The soil here is wonderfully rich and productive and produces wheat, oats, barley, flax, peas, beans, vegetables of all sorts and staple fruits in their most perfect form. Oregon flour has long commanded the highest price in the Liverpool market, and now Oregon apples, green and evaporated, pears and prunes sell for more than the product of any other part of the United States in Chicago. St. Paul buys our "big red apples" and luscious prunes. The yield of both these fruits—long since accorded the best of "staples" in all markets, has been enormous this year, and the sight of an average Oregon orchard would make the eyes of a "Michigan apple grower," or Eastern prune producer turn green with envy. Prunes set out in good land and well cultivated will begin bearing in at least five years, that is, so one can call the bearing a crop. To plant them will cost, say an acre of ground, $50; 155 trees (the average number set to an acre) $23.25; plowing the ground and painting the trees; $7.50; total cost (original) per acre to plant prunes, $80.75, including cost of the land. Cultivation for five years may be $50 or $100. One prune orchardist's eight acres will pay him $500 to $600 this, their fifth year.

Table Talk for November, another seasonably fitted number, full of Thanksgiving sentiment and pabulum. The book opens with the discovery of the "Nation on Her Knees"—a short poem by Joseph Whittier; then follows "Ancient Thanksgiving Lays," after which a Thanksgiving Dinner, wherein Mrs. Rorer shows two ways of overcoming that delicious difficulty; she also has a second paper chasing up another little difficulty: "How to Live on a Thousand a Year." Among other articles interesting and profitable to the housekeeper are "How Mrs. Ruskin Saved Fuel and Kept Warm," "Tillie May Forney's Fashionable Luncheon and Tea Toilets," "Ethel's New Home," "New Things for Table and Kitchen;" Housekeepers' Inquiries with their answers by Mrs. Rorer; also a full list of economical menus for the entire month. Other entertaining and instructive reading will be found in "The Orange—Its Sweet and Discardant Records," and "How to Prepare it," "The Fluff-rhys' Folly," "Fashionable Crazes," "Woman's Exchange Movement;" "Seasonable Grocery Hints," and a "Thanksgiving Probably," all of the solvers of which are promised a prize. How so much meatful matter can be crowded together for a dollar a year is a problem we presume the publishers alone can solve. Table Talk Publishing Co., 402, 403 & 406 Race St., Philadelphia.

It is what Albany is at present, and in order to keep pace with the lively times in this city, they have enlarged their store and stock so that they now have the most complete and desirable line of furniture in the valley. Their double salerooms in Froman's block are filled with an elegant assortment of new furniture, consisting of lounges in new patterns, fine gold picture frames, willow chairs, easy rockers, marble tables, brackets, etc., etc. An examination of the stock will show this to be true in every respect.
