WILL CARRY THE NEWS.

Hon. C. W. Fulton Will Bear the Important Document to Washington.

Speaking of the meeting of the presidential electors of this state, the Astorian says:

On the 14th of next month Hon. C. W. Fulton, William Kapus and Robert McLean will meet at the capitol building in Salem and cast the electoral vote of Oregon for Benjamin Harrison of Indiana, for president, and Levi P. Morton of New York for vice-president of the United States. Three documents attesting this vote will be prepared. One will be placed in the hands of Judge Deady, one will be sent by mail to the president of the United States senate, the third will be taken to Washington by Mr. Fulton. He will start to Washington on the night of the 14th, and on or before noon of the last Saturday of the month he will hand the vote to John J. Ingalls in the senate chamber in Washington, D. C.

A CORRECTION.

In a communication in Saturday's issue of the Herald reference was made to the U. S. District Attorneyship in which Hon. F. P. Mays was mentioned as prominent candidate for the position. An error was made in the name. The communication should have read as follows:

ALBANY, Dec. 28.

The Oregonian of December 23d says that F. P. Mays, of The Dalles would fill the bill for U. S. district attorney under the new administration. F. P. Mays is an Oregon born and raised boy. He is an attorney equal to any in the state, and a former partner of Hon. W. Lair Hill. He was one of the delegates to the Chicago National Convention, and a committeeman to notify General Harrison of his nomination at Indianapolis on July 4, 1888. The appointment would be one that the people of Oregon would be proud of.

REPUBLICAN.

A Political Description.

"Peter, the Poet," a "journalist" who found Eastern Oregon cowboy bullets indigestible, says an exchange, and who carries for a day with congenial spirits on the bay, writes from a new town near the California state line: "Keno had a dance on election night. Oh, it was joyous. Mellow kerosene beamed all over the festive hall and hung a golden splendor all over the back yard. Heavenly fiddle music, sweeping through democratic and republican souls, coaxed ladies and gentlemen of both parties into blissful partnership, and not a gentleman popped the tariff question. Only one small, thin gentleman, who had a large and heavy partner, said anything political. He talked about 'heavy duties,' and the boys promptly put him into a jute-bag and bore him afar."—News.

Catching Cougars.

The Astorian says: Willie Olmstead and Frank Hill, of Crooked Creek, trapped two cougars near their place last Sunday morning. These beasts are very troublesome and made a killing among the sheep whenever they get a chance. One of those killed was 7 1/2 feet in length and the other 7. No. 4 beaver traps were used, one cougar carrying the trap half a mile before he was overhauled and killed. The cougar is grayish yellow, stout and muscular, and will fight anything four-footed that walks. The skins, when properly dressed, are valuable.

Jackson County Sheep.

The Ashland Tidings says that County Sheep Inspector W. F. Souger finds there are 22,755 sheep in Jackson county which he has inspected this fall and winter. Of this number he found bands aggregating 12,000 head which were entirely free from scab, and of the remainder 10,675 the bands had more or less scab, only one band, however, being bad. When good weather returns Mr. Souger will insist upon a strict compliance with the law requiring treatment of diseased sheep, so far as his authority extends, and hopes thus to aid in entirely cleaning out the disease from the bands of sheep in that county.

Pleasant Social Party.

A pleasant social was given at the residence of R. M. Robertson Friday evening, about 20 of his Sunday school scholars and friends having assembled to celebrate Mr. Robertson's 57th birthday. It was a complete surprise to him, and a pleasant evening was spent. He was presented by his class with a valuable book, it being a Concordance to the Revised Version of the New Testament. An elegant lunch was served by Mrs. Robertson and daughters, and the guests departed, expressing wishes for many returns of Mr. R.'s birthday.

A Close Call.

C. Rogers, who lives near Mehama, met with a very close call a few days since. He and W. A. Woodsides were falling timber and a limb fell from a tree, striking Mr. Rogers on the side of the head, inflicting a deep wound and severing a small artery. They bandaged the wound up and went home but the blood continued flowing so profusely that he fainted from loss of blood. Restoratives being applied and the blood stopped by the application of flour and bandages his life was preserved until medical aid was secured. At last reports he was able to be about. His head was very sore, but otherwise he was feeling very comfortable and able to attend his usual business.—Capital Journal.

Will Watch the Old Year Out.

To-morrow will close the old year. A watch meeting and social will be held by the young ladies of the Y. W. C. T. U. at their hall. It promises to be a pleasant affair.

A Grand Auction Sale of Goods.

A grand auction sale of goods will occur at M. J. Monteith's at 8, E. Young's old store, on every afternoon during the week. Goods will go at what ever price they will bring.

MORE OF THE FAILURE.

Mr. Meyers says That Work Will Be Resumed.

To a Portland News reporter J. R. Meyers, the railroad contractor with Jacobs & Neuggass, lately said that when he entered into a co-partnership with Jacobs & Neuggass he thought they had plenty of funds. Everything progressed finely until early in the week, when the suspension came. The November money, amounting to $15,000, was attached and this caused the suspension. The creditors, owing to some sinister influence, rushed in and piled up attachments. "I was away in the woods," said Mr. Meyers, "with 400 men, hard at work, and knew nothing of the difficulties until the orders came to suspend. The statement made that I ran away is incorrect. I am here in Portland endeavoring to arrange matters with the creditors, so that work on our contract can be re-susmended. If this is done, we will make something out of our contract. We have a contract to build the twelve miles of the road from Brytonbush to the tunnel. We also have the contract to drive a 45-foot tunnel. Nine miles of the contract are finished, and if we can complete the work there will be some little profit in it for us. So you can see why we are anxious to resume operations. Instead of owing Thompson & DeHart $20,000 as has been reported, we only owe that firm about $8,000. So you can see how stories are sometimes magnified. I feel confident that we will be able to resume operations."

The North Jetty.

The government engineers were placed in formal possession of their lease hold of water front privileges, by Mayor Ray on Monday last and the preparatory work of the north jetty was commenced. The first pile was driven on Monday afternoon. An additional wharf of 170 feet is to be added to the one recently purchased by A. J. Ray, which will make a continuous dock of 220 feet. From this point the tramway will commence, which will extend around the beach to the neighborhood of Whale Rock, where the jetty proper will begin. Mr. Lottis, late of Oscaloosa, Iowa, is in charge of the work, and his large experience in such business makes him eminently qualified for the position. Capt. Babbage, late of the tug Gen. Wright, is in charge of the pile driving crew, and he knows how to handle the big hammer to perfection. That portion of town will be a scene of busy activity until the work is finally completed.—Newport News.

Coming.

Monday evening, Dec. 31st the renowned Lew Johnson's Black Baby Boy minstrels will perform at the Albany opera house. The company consists of twenty first-class performers, doing their work in the highest style of minstrel art. The entire company in uniform as a band will give a grand street parade headed by the distinguished drum majors Jim Curr and little "H." They are unanimously endorsed by the Eastern press, where they have played recently. General admission, 50 cents; reserved seats, 75 cents; children under 11 years 25c. Reserved seats now on sale at Blackman's drug store.

Of Interest to the City.

The coming session of the legislature will be an important one for the interests of this city. The city boundary is to be extended, provided the legislature will amend the charter, and several other changes are desired in the charter, amending it to grant more extensive rights to the city. Among them will be the right to restrain the festive bovine from running at large.

Officers Elected.

At the regular meeting of Oregon Encampment No. 5, I. O. O. F., Friday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: J. F. Hail, C. P., Willis Gillett, H. P.; F. S. Crosby, S. W.; E. J. Dillin, J. W.; C. G. Rawlings, scribe; E. A. Parker, treasurer; J. F. Backensto, E. A. Parker and G. W. Hochstetler were elected trustees.

Enlarging His Business.

Julius Gradwohl states that with the beginning of the new year he will add to his fine stock of glassware, crockery and fancy goods, a complete assortment of family groceries. He proposes to keep pace with the growth of Albany and will carry one of the largest stock of goods in his line in the state.

For a Stove Factory.

J. M. McAllister, of Salem, who with four other gentlemen, have formed a company in that city for the manufacture of stoves, propose to remove the stove factory to this city for a bonus of $5000. A stove factory would be a valuable addition to the interests of the city.

Noody Not Coming.

A letter was received by Prof. W. H. Lee last night from Noel H. Jacks, who has been arranging for Rev. Dwight L. Moody's engagements, stating that owing to a miscalculation Mr. Moody will not visit Albany as announced on Jan. 2d. This will be a source of regret to the citizens of the city. Arrangements had been made to entertain about 100 college students on the occasion of the conference on that date, but this meeting will of necessity be postponed also.

The immense sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been produced to a great extent by people who have been cured by it telling their friends and neighbors of its good qualities and urging them to try it. The most severe cold will yield to its soothing effects. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

The dry cold weather of the early winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without a warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and that symptoms is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided; it has never failed, even in the most severe cases. There is no danger in giving this Remedy, for it contains no injurious substance. For sale by Foshay & Mason.
