GOVERNMENT WORK AT YAQUINA

It Will Be Prosecuted Vigorously All Winter—The Proposed North Jetty.

The Yaquina Republican, a new paper started on the bay, says that the government work there is to be prosecuted all winter with renewed vigor.

About ten days ago the board of engineer-inspectors visited Yaquina bay and investigated the work being done on the jetty and also viewed the ground where it is proposed to construct the jetty on the north side.

The result of their visit is that work will be continued without stoppage this season. Capt. Willard Young, of the engineer corps, arrived from Portland Tuesday evening and will remain there several days perfecting the preliminaries for commencing work on the north jetty.

A crew of men will be put at work as soon as the arrangements are completed. A crew of men will be kept at work on the south jetty for five or six weeks filling in more rocks.

The greatest drawback to fast work seems to be the difficulty of getting a sufficient quantity of good rock, but it is thought that this will be overcome by opening a new quarry. That the work is to be continued without a lay off for several months will be welcome news to all who are interested in the improvement of Yaquina bay, and the decision of the officials in charge to push matters is sensible.

By early spring the work can be so far advanced that the north jetty can be pushed well out on the bar by next fall.

THE STATE TAX THREE MILLS.

The State Will Get $270,000, the Militia $18,000 and the University $9000.

Gov. Penoyer says that the state board, consisting of himself, Secretary of State McBride and State Treasurer Webb, will meet in Salem early this week to levy a state tax.

The assessment rolls of the different counties show the valuation of taxable property in the state to be about $90,000,000, as compared with $84,888,580 last year, an increase of over $5,000,000.

The total tax will be 3.3 mills, of which 3 mills will be for state purposes, two-tenths of a mill for the militia and one-tenth for the university of Oregon. Last year the state tax was 4.9 mills and the militia and university taxes the same as this year.

The three-mill state tax will give $270,000 for state purposes, the two-tenths mill tax $18,000 for the militia and the one-tenth mill tax $9,000 for the university.

South Bound Tramps.

Conductors and tramps on the O. & C. railroad are pestered by hordes of tramps, who are now zigging their way south like other birds of passage.

One of these fellows on being asked by a conductor where he was trying to get to, said: "I'm off to California for the winter. It is too wet in Oregon to make sleeping in a straw stack comfortable. I shall be back along this way in the spring if my health is good."

As the train started out he seized one of the long truss rods under a Pullman and swung himself in a "comfortable" position on a brake-beam, and pursued his journey. There are a few tramps coming north, but the majority are bound south, and long may they keep headed in that direction.

Albany, being the business center of the Willamette Valley, is just now infested with these fellows.

Catholic Church at Yaquina.

Last week Mr. John A. Olsson, of Newport, gave a bond for a deed to block 25, in favor of Rev. Wm. H. Gross, archbishop of the Catholic diocese of Oregon.

The conditions of the bond are as follows: The church society is to build a good and substantial church building not to cost less than $1500, to be completed within one year from date.

Also the society is to build within three years a school building and conduct therein a sisters' school. One hundred dollars was paid on the bond.

When the conditions of the bond have been fulfilled, Mr. Olsson is to make a warranty deed of the block. This will be a valuable addition to Yaquina bay.

For the Holidays.

Among the business houses of the city none has a more brilliant display of elegant holiday goods than Messrs. Foshat & Mason.

Their line of fine plush goods, toilet cases, albums, souvenirs, richly bound books and holiday novelties is larger than ever before, and the extremely low prices at which they are sold probably accounts for the great rush daily at their store.

Every available space is filled with beautiful holiday wares, in an almost endless variety.

Careless shooting.

A lady, while passing along the sidewalk in the outskirts of this city last evening, felt a bullet whistle by uncomfortably close to her head.

No one was in sight, and it was undoubtedly the stray bullet of some hunter. Too much careless shooting is indulged in about the city, and unless it is stopped a serious accident is likely to happen.

LYING ABOUT OREGON.

What a Chronic Growler from Kansas Has to Say of this Country.

The following letter was published in the Osborne County Kansas Farmer, and sent to F. A. Burkhardt, real estate dealer of this city:

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 21, 1888.

EDS. FARMER:—We are stopping on the Willamette river, and are not satisfied by any means; and to keep some others from making the same move that I did, will just say what I think of it, and that is that it is not what it is bragged up to be.

The climate is damp, cold and rainy, and everything has a snail or mold and a look of mud.

Eastern Oregon has about 99 acres of sage brush and sand rock to one acre that you can irrigate and cultivate. The western part is about the same, only it has heavy timber in the place of sage brush, and that you can't sell or give away, except it is located close by some big town, and then it costs five times as much to clear it as it is worth.

The soil is as streaked as a jail bird's pants; mostly of thin creek gumbo, and then some sandy loam and gravel. They raise cheat and oats hay for feed principally; no corn or clover to speak of.

The fruit and vegetables are so cheap you cannot get enough for them to pay you to haul them to market. Everything else is much higher than in Kansas; wages no better than there.

There are some places I could get $4 to $5 a day with my team, but would have to pay $8 a week for board, 2 and 3 cents per pound for hay and oats, 15 and 20 cents for sugar. So you see the big money to be made here.

In Idaho and Wyoming they raise nice truck by irrigation, but there is no place like Kansas for a horse; or for corn, hogs, cattle and horses. Farmers are not making money here; it is the towns that are booming this country.

G. W. LAYNE.

The writer of the above is evidently one of those eastern growers who expect to come out to Oregon and find a farm well stocked and already improved, to be had for the asking, or to be given away to encourage such emigrants as himself.

A more perverted mess of falsehoods could not well be furnished concerning this country.

There is no timothy hay or wheat growing wild in this country, but any one who has ordinary industry can raise on an average piece of land better crops than the above scribbler ever saw in Kansas.

No country has better climate than Oregon, and hundreds of energetic new comers are daily making good homes here and from rich farms, fruit orchards, mines and forests are making more money than the Kansas dyspeptic ever will possess.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Newly Notes from the Capital City—Notaries Appointed, Etc.

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.

SALLEM, Nov. 24.—Messrs. O'Connor & Barr, the contractors on the construction of the Salem street railway have secured temporary offices over the Capital National bank and are now in the city. They will be ready to begin active work Tuesday morning.

The following notaries public were to-day commissioned by Gov. Penoyer: Josiah Boston, Butteville; Chas. A. Schultz, Olex; J. W. Bennett, Marshfield; L. A. McNary, Portland; H. B. LeFlore, Heppner; W. H. Innes, Salem.

Ben McQuillan was brought up from Portland last evening for the penitentiary. He is a hard case, and only eighteen years of age; but was sentenced for twenty years.

Frank Hance and Henry Gilman were brought here and committed to the asylum to-day. They are from Malheur county.

Attacked by Foot Pads.

A young clerk while returning home last evening was accosted not over two blocks from an electric light by two foot pads, who asked him for some money.

On refusing to donate any funds on that kind of charity, the two men told him they would take what money he had or break his neck, at the same time taking hold of him. The clerk was armed with a heavy walking stick, and he pushed the men off and struck one of them a blow upon the arm.

Footsteps were then heard approaching and the two men fled.

Thanksgiving Ball.

Owing to the fact that suitable arrangements could not be made to secure F. C. Co's armory W. W. Crawford's dancing classes will be hereafter held at the opera house.

Crawford's orchestra, assisted by Salem musicians, will furnish music for the ball on Thanksgiving evening.

Thanksgiving Social.

The Albany W. C. T. U. will on the evening of Thanksgiving day, hold a social, to which the public generally are cordially invited.

It is expected that each member, and as many of the friends as wish, (the more the better) will bring a thank-offering in money, instead of victuals. These contributions are to be handed in at the door.

No stated amount has been asked for, each one gives as the heart prompts. A good programme—literary and musical is being arranged, and in due time will be published. After the rendering of the programme, the remaining part of the evening will be spent in games and social intercourse.

The money contributed is to be devoted to paying the indebtedness on the hall.

Wires Down.

The wires north of this city were down last evening, and consequently the HERALD is without its regular telegraphic report this morning.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh.

Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Foshay's Catarrh Cure. It will give you immediate relief.

The Great Sale. Large crowds daily through the store of Monteth & Seitenbach taking advantage of this opportunity of purchasing goods from a first-class stock at an average of 25 per cent. less than the usual price.

These goods must go, as the store will be vacated by the first of the year. If you want boots and shoes, underwear, dress goods, fancy goods or any staple dry goods, remember that on this entire stock an actual slaughter in prices is being made, goods being sold at less than cost.
