Office No. 59 First Street, ALBANY.

is an elegantly engrossed copy of the declaration of independence on vellum, bound in folio form, and attested on August 2, 1826, by the then only surviving signer, Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Md. In an address before the common council on the death of Jefferson and Adams, Rev. Dr. Stephen N. Rowan suggested that such attested copy be secured to be used by the common council of the city of New York on every Fourth of July thereafter. This document was accordingly prepared and presented to the city on July 4, 1828.

Besides the autograph attestation of the aged Carroll, which occupies one page of the folio, the work contains autograph signatures of the federal, state and city officials in 1826, with those of the order of the Cincinnati and several of the most prominent citizens of New York and Albany.

AFTER DEATH.

A Sermon Which Has Caused Considerable Comment.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 17.—Quite a sensation has been created here by a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. Jeffrey, for many years pastor of the First Baptist Church, explaining his belief in regard to the resurrection and eternal life and the much discussed question of whether the soul and spirit are separate entities of a man's inner life.

The apparent inference to be drawn from his argument is that there is no hell, but that a more-generate man dies as an animal dies, and the grave is annihilation for body and soul. Regenerate body which is feeding itself from the bosom of the Father, with no probationary period waiting for a general judgment day. Dr. Jeffrey's orthodox doctrine, which, without reservation, some future action may be taken in regard to the sermon. The congregation is of the old-fashioned orthodox school, and will permit no innovations.

AN OREGON PRINTER GIRL.

She Astonishes the San Francisco "Examiner" People.

Portland, Vindicator.

Until a few months ago, the foreman of the San Francisco Examiner peremptorily refused to permit a girl printer to work on that paper. Numerous applications were made but he remained inexorable in his refusal to employ any but male compositors. During the latter part of last summer Miss Hattie Ross of this city, a young lady printer well known among the disciples of Faust, both here and in Portland, went to the Bay City for the purpose of securing employment. She left a steady case on the Oregonian when she went below, and made a change for the purpose of enjoying life, for a season, in the metropolis of the Pacific coast, than for any other reason. It was not long after her arrival until a printer with whom she was well acquainted had occasion to lay off a day or two, and he engaged Miss Ross to take his place. During the interval the foreman reluctantly consented to the arrangement, and the Oregon girl took her place as a substitute at her friend's case. The tyrant of the composing room watched her with evident interest, as the type went click, click, click with almost lightning speed into her composing stick. He went away, and returned several times, still watching her intensely. Hattie paid no attention to anything except the work in which she was engaged, and the next day when the work of the forty printers in the office was measured, she had the top string by several thousand ems. There was no more opposition to the young lady from Webfoot setting type in the Examiner office, and she now has steady employment. She made over $17 in two night's work. The Vindicator is proud to state that Miss Hattie took her first lessons in the art preservative in this office.

THE DUTY ON SUGAR.

Congressman Felton Does Not Want It Reduced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Representative Felton has secured a promise from the senate finance committee to give the California delegation a hearing on the reduction of the sugar tariff in the senate bill. Mr. Felton proposes to present to the committee a statement of the condition of the beet sugar industry in California. He will endeavor to show that the development of that industry thus far proves conclusively that the making of beet sugar from beets will be a great success in California, and will be one of the great industries of that state.

He will maintain that the reduction of the tariff on sugar, as contemplated in the senate bill, will check and may destroy the infant industry of making sugar from beets. It is probable that the entire California delegation will appear before the committee and urge the same arguments and protest against a reduction of the duty on sugar.

ANOTHER CABLE LINE.

A Company Being Formed in Canada for this Purpose.

OTTAWA, ONT., Dec. 19.—It is understood that a company is being formed with a capital of about $2,000,000 to undertake the laying of a telegraph cable from Blanc Sabie, at the Straits of Belle Isle, to a point on the coast of Scotland or Ireland. The Dominion Government will probably agree to extend the present telegraph line on the north side of the Gulf of Mexico to Blanc Sabie, and hand the entire Gulf and coast telegraph system over to the new company, as a subsidy in aid of their enterprise. The Dominion Government, it is said, have received from a London company an offer to lay a cable from Halifax to Blanc Sabie for $100,000, and it is probable that the necessary grant of money to enable them to accept the offer will be asked for at the coming session of Parliament.

The Marriage was a Failure.

American girls who view with envy their sisters who make what appear to be brilliant matches abroad, may well reflect on the results that occasionally follow. A few years ago there was a young lady who was one of the belles of the Assembly—acknowledged beauty of the deep brunette type. She had many suitors, but was ambitious, and evidently desired a husband with both wealth and position. She undoubtedly could have married more than one desirable young man in society had she been content with a moderate income. But her own means were small and she desired to be like the wealthy women with whom she was thrown in contact. She went abroad and vague rumors were heard of her sudden marriage on the Continent. All that was known of him that he was spoken of as rich. Not long ago the lady returned to Philadelphia, and while she waits her married name she has asked her most intimate friends to never mention her husband, and is crushed, miserable and brokenhearted woman.—Philadelphia Times.

Crying Over Their Work.

None but literary people know how closely grows the attachment between the author and his characters. It is related of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe that when from the pages of the manuscript she read the death of little Eva, the entire family sat bathed in tears, nor could one of them speak a word, but all mournfully separated, going to their room as though they had just attended the funeral of a dear friend. Some friends met Thackeray on the street one day and his countenance bore traces of intense grief. "What is the matter?" they asked. "I have just killed Colonel Newcome," he sobbed bursting into tears as he hurried away. Charles Dickens had the same experience.

A Child Tortured to Death.

WESTMINSTER (Md.) Dec. 21.—Fanny Jones (colored) is under arrest, charged with killing a four-year-old child by inhuman treatment. The child had been left with her by its mother to be taken care of, and she tortured it to death. The body was covered with scars and burns. The woman is accused of having tortured other children.

A Total Fortune in It.

Smith—You say the speculation has proved a failure?
Jones—A total failure.
Smith—I thought you said there was a fortune in it.
Jones (with a groan)—So there is. Mine is in it.

Easy When You Know How.

You can always get a woman to keep a secret if you give her clove-form enough.

A man in Hickory township Pennsylvania, cannot vote because he has no legal name. He was found in a cabbage patch when a baby and grew up under the name of Cabbage. When he married he took the name of Smith, but as the law never confirmed it to him he has no legal existence and can't vote.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold; attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, and had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief and after using a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at Foshay & Mason.

A grand auction sale of goods will occur at M. J. Monteith's at S. E. Young's old store, on every afternoon during the week. Goods will go at what ever price they will bring.

Our customers never have the blues, because we give them such good bargains. W. F. Reed.
