THE SCHOOL BOOK FRAUD.

Under this caption the Salem Statesman says concerning the attempt to change the system of school books in Oregon, which question was ventilated in the HERALD recently: It is reliably reported that the school book monopoly has been successful—that they have succeeded in securing the votes of some twenty out of the twenty-nine county school superintendents in the state for a change of readers, substituting for those now in use another series published by the school book trust; and that for the Fish series of arithmetics they have corraled some fifteen, or a majority of the votes, throwing out the Brooks series now in use; and that they have succeeded in getting a majority of the votes for all the new text books adopted since the last vote was taken four years ago.

The reason the trust wanted a change in readers was to further intrench themselves in their monopoly in this state. They offer a free exchange of books, but so did other firms quite as reliable, and with as good or better books—and the free exchange will not benefit country districts, for the reason that there will be no place where they can go to get the exchange without traveling long distances.

The reason the monopoly wanted a change in arithmetics was that the Brooks series are furnished by a Philadelphia firm outside the school book trust.

This vote has not been taken upon the merits of the book at all. The people or the educators of the state have not been consulted; but the agents of the trust have.

In the case of an Eastern Oregon superintendent he had made up his mind that the Fish arithmetics were the best, and so informed a valley superintendent, as early as July 1st, before he had seen the books at all. In the case of a Southern Oregon superintendent he had so made up his mind just after his return from the national teachers' convention at San Francisco, and was very lavish with funds, though he had before been hard pushed to meet his bills. There are other instances of premature or sudden conversions to the advocacy of a new series of readers and of Fish's arithmetics—and the fact is, if the people will, through their representatives, take occasion to sift this thing to the bottom, it will turn out that this Fish is a large sized whale.

Now will this thing be tamely submitted to on the part of the people? Will they longer endure this stand-and-deliver monopoly? Will they not call upon the legislature to investigate the scandalous and corrupt business to the bottom?

Let them call in witnesses and make thorough and searching inquiries. Don't spare anybody because he happens to be apparently, like Cæsar's wife, "above suspicion." Hold up the whole thing to the public gaze, and then rout this school book trust from this state—oust the whole corrupt ring. Choose the manner, but oust them for keeps.

THE FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

It is now a generally conceded fact that the fifty-first congress will be republican by a clean majority of nearly a dozen. This is conceded by reliable democratic journals, and now the question is only as to the numerical strength of that majority. The New York Star puts the members at seven; the New York Post figures it at eleven, and other democratic papers make it about six to eight. The official vote is not likely to be completed for several days, so as to enable the exact figures to be assertained. The San Francisco Chronicle says that in that state the contest in the Fifth district, between Phelps and Clunie, has been reopened owing to the discovery of the transposition of some figures in one of the Assembly districts but the errors in the certificates made by the officers of election are so numerous, and in many instances so great, that really nothing can be determined until the close of the official canvass of the vote.

However, the change of one Congressman will not materially affect the composition of the next house, as its only effect will be to reduce the republican majority, not to give the control of the house to the democrats. The republicans will organize the house and elect the speaker, who will appoint the committees, and in this way the charge of that body will be committed to the republicans for the first time since the meeting of the Forty-seventh congress.

There will be an abundance of work for the Fifty-first congress, and it must pay more attention to the needs of the country and less to political schemes and measures than the Fiftieth congress has done. The coming congress has one great and useful piece of work to accomplish, useful in the highest sense, and that is the disintegration of the solid South, and the breaking down of the old theory of the north against the south or the south against the north. No national legislation, unless it be reconstruction, is comparable to this in magnitude and importance. The time is auspicious and the people of a large portion of the South are ready, provided they can be made to see that republican rule does not mean the unbridled domination of the colored race. They will accept in good faith overtures made to them in a similar spirit, and it will be the duty as well as the privilege of the incoming administration to demonstrate that the republican party is no sectional organization but that it will rule with equal and exact justice, and that the rights of the peopte are as dear to it in Alabama as in Minnesota, in Louisiana as in Vermont.

Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empires of every false school have their gulls. Euery change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in the third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, indorsed by the press of many lands sought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases chronic indigestion, and liver complaint and constipation.

If You Are Sick

With Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Blood Humors, Kidney Disease, Constipation, Female Troubles, Fever and Ague, Sleeplessness, Partial Paralysis, or Nervous Prostration, use Paine's Celery Compound and be cured. In each of these the cause is mental or physical overwork, anxiety, exposure or malaria, the effect of which is to weaken the nervous system, resulting in one of these diseases. Remove the CAUSE with that great Nerve Tonic, and the RESULT will disappear.

Paine's Celery Compound

JAS. L. BOWEN, Springfield, Mass., writes: "Paine's Celery Compound cannot be excelled as a Nerve Tonic. In my case a single bottle wrought a great change. My nervousness entirely disappeared, and with it the resulting affection of the stomach, heart and liver, and the whole tone of the system was wonderfully invigorated. I tell my friends, if sick as I have been, Paine's Celery Compound

ALBANY - - OREGON

HAVE YOU A COLD in the head which does not get better? Have you an excessive secretion of mucus or matter in the nasal passages which either must be blown from the nose or drop back behind the palate, or hawked or snuffed backward to the throat? Are you troubled by hawking, spitting, weak and inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, ringing or roaring in the ears, more or less impairment of the hearing, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness or dizziness of the head, dryness or heat of nose? Have you lost all sense of smell? Have you a hacking cough? Have you dyspepsia? Is your breath foul? IF SO YOU HAVE THE CATARRH. Some have all these symptoms, others only a part. The leading symptom of ordinary catarrh is increased secretion of mucus of yellow or greenish colored matter.

Foul breath is caused by the decomposing secretions exuded from festering ulcers far back in the head; sometimes the membrane covering the bones is eaten away and the bones themselves gradually decay. Such cases are indeed objects of pity, as stench from corroding sores reveals the corruption within.

As every breath drawn into the lungs must pass over and become polluted by the relictions in the nasal passages, it must necessarily follow that poisoning of the whole secretion gradually takes place, while the morbid matter that is swallowed during the sleep stem into the stomach, enfeebles digestion, and often produces dyspepsia, and finally great assity, nervousness and consumption.

DO NOT PROCRASTINATE.

If you have experienced any of the above symptoms do not delay, but try CALIFORNIA CAT-R-CURE at once. We positively guarantee a few applications to relieve and a thorough course to cure. Six months treatment for $1.00; sent by mail
