A GREAT EVENT.

The Centennial of Washington's Inauguration.

A NOTABLE GRAND CELEBRATION.

To Be Held in New York, on April 30th next—The Details Arrangements.

New York, December 29.—This the era of centennial celebrations, but it is no longer fashionable to speak eagerly of them. In these days, when anarchy and socialism have become so prominent, it is well to let the thousands of strangers, that are pouring into this country every month, know that we have a glorious past, and that our prosperity as a nation to-day is the result of the foundations laid a hundred years ago.

Thirteen years ago, April took place the centennial of the battle of Lexington, then came the Bunker Hill celebration, of June 17 1875 and the great centennial celebration of the Declaration of Independence, in Philadelphia in 1876. Since then have taken the Yorktown celebration, the Evacuation Day celebration of the formation of the Constitution of the United States, and other smaller centennial celebrations.

The last of our centennials will be the hundredth anniversary of the Inauguration of George Washington as President of the United States. The formation of the Constitution was the outgrowth of the Declaration of Independence; but the caping to the foundations that were laid in 1776 occurred thirteen years later, when the first President of the United States was inaugurated. The historic ceremony was the final setting in motion the wheels of government. The United States of America then became a reality in every sense of the word.

It seems fitting, therefore, that an event so august as the inauguration of Washington should be grandly celebrated, and everything possible is being done in New York to make this last of the Centennial celebrations the most brilliant. An outline of what it is proposed to do in this city is as follows: On Monday morning, the 29th of April, the President of the United States and his Cabinet, and the Supreme Court of the United States, and officials of distinction, who have been specially invited, will leave Washington, and proceed via Philadelphia and Trenton to Elizabethport, in New Jersey, taking the same route that Washington took in going from Mount Vernon to New York, in April of 1789 to be inaugurated. At Elizabethport, the Presidential party will take a Government dispatch boat and steam up New York Bay to the foot of Wall street, passing en route, foreign vessels and vessels from our own navy and boats of every description that will be ranged in line by the Navy Committee. These vessels will salute the Presidential party as the vessels in the harbor, in 1789 saluted Washington as he was rowed by thirteen pilots in an elegant barge up to the foot of Wall street. The Navy Committee consists in part of Major Asa Bird Gardiner, chairman, and Loyall Farragut (son of the Admiral), secretary.

On the arrival of the party at the foot of Wall street, President Harrison will be met by the Mayor and the Committee and escorted to his headquarters. The evening there will be a ball in the Metropolitan Opera House, in this city, and it is proposed to make it the grandest ball that has ever been held in the city of New York. The Chairman of the Committee, who will have charge of the ball, is Stuyvesant Fish, the son of ex-Secretary of State Hamilton Fish, the President of the Central Committee.

Ward McAllister has been for some months giving a great deal of thought to the work of the entertainment. Mr. Fish and Mr. McAllister are ably assisted by Vice President Levi F. Morton, Wm. Waldorf Astor, Wm. K. Vanderbilt, Robert Goulden, Wm. Jay, W. E. D. Stokes and representatives of the Beckman, Winthrop, Morris and other well-known families. On Tuesday morning April 30th it is proposed to hold brief religious services in St. Paul's Church, where Washington, Vice President Adams, and the two houses of Congress attended services on the day of the Inauguration. As Doctor Prévost, the Bishop of New York, conducted the service a hundred years ago, so Bishop Potter of New York will conduct the service on April 30th next. He will be assisted by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, the Rector of Trinity and St. Paul's Churches and a member of the Committee. President Harrison and other invited guests will be in attendance at the special service in St. Paul's Church. The minister of the city have been asked to hold special services in their respective churches, in the morning at nine o'clock, on April 30th, and nearly every one, who has been written to on the subject, has replied favoring the idea. It was at 9 o'clock on the morning of the Inauguration, in 1789, that the doors of all the churches in this city were thrown open for a brief service of prayer, and it is proposed, not only to have brief services of thanksgiving in the churches of New York, but also throughout the State and Union.

The formal literary exercises will take place on the steps of the Sub Treasury, corner Nassau and Wall Streets, at half past 10 o'clock. Rev. Richard S. Storrs, D. D., L. L. D., of Brooklyn, will offer prayer. A poem is expected from the versatile Quaker poet, John Greenleaf Whittier. Chauncey M. Depew will deliver the oration. The President of the United States will speak, and Archbishop Corrigan will pronounce the benediction. At precisely 12 o'clock a salute of 21 guns will be given to the American flag from ships of war of every nationality in New York Harbor, and from the batteries of Castle William, and Fort Hamilton; then the grand military parade will pass the reviewing stand, at the corner of Wall and Nassau Streets, where stood a hundred years ago, old Federal Hall, the scene of the Inauguration ceremony. It is proposed to make the parade more brilliant than any parade ever held in this city. It has been suggested that the entire National Guard in this state turn out, and such an event has not occurred in this city since the close of the war. The chairman of Military and Industrial parade is Col. S. Van Rensselaer Cuyler, whose family has been prominent in this city for two hundred years. The Committee are anxious to have every State and Territory in the Union formally represented in the parade, and the Governors of every state and territory have been invited to appoint Commissioners to attend the representation of their respective states and territories. Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio and Washington Territory have already appointed Commissioners. The other states and territories are yet to be heard from. In the evening of April 30th, there will be a banquet at the Metropolitan Opera House.

During the month of April there will be an exhibition of historical portraits in the Metropolitan Opera House, and also a memorial exhibition of Washington relics. The portraits will be limited to portraits of Washington and his cabinet, and to members of the first congress under the constitution; and it is expected that the chair that stood in Federal Hall, which Washington occupied as first president, the bible used at the inauguration, and other authenticated relics will be exhibited. Among the portraits promised, is one of George Washington, painted by Gilbert Stuart, at Mount Vernon, in 1797, and given by Washington to Alexander Hamilton. This portrait has never been photographed or engraved, and is a beautiful picture. It is now owned by Hamilton's grandson, Alexander Hamilton of New York. The art committee, which consists, among others, of Henry G. Marquand, Daniel Huntington, F. Hopkinson Smith, Wm. E. Dodge, Charles Henry Hart, Lisenard Stewart, and Richard Watson Gilder, is doing everything in its power to secure the Art and Memorial exhibition one of the most interesting and prominent features of the celebration.

At the last session of the legislature of this state a law was passed making April 30th a legal holiday, and everything is being done by the committee, whose headquarters are in the Stewart building, this city, to make the celebration in every way worthy of the historic event of 1789. The president of the committee, as has been before said, is the venerable Hamilton Fish, whose father a Revolutionary patriot and a friend of Washington. The chairman is Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, and the chairman of the executive committee is Elbridge T. Gerry, the grandson of Elbridge Gerry, a member of the first congress under the constitution, a governor of the state of Massachusetts, and vice-president of the United States. Other members of the committee include such well-known names as John Jay, Philip Schuyler, Robert Stuyvesant, James M. Varnum, J. Tallmadge, Van Rensselaer, Wm. G. Hamilton, John A. King, Samuel D. Babcock, Theodore Roosevelt, Seth Low, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Egeron L. Winthrop, and J. Pierrepont Morgan.

The Columbia Boat Railway—A Boy Hanged for the Murder of His Father—Eastern News.

The pending question was Vest's amendment to paragraph 333, to change the duty on cotton thread, yarn, wraps, etc., valued at not exceeding 25 cents per pound from 10 cents per pound to 35 per cent. ad valorem. After a speech of some length from Vance the amendment was rejected by the usual party vote: Yeas 20, nays 24.

A petition was presented to-day by Senator Stanford from the chamber of commerce of San Francisco calling the attention of congress to the urgent need of permanent relief stations in the Arctic ocean. The petition says the whaling fleets going in and out of San Francisco are steadily increasing, and many hundred lives and millions of dollars worth of property are exposed to the usual danger in the pursuit of whaling in the Arctic. The relief stations should be supplied with provisions, fuel, stoves, heavy clothing and life saving appliances. The petition says it will be a great boon to Arctic whalers.

They Will Fight for $20,000 and the Championship. New York, Jan. 3.—The following was received by Richard K. Fox this morning from St. Louis: "Kilrain will sign articles for a fight with John L. Sullivan for $20,000 and the championship of the world at either Ontario, Ottawa or Montreal. Both Mitchell and Kilrain emphatically deny that they have had any misunderstanding with Fox."

May's Landing (N. J.), Jan. 3.—Robert Elderly, was hanged today at noon for the murder of his father. Death was almost instantaneous. The pulses were extinguished in seven minutes from the time the drop dropped. The killing resulted from ill treatment of his mother and brother by his father. The murdered man was 60 years old. The killing was witnessed by his grandfather, aged 90.

When the blood is impure, thick and sluggish or thin and impoverished, there can be no health. With these conditions, all the functions of the body are impaired, and the result is a variety of dangerous complications. The best remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Whoooping cough, croup, sore throat, sudden colds, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take, certain in its action, and adapted to all constitutions.
